And there are some who have no memorial,
Who have perished as though they had not lived.
But these were people of mercy,
Whose righteous deeds have not been forgotten;
Their prosperity will remain with their descendants,
And their inheritance to their children's children
Their posterity will continue forever.
And their glory will not be blotted out.
Their bodies were buried in peace.
And their names live to all generations.

PREFACE

Since the printing of the first volume of A GENEALOGY OF THE MEISSER FAMILY a number of new family groups have been discovered, also many changes have taken place in the families recorded in the 1966 edition. The need became evident for a new revised edition.

The desire for family history and genealogy has now become quite prevalent around the world and there seems to be an increasing interest in ones ancestral family background. A family genealogy can make the distant cousin a brother and develop the moral character of the individual into the making of a better world.

The writers of this volume submit their work to the widely scattered members of this family that they may have a better understanding of their common ancestor, and that they may know how the many people that bear the name are related to each other. Many parents have kept records of their own family in the pages of their family Bible, that it might be preserved for future generations. If there is no permanent record made, such knowledge will soon disappear from the family.

It is this desire to keep alive our ancestral heritage that has moved the writers of this volume persistently forward in their search for the authentic data collected and printed herein. We do not claim for it entire accuracy for it has not always been possible to confirm or disprove much information which has been given by members in a family lineage. We also acknowledge the factor of human error in the setting of type and in the proof reading of galleys. It is perhaps easier for errors to occur in genealogy than in any other type of manuscript work. For this reason we have been extremely cautious and offer our sincere apology for errors and inaccuracies printed herein.

It is hoped that research will continue so that family lines may be developed more completely. Our aim has been to preserve the information secured and to furnish a background to those who may desire further research.

If, in any way, this work will help to bring the members of our family into a better acquaintance with each other, and if it will aid in keeping before them the life and faith of our common ancestor, the writers of this volume will be rewarded for their years of labor.

PART ONE — HISTORICAL BACKGROUND

OUR HERITAGE FROM THE OLD WORLD

By
J. W. W. Loose

The part of Germany from which thousands of settlers (including the Meisser Family) came to colonial America was known as the Palatinate, and its people were called Palatines. In the many struggles of Germany the Palatinate has been both expanded and reduced, and its original boundaries have been altered beyond recognition. A brief historical and geographical description of the Rhineland should make the Palatinate less confusing.

Germany as a nation or empire did not exist until the middle of the nineteenth century. Prior to that time Germany was a collection of lands and peoples gathered into many small kingdoms, principalities and cities. During much of Germany's history, its western and southern areas were an important element of the Holy Roman Empire.

The terms "High" or "Upper" and "Low" were used frequently to describe Germany geographically and culturally. These terms apply to elevation: mountainous southern Germany is High and the plains and marshlands of northern Germany are Low. The dialects spoken in southern Germany are High German, and those used in northern Germany are Low German. The Upper Rhine flows through a valley between France, Switzerland, and Baden-Wurtemberg; and between Hesse and the Rhenish Palatinate. After the river enters the Ruhr area of Westphalia, it is the Lower Rhine. At one time Upper Palatinate was the easternmost portion of the Palatinate. Today it is a province of Bavaria, adjacent to Bohemia. On old maps one may see the Bavarian Palatinate, but this is a fragment located at the southern tip of the Rhenish Palatinate which was under Bavarian control for many years.

The Palatinate of our ancestors was a major province of the Holy Roman Empire. Within its borders is Trier, which is the oldest city in Germany. It is supposedly thirteen hundred years older than Rome. Trier was the northern capital of the Empire when Roman emperors resided there. Government of the Palatinate was in the hands of the palsgrave (pfalzgraf) or "Count Palatine" who held the fief with its powers at the pleasure of the emperor. The term, Palatine, is derived from the Latin word, palatium, or palace, the residence of the emperor. The Rhenish palsgrave was an elector, one of seven or eight persons who comprised an electoral college to elect the emperor. Although the German custom was to elect kings and the Roman emperor, the noblemen held their rights by heredity. As a result the Palatinate and other principalities frequently were locked in struggles between families and heirs, with marriages and deaths bringing devastation to the land.

Around the beginning of the Christian era a number of Germanic tribes occupied the Rhineland and the lands eastward. The Franks lived along the lower Rhine. Along the Main River in Franconia lived the Alemanni. In the third century the Franks and the Alemanni had broken through the Roman defenses and occupied lands west of the Rhine and south of the Danube respectively. Later the Franks conquered much of southwestern Germany, and gave the name Rhenish Franconia to the area between the Spessart and the Rhine where Frankfurt-am-Main and Darmstadt are located. Ethnically the people of the Swiss Cantons of Bern and Zurich are similar to those of the Upper Rhine Valley. By the fifth century the Germanic peoples of the Rhine valley had adopted Christianity and many of the ways of Roman culture. This was the first, and for several centuries, the only part of Germany to undergo civilization. A great amount of intermarriage among the tribes took place with the result that most of our ancestors from the Palatinate and Upper Rhine regions are Frankish fundamentally, with strong Alemannic and Swabian genetic influence.

Unlike the Teutons and Slavs of eastern Germany, the Rhenish settlers were darker in complexion although sandy, red-haired people were present. The inhabitants of the Rhine valley were reputed to be more domesticated and far less warlike than their Teutonic cousins. The Alemanni, in particular, were thought to be talented in the art of stable government. The Franks, who already had begun to bind the social, political and intellectual tradition of western Europe, to the culture of Christian Rome, were skilled in agricultural and handicraft pursuits. To this day the Swabian descendants are noted for their rural simplicity and good nature.

In language the peoples of the Upper Rhine created their own dialects between the sixth and ninth centuries by the High German sound shift. After this a sharp distinction arose between the High and Low dialects, differences which exist today in Germany, and which form the base of the Pennsylvania Dutch (Deutsch) dialect spoken by descendants of the Palatines in southeastern and central Pennsylvania.

This gives some idea of the European background of the family.

THE MEISSERS SEEK NEW HOMES IN AMERICA

By Gladys M. McDonald

The Family of MEISSER is known to have come to this country from Germany. Dr. Fritz Braun, an eminent German authority and researcher on European background of Pennsylvania Germans, believes that the name MEISSER comes from the Palz region, cities of Neuenkirchen and Ottweiler, and may be known as "Saarfolk" (Saargemund).

There is evidence of MEISCHERS living in Switzerland in 1538 as mentioned on page 48 of Swiss and German Pioneer Settlers of Southeast Pennsylvania by Eshelman. There were formal "debates" on religion at this time, and during one of these debates MATTHIAS WEISER from Schloffhausen and JOSEPH MEISCHER of Aarburg were listed as being present. The minutes of this debate and the lists of names are in the Archives at Berne. Between 1527 and 1671 thousands of Germans went to Switzerland for numerous reasons, one of these being religious persecution.

The year 1709 is known as the beginning of the Great Exodus from the Palatinate to England. There were several reasons. One cause probably was religious persecution, though historians do not all agree. This section of Germany had been devastated by wars and occupying armies for many years. In May 1707, during the War of Succession, Marshall Villars crossed the River Rhine, plundered and terrorized southwest Germany, and in September, the French retired to that vicinity, adding to the devastation. As if that was not enough, in the winter of 1708 the "cold was so intense that wine and spirits froze in solid blocks, birds on the wing fell dead, and all Western Europe was frozen tight." Even the sea froze solid enough along the coast to hold heavily-laden carts. Vines and fruit trees were killed, which explained why "husbandmen and vinedressers" made up more than half of the emigrants of 1709. The people were also heavily taxed to pay for the lavish living of the ruling class.

It is very likely that after these hardships, the Palatines were in the right frame of mind to listen to the rosy promises put forth by agents for the Colonies in America and to promises of a haven by England. Pamphlets, extolling the climate and life in the New World, especially Carolina and Pennsylvania, were widely distributed throughout the Rhine Valley. William Penn made several visits to the Rhine country, as early as 1677, and continued for twenty years, attempting to persuade these hard-working, religious people to settle in Pennsylvania. The Carolina agents offered to pay for passage from Germany in return for several years servitude. Joshua Kocherthal, a Lutheran minister, favored the Carolina plan and wrote a book in which he implied that Queen Anne of England would give assistance to anyone wishing to go there.

Kocherthal gathered forty-one people together for the first venture. They encountered no difficulty on their way down the Rhine but were aided at every stop. There was a little confusion over passes to leave the country, but the people were finally given clearance and free passage to Harwich, England. Kocherthal asked to be sent to the "West Indies." The Board of Trade debated whether to send them to Jamaica or Antigua, but finally decided on New York. England was at war, and Sweden had a monopoly on "Naval Stores"—principally tar and pitch. Someone suggested that the emigrants could be sent to New York for the purpose of making tar and pitch, putting them under contract to pay for their passage and subsistence. This Kocherthal agreed to. The group was joined by fourteen more, making fifty-five in the party. They set sail in October, 1708 in the Globe, with Governor Lovelace of New York. After a voyage of nine weeks, they spent the winter in New Amsterdam (New York), and in the spring they were settled on the Hudson at the mouth of Quassaic Creek. No "Naval Stores" were ever made there. They were provided with subsistence by Governor Lovelace, but he died in a short time, and they were left destitute. Kocherthal returned to England to plead with the Queen for more assistance.

In the meantime, the apparent success of the first party encouraged other Palatines to follow. They did not meet with the same treatment, however. The Palatines sold their property to raise money for the trip and started down the Rhine to Amsterdam or Rotterdam. There were twenty-six customs houses on the way. They were stopped at each one, where the ships were examined at the convenience of the officials. This meant delay. Along with the fees collected at each stop, this ate into their resources. The trip often took as long as six weeks, with the voyage to England still in prospect.

The English Resident at the Hague made arrangements as best he could for the "poor Palatines," sending them to England by any ships he could get. And still others came. They were estimated at fourteen thousand families and about thirty-three thousand persons. There were attempts to keep lists of those sailing. (Although they were not complete, they are invaluable records.)

After their arrival in England, the Palatines found neither money nor ships to take them to America. They were quartered in any place available—barracks, warehouses and tents, until the English people became alarmed. Living in unsanitary, crowded conditions, they were subject to disease and pestilence, and many died. Others continued to come. There were attempts to employ them in various trades, with little success. They were distributed throughout England, but were not generally accepted. Most returned to London. Some were sent to Jamaica. A number were sent to Ireland. A few returned, but many remained and their descendants are to be found in Limerick County today. A party was sent to North Carolina. However, the land promised them was claimed by someone else, and they suffered severe hardship at the hands of the feudal landowners and Indians. They were finally given land and assistance, and they found peace. A group of miners was sent to Virginia and was well received. The miners founded the town of Germanna on the Rapidan and built and operated iron works near Fredericksburg.

Walter Allen Knittle relates that "Mr. Henry Bendysh, who acted as secretary of the Commissions for Collecting and Settling the Palatines," on December 17, 1709, informed Lord Godolphin, Lord High Treasurer, that he had made arrangements with commanders and owners of ships to carry about three thousand Palatines to New York—"at five pounds, ten shillings per head." Since the cost of transportation to Carolina was ten pounds, and seven was paid to Pennsylvania, this was a very low rate. This meant, of course, that the food was of the poorest quality. In addition, since the people making the arrangements expected to make something on the deal, as many people as possible were crowded into the ships. This no doubt accounted for much of the misery of the passengers. Although they embarked in December, records show they did not actually sail until April 10, 1710. They were on board the ship for six months.

Upon arrival in New York, between June 13 and August 2, 1710, they were forced to camp on Nutten's Island, later Governor's Island, where they were housed in tents while they recovered from their illness and the effects of the voyage. Out of about twenty-five hundred immigrants, Hunter reported on July 24 that about 470 had died. Many were apprenticed, not only orphans but also other persons.

A man named Bridger, supposed to be an expert, was sent from England to determine the best locality for the making of pitch. Since there was an abundance of pitch pine along the east and west sides of the Hudson River about ninety-two miles from New York, the Palatines were moved there in early October 1710. Ground was cleared and huts were built. By June, 1711, Hunterstown, Queensbury, Annsbury, and Haysbury were on the east side, and Elisabeth Town, Georgetown and New Town were on the west side. Altogether there were 1874 people. About 350 remained in New York, most of them widows with families.

The Palatines were organized under a military system. There were "listmasters" appointed, one for each village. They aided the tar instructor in handling the labor. In May of 1711, three hundred or four hundred Palatines formed a secret association and decided they would not remain in the labor camps. Governor Hunter tried to reason with them, but they demanded they be given "the land the Queen had promised them, in the Schoharie Valley." Some said they would rather die than stay where they were, that the contract was unfair and too severe, and that they had been misled. They threatened to take their complaints directly to the Queen. Hunter brought troops in and disarmed the Germans, after which they realized they would have to submit. This incident made Hunter more severe. He revoked the Palatine military commissions and placed them under strict military guard. Since the Germans were dependent on Hunter for their food, which was in the most part supplied from New York, they were at his mercy.

The winter was extremely hard. There was no employment and no food. The expert on pitch-making became disgruntled and left just as production was about to start. Governor Hunter was not sent the money to carry out the project for making "Naval Stores" and spent much of his own money to keep the Germans from starvation.

The land was not suitable for cultivation, so they could not raise food. In 1712 the project was abandoned, and Governor Hunter told the Palatines they would have to shift for themselves but did not release them from their contract, and they were to keep him informed of their whereabouts.

In spite of warnings, many families left and went to the Schoharie Valley, where they had.

been told that the Indians had given them land. Some historians have contested the legend of the gift of the "Skohere" by the "five Sachems." Mr. Knittle cites the interesting legend which states "five Mohawk Indians taken by Peter Schuyler to London, were so grieved at the plight of the Palatines then encamped on Blackheath that they gave the Schoharie Valley to the Queen." Although she was to give it to the emigrants, the Palatines were not in London at the time the Mohawks were. They had left before the Indians sailed from Boston. Knittle also says that four of the five Indians were not Sachems, and therefore had no authority to give the lands away. The lands in question "were subsequently ceded at Albany to the Province with no reference to the Palatines." It seems the Indians had already given these lands away, but had nothing to lose in giving them away again. At any rate, the Palatines settled there, although they could not establish title. This was in defiance of orders from Hunter, who was getting hostile toward them. In March, 1713, more families joined them. The first year was hard, but they did receive help from friends in New York, Albany and Schenectady.

By borrowing equipment, they were able to cultivate the land and raise some food. Conrad Weiser related in his journal how one person borrowed a horse, another a cow, someone else borrowed a harness and a plow. By hitching the horse and cow together they plowed enough land so that in 1714 they had almost enough corn for their needs. The Indians showed them where wild potatoes and strawberries grew abundantly, and these helped to eke out their existence.

In the Old Fort Museum at Schoharie are many relics of pioneer life of this period. There are shovels hollowed out of a log, branches of a tree for hay forks, a heavy knot of wood for a maul, a mortar for grinding corn made from a hollowed out log and other ingenious tools.

John Conrad Weiser seems to have been an "eminent as well as most fiery" leader, and no doubt it was he who urged them on when things looked dark. He went to their aid when he felt they were being unfairly treated. In 1718 he tried to get help but failed, when balked by Governor Hunter. He finally returned in 1723. Hunter's successor, Governor Burnet, was ordered to settle the Palatines further north, in order to extend the frontier.

About this time, Governor Keith invited the Germans to Pennsylvania. A party of them had gone there in 1717. Conrad Weiser led a party from Schoharie to the Susquehanna, down to the mouth of the Swatara Creek, to the Tulpehocken settlement ca. 1717. Later others followed. Weiser records in his journal that the people received news from the land at Swatara and Tulpehocken in Pennsylvania. Many of them came together. They cut a way from Schoharie to the Susquehanna, brought their goods there, and canoes and journeyed down to the mouth of the Swatara Creek. They drove their cattle overland in the spring in 1723. Thence they came to the Tulpehocken settlement. Later, others followed and settled there, at first without permission of the owner of the land or company, or from the Indians from whom the people had not yet bought land.

It was some time before a clear title to the land which the Palatines settled on was established because there was some question if it had ever been legally acquired from the Indians. Also it seems the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania had no right to dispose of the lands, since the heirs of William Penn laid claim to them.

In the meantime, the Germans settled down, cultivated and improved the land, and enhanced its value; also, they were being joined by thousands of immigrants from Germany, as recounted in Pennsylvania German Pioneers by Eshelman. Between 1727 and 1775 there were estimated to be approximately sixty-five thousand people who landed in Philadelphia. They too suffered extreme hardship on the voyage, and many were indentured for years to pay for their passage.

It was several years before the land controversy was resolved. The Germans felt that they were legally entitled to the lands on which they settled, having been invited there by the Governor of the Commonwealth. The heirs of William Penn, however, through the agent James Logan, proved their claim. It was finally decided to compromise with the Germans and get what they could. By this time the Germans had become so well established it would have been virtually impossible to evict them. The value of the land had been enhanced as a result of the industry and hard work of the settlers, and the Commonwealth and the Penns needed the money the Germans were willing to pay. It was at this time that Michael Meiser received the deed from the Indian chief, Allummapie.

The early Meisser descendants became prominent citizens of localities in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Tennessee. Later generations scattered to every state in the Union, to Canada and other countries.

A more detailed account of the Palatines can be found in Knittle's EARLY PALATINE EMIGRATION, reprinted by the Genealogy Publishing Company, Baltimore, Maryland, 1965.

INTRODUCTION TO A GENEALOGY OF THE MEISSER FAMILY

By Al Boffo

Johan Jurg Meisser, First Immigrant

JOHAN JURG MEISSER is listed in the sixth embarkation list of German Palatines who sailed from Holland for New York via England, on July 28, 1709, "with vvwro & 4 kinder," as referred to by Walter Allen Knittle on page 272 of Early 18th Century Palatine Emigration. (1)

Much has been written of the hardships of the journey to the NEW LANDS, after they had scraped up every bit of property and belongings and converted them into cash to eke out enough for the bare fare for the long journey. First the trip down the Rhein in river boats; the delays at each customs check point—twenty-six in all—each delay eating into their money reserve for the necessary food. Then the long wearisome, and hazardous sea voyage, with still more delays, eating more and more into their money reserve. Passengers were crowded and herded like cattle, making for unsanitary conditions; and lack of sun and fresh air contributed greatly to a "fever" that developed. Many died at sea and many more on or soon after arrival; many whole families, with many families reduced to one member. Many were buried at sea with no records having been kept. Neither are there records of those dying upon or immediately after arrival. Those who finally survived were a very poor, weak, discouraged people. Many had to mortgage themselves for various services for many years to repay for their "Subsistence" during the voyage. (2)

Johan Jurg Meisser is again recorded on page twenty-eight of Knittle's Early 18th Century Palatine Emigration, under the New York Subsistence List for 1710-1711 as, "MAUSER, Johann Georg, 2-2; 2-1." indicating first, those over ten and those under ten in 1710, and second, those over ten and under ten in 1712.

CHILDREN:

2/2 Johann Michael Meiser, born ca. 1703 in Germany, married Anna Elizabeth Sixt ca. 1723/24, had ten children.

JOHANN MICHAEL MEISER 2/2 (Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1), was born in Germany, probably in the region of the lower Palatine, ca. 1703 (4,5), and he is found to be first recorded in the Kocherthal Records (3). In this record, he and Anna Elizabeth Sixt (thought to be Zecht) were sponsors to the baptism of Anna Elizabeth, born April 19, 1717, daughter of Joseph and Anna Elizabeth Savoy, on June 6, 1717.

Conclusion that Johann Michael Meiser was the son of Johan Jurg Meisser is prompted by the fact that Johann Michal Meiser came from the area (Schoharie) where Johan Jurg Meisser settled (1). Further concluded by the fact that Johann Michael Meiser named his eldest son John George Meiser, undoubtedly after his father Johan Jurg Meisser.

Egle (5) states that Michael died at the age of forty-two years. His will (4) and Egle's statement fixes Michael's birth ca. 1703 and his death at ca. 1745 (5,6). He is buried on the farm upon which he settled.

Johann Michael's migration from the Schoharie Valley of New York, to Pennsylvania, with several other families of the Schoharie is well authenticated (2,5,6); coming down to the Susquehanna Valley to present day Hummelstown, and finding the Indians there too hostile, went eastward to present day Millbach, Pennsylvania, probably as early as 1723, as he is found living there in 1724 having taken land (5); and became the recipient of a deed for land from the Indian Chief Allummapie under date of August 11, 1731 (7); he was taxed in 1726-1727 in the Tulpehocken area (2).

That he was married to Anna Elizabeth Sixt (thought to be Zecht) is evidenced by the Kocherthal Records (3), and by Guardian Appointments of 1749, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania (8). In this latter record she, along with her eldest son, John George Meiser, were appointed guardians of several of her minor children in the course of settling of the estate of her husband, Johann Michael Meiser, the record of which is found in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. Record of Deeds Book M; Pages 26/27/28, under date of November 23, 1747, and December 30, 1762 (9); Marriage date fixed at ca. 1723/1724 as eldest son, John George Meiser, was of legal age in 1745/1749, and this son was not required to have a guardian appointed for him in the course of the settling of the estate of his father, Johann Michael Meiser (8,9).

An immense determination, will, fortitude, and daring has to be attributed to this Johann Michael Meiser when along with several original families of the Schoharie Valley of New York (2) he braved the wilderness, the elements, and the hostile Indians, on his trip down the Susquehanna, and then eastward to Millbach, Pennsylvania, and where even here his family was often threatened by the Indians for several years as evidenced by "Fort Zeller" which in reality was the home of Hans Zeller, one of the original families that came down from New York at the same time as Michael (5). It became the "fort" against Indian raids because it was the strongest house in the area, and all the settlers of the immediate vicinity would seek refuge there during Indian attacks. This is adjacent to the original lands of Johann Michael Meiser. This "fort" still stands and an historical stone monument and bronze plaque has been erected on the site. The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission says that the monument was erected by the Zeller family.

A reproduction of the original Indian Deed given to Michael Meiser by the Indian Chief Allummapie is found on page eight.

This deed was signed by Allummapie or Sassoonan by his mark, and was witnessed by Shekallem (father of the famous Chief Logan) by mark; Peesqueeloman by mark; and further witnessed by the signature of Thomas Hartt and Archibald Finley. It is found recorded among the Logan papers, XI; 16; at the Pennsylvania Historical Society, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

These New York Palatines, in settling on these lands of the Tulpehocken Valley, which is in the area of present day Reading, Lancaster and Lebanon, Pennsylvania, actually became illegal squatters, as these lands were actually lands disposable by the then Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, but on lands actually claimed by the heirs of William Penn. It developed too that there was some question as to whether these lands had ever been legally acquired from the Indians by anyone.

It was quite a long time before this land controversy was resolved. The Germans felt they were legally entitled to the lands through their having been invited to settle there by the then Governor of the Commonwealth, but the heirs of William Penn, through their agent James Logan, retained their claim, and by the time this claim was settled with the Indians and the Governor's Office, the Germans became well established and more numerous, as more and more came from the Schoharie as well as several thousand more directly from Europe. It was finally concluded that it was best to work out a compromise with the Germans and get what compensation they could for the lands, as they were too well entrenched and established to be driven out by eviction. It was at this point that a petition was signed by several families representing these settlers and sent to the Governor's Office, petitioning that they be permitted to remain on their lands and their willingness to pay for their lands at reasonable prices considering that the lands were in outer reaches of the then settled areas. This resulted in many getting their lands where they had settled, not only because they probably could not have been evicted, or that they had declared their intention to pay for their lands, but in a great measure, because of their industry in clearing the lands into productive farms; it enhanced the value of the adjacent lands of the Penns and the Commonwealth, and as both the Commonwealth and the Penns needed money badly, the whole matter was amiably settled and the Palatines finally got their lands in the New World.

It was during this time that Michael got his lands from the Indian Chief Allummapie. The Indians-Commonwealth-William Penn controversy is borne out in this deed by its wording. Michael apparently acquired one hundred acres of this original five hundred-acre grant, from James Logan, through purchase, as on his subsequent application to the Commonwealth for additional lands he declared his request for one hundred acres of land "in Heidelberg Township, County of Lancaster, adjoining a tract of land of one hundred acres he bought of James Logan" and was issued Warrant N. 822, under date of November 6, 1734. This further bears out the Indians-Commonwealth-Penn controversy and concludes that Michael's first one hundred acres of land was first awarded to the Penns and Michael apparently paid the Penn estate for them through their agent, James Logan.

It was on these lands that Michael settled, and these original lands handed down subsequently to the eldest son of each successive generation (5th in 1875) (5) each of whom was named George Meiser, until the chain was broken, when the lands were acquired by the daughters of George S. Meiser—Sally A. Seltzer and Alice Brendle—by will in 1894. These in turn sold the lands (then and presently 149 acres) to John Bennetch in 1909. Bennetch then sold to the present owners, David P. and Martha M. (Bennetch) Snyder (10).

These lands are today some of the finest farm land in the locale with appropriate well kept impressive buildings. The present barn sits on a portion of the original limestone foundation of the barn Michael built. The present house is also thought to be built on a portion of the original house foundation of the original Michael Meiser house.

PART TWO — GENEALOGY

JOHANN GEORGE MEISER I 3/1 AND DESCENDANTS

JOHANN GEORGE MEISER I 3/1, son of Johann Michael Meiser 2/2 (Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Elizabeth Sixt (Zecht), was born at Millbach, Pennsylvania on the original Meiser Homestead in ca. 1724 and died ca. 1793.

He married Anna Feak sometime before 1747 as on September 7, 1747, he baptized his first born child, Johann Michael, at the Millbach Reformed Church.

George was reared on the original homestead which he inherited from his father via will dated 1745. For some reason the will was never probated, but through "Letters of Administrations" the title passed to him November 23, 1749 (Lancaster 1-M). He lived on this farm all his life, reared a fine family, and became quite successful. German was the language of the region and of his home, but he realized the importance of being fluent in the official colonial language, English. Therefore he engaged private tutors for his children so they would become proficient in the English language. He was very active in church work, serving as one of the first lay leaders in the Millbach Reformed Church. He also was superintendent of the Sunday school for a number of years. During the war for independence, it has been written that George was a color bearer in the Battle of Brandywine.

No will was found for George I, but on October 6, 1793, he and his wife, Anna, turned over four tracts of land in what was then Heidelberg Township, County of Dauphin, Pennsylvania, to their children. This information was from the original deeds and Releases.

JOHANN GEORGE MEISER II 4/2

JOHANN GEORGE MEISER II 4/2, son of Johann George Meiser I 3/1 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Feak, was baptized at the Millbach Reformed Church on January 25, 1749. He died after October 16, 1793 as on this date he participated in the distribution of his father's estate (1793 Release).

He married Anna Catharine Strickler ca. 1773. George II was born, lived and died on the original Meiser homestead, which he inherited from his father. Egles' "History of Lebanon County" lists a George in the Heidelberg Roll of the Revolution.

CHILDREN:

- 5/1 Johann George Meiser III
5/2 Maria Catharine Meiser, born Feb. 25, 1777 at Millbach, Pa., and married Benjamin Rutter. She died in 1854 and is buried in the Millbach Cemetery.

JOHN GEORGE MEISER III 5/1

JOHANN GEORGE MEISER III 5/1, son of Johann George Meiser II 4/2 (Johann George Meiser 1 3/1, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, and Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Catharine Strickler, was born October 13, 1774 (Millbach Church Records) and was baptized at the Millbach Reformed Church on October 30, 1774. He died October 26, 1826, at Millbach, Pennsylvania.

He was married to Elizabeth Keller ca. 1798 and he became the third successive George to own the original Meiser homestead, having inherited it from his father. He was born, lived and died on this farm. He is listed as a yeoman in the land distribution (Release) on October 16, 1793.

CHILDREN:

- 6/1 George Meiser IV
6/2 Maria Catharine Meiser, born Nov. 14, 1803; married Samuel Miller.
6/3 Eliza Meiser, born Dec. 14, 1812; married John Kapp.
6/4 Juliana Meiser, born May 14, 1814, married Peter Weidman.

6/5 Levi Meiser, married Anna Maria Krum who was born Feb. 16, 1810; died Sept. 1, 1874.

6/6 Thomas Meiser

GEORGE MEISER IV 6/1, son of Johann George Meiser III 5/1 (Johann George Meiser II, 4/2, Johann George Meiser I 3/1, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Elizabeth Keller, was born in Millbach, Pennsylvania, on December 22, 1800. He died in Millbach September 15, 1878.

He married Sarah Seibert ca. 1821. This was the fourth George to be born, live, and die on the original Meiser Homestead. He inherited the lands from his father by will.

DESCENDANTS:

7/1 George S. Meiser V

7/2 Eliza Meiser, born Sept. 29, 1826; married Joseph Kalbach.

7/3 Sarah Meiser, born April 17, 1833, married Jerome Haak.

7/4 Sabina S. Meiser, born Feb. 4, 1835 and died March 29, 1889; married John A. Weigley, born July 22, 1832.

8/1 Westa M. Weigley, born July 11, 1859.

8/2 Emma S. Weigley, born May 4, 1865.

8/3 Walrow W. Weigley, born March 1, 1868.

7/5 Levi Meiser, born Dec. 31, 1837; died 1856.

7/6 John Meiser, born Sept. 26, 1840; died 1843..

7/7 Emeline Meiser, died in infancy.

GEORGE S. MEISER V 7/1 son of George Meiser IV 6/1 (Johann George Meiser III 5/1, Johann George Meiser II 4/2, Johann George Meiser I 3/1, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Sarah Seibert, was born in Millbach, Pennsylvania, on August 20, 1822. He died in Millbach on October 13, 1907, and is buried in the Millbach Church Cemetery.

He married Mary Ann Ebi (Eby on the tombstone) on December 12, 1850, at the Tulpehocken Reformed Church. She was born October 4, 1830, and died on August 22, 1894, in Millbach.

This was the fifth George to be born, live, and die on the original Meiser homestead. He, however, ended the successive Georges who owned the farm. His son, George VI 8/1, died June 6, 1883. Then George V 7/1 willed the home to his daughters, Sara A. Seltzer and Mary Alice Brendle in 1894. They sold the home to John Bennetch in 1909. Bennetch later sold the farm to the present owners: David P. and Martha M. Snyder. George S. was a small, slight of build man who was a familiar sight in the area. He loved the out-of-doors and spent much of his time especially in his later years, fishing and hunting . . . seldom without his clay pipe. "Pumpie," as he was called, relates that one of the Georges used to spend a great deal of time working at the blacksmith shop on the Meiser farm. An Indian would come to watch the proceedings and invariably get in the way; he always sat on a wooden stump . . . in silence. One day for a joke, he heated an iron bolt and set it into the stump. The Indian fell victim to the stunt and left in a rage. The next day, a young female child, a daughter of the unwary smith, disappeared and was never seen again.

DESCENDANTS:

8/1 Sara A. Meiser, was born Dec. 26, 1852 and died May 18, 1923. She is buried at the Millbach Cemetery. She was married to Penrose Seltzer.

9/1 Minnie Seltzer, married J. A. Zug of Schaeferstown, Pennsylvania.

10/1 Irene Zug

10/3 Raymond Zug

10/2 Molly Zug

8/2 George Levi Meiser VI

8/3 Mary Alice Meiser, was born May 25, 1858. She married John Brendle.

9/1 Olive Brendle

9/3 George M. Brendle

9/2 Rebecca Brendle

GEORGE L. MEISER VI 8/2, son of George S. Meiser V 7/1 and Mary Ann Ebi, was born in Millbach, Pennsylvania, on July 17, 1855, on the Meiser Homestead. He died on a farm in Mt. Aetna, Pennsylvania (Berks County) on June 6, 1883.

George 8/2 married Violet Lisbeth Brown, daughter of Henry B. Brown and Rebecca Batdorff Brown of Mt. Aetna, in 1881. Violet was born in Mt. Aetna on April 16, 1862 and died there in 1945.

George VI 8/2 graduated from Shippensburg Normal School and attended the Palatine School in Myerstown. He taught the grammar grades in Newmanstown, Pennsylvania (Lebanon County) and worked part time on his small farm in Mt. Aetna.

GEORGE H. MEISER VII 9/1, son of George L. Meiser VI 8/2 and Violet L. Brown, was born on June 30, 1882 in Mt. Aetna, Pennsylvania.

His father died when George H. Meiser VII was one year old. His mother, Violet, then married Morris W. Fisher and George was reared with the children of this second marriage: Lillian, Amelia, Mabel, and Raymond.

George H. married Maude E. Mohn in 1900 at the Rehrersburg Reformed Church; Rev. Stambaugh officiated. Maude was born in Schuylkill County in 1882 and moved to Fredericksburg, Pennsylvania in her teens. She was the daughter of Benjamin and Fietta Mohn. She died of appendicitis in 1946, and is buried in Mt. Aetna, Pennsylvania.

George H. Meiser VII remarried in 1948 to Gertrude Krick Ziegler who was born September 28, 1891. Gertrude was the widow of Amos Ziegler by whom she had two children: Warren Ziegler, a Reformed minister and Viola Ziegler Gettle of Myerstown.

George graduated second in his class at the Coleman Business College in Newark, New Jersey. He taught Zeller's school in Mt. Aetna for 10 years; Newmanstown grammar school for one year and one term at Millardsville. Since teaching paid about $75 per month, he felt compelled to enter the business world. He worked for the Sherman Wholesale Grocery in Lebanon, Pennsylvania for thirty-three years, later transferring to William Rittner and Company of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

JOHN MEISER 4/3

JOHN MEISER 4/3, son of Johann George Meiser I 3/1, (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Feak, was born at Millbach, Pennsylvania about 1751. The 1790 Census for Dauphin County, Pennsylvania lists John as the head of a family consisting of four males over 16, three males under 16 and four females.

John died prior to November, 1815 since court records for Lebanon County, Pennsylvania of that month and year list Catharine Meiser, widow of John Meiser Jr.; children Henry, Catharine, John under 14 years. He died intestate leaving several pieces of property.

CHILDREN:

- 5/1 Henry Meiser
- 5/2 Catharine Meiser on June 26, 1816 was given 1/3 of her father's estate. The Lebanon County court records dated October 25, 1928 indicated she was married to _____ Garred.
- 5/3 John Meiser, who was under 14 years of age at the time of his fathers death in 1815, died prior to Oct. 25, 1828 as a single man living in Newmanstown. His sister "Ceatey" and Uncle Benj. Rutter were to share and share alike in the estate.

JOHN HENRY MEISER 4/4

JOHN HENRY MEISER 4/4 son of Johann George Meiser I 3/1, (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Feak, was baptized at Millbach, Pennsylvania April 8, 1757. He married Barbara _____. Since his oldest son John was born in Cumberland County, Pennsylvania in 1781, it is possible that he moved to near Meiserville, Pennsylvania along with his uncles and cousins. He is recorded as a yeoman living in Staunton, Virginia in 1793 when he signed the release on his father's Lancaster County, Pennsylvania deed. It is believed that he moved to Putnam (now Zanesville) Muskingum County, Ohio about 1801. He died prior to December 1823, the date his will was probated in Muskingum County naming Barbara, his wife, as executrix.

According to his will, his children are:

- ~~5~~ 5/1 John Miser
- 5/2 Peter Miser

5/3 Mary Miser, married _____ Wright.
5/4 Elizabeth Miser, married _____ Green.
5/5 Catherine Miser, married _____ Thrall.

JOHN MISER 5/1

5 * JOHN MISER 5/1, son of John Henry Meiser 4/4 (Johann George Meiser 1 3/1, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Barbara _____, was born July 12, 1781 according to his own statement recorded in a letter dated August 20, 1856. Cumberland County, Pennsylvania is recorded as his place of birth.

Family records indicate he married Elizabeth Haver March 15, 1811 at Putnam, Muskingum County, Ohio. County records indicate that a John Miser married Elizabeth Haver (Varner) on November 22, 1805.

In a letter dated April 18, 1837, John is reported to be "off in Perry County, Ohio selling goods." The daughters of John were listed as living in Zanesville, Ohio. In 1856, John states that he is living at the Gordon House in Somerset, Perry County, Ohio.

It is believed that the John Miser elected constable in Springfield Twp., Muskingum County, Ohio on April 3, 1809, is John Miser 5/1. In a letter dated August 20, 1856 he states "I am a candidate for the recorders office in old Perry County."

Family records indicate that John died in August, 1868 at St. Louis, Missouri. Elizabeth, his wife, was living in Omaha, Nebraska in 1872 when she applied for a veteran's pension.

The 1820 Muskingum County, Ohio census shows a John Miser with nine sons and three daughters. Family documents list the following as the children:

JOHN MEISER 5/2

JOHN MEISER 5/2, son of Benjamin Meiser 4/6, (Johann George Meiser I 3/1, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Barbara ———, was born ca. 1794 in Lebanon County, Pennsylvania, and migrated to Osnaburg Township, Stark County, Ohio shortly after 1840. On this date he was awarded his share of the estate of his father in Lebanon County, Pennsylvania.

He is found in the 1850 census of Osnaburg Township, Stark County, Ohio living in the household of Isaac Miller and his wife Catherine. Susanna ——— is listed as the wife of John 5/2.

He died prior to July 1, 1869. Samuel Meiser 7/5 was the administrator of the estate. A legal notice of this death was published in the "Stark County Republican" giving notice to Benjamin Meiser of Allen County, Indiana, D. L. Wertz and Cynthia J. Wertz his wife, of Noble County, Indiana, Nathaniel Meiser and Levi Meiser of Whitley County, Indiana, and Winfield Meiser of Missouri.

Susanna is reported to have died at the home of her son Benjamin.

BENJAMIN MEISER 6/3, son of John Meiser 5/2, (Benjamin Meiser 4/6, Johann George Meiser I 3/1, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Susanna ———, was born in Millbach, Pennsylvania November 24, 1819. He came with his parents to Stark County, Ohio in the 1830's.

Benjamin Meiser married Fietta Sausser on November 3, 1842 in Stark County, Ohio.

Fietta, the daughter of John and Eliza Sausser, was born August 7, 1825. They established their home near Osnaburg, Stark County, Ohio where their five children were born.

According to records at the city hall at Ft. Wayne, Indiana, dated October 20, 1860. Benjamin Meiser bought considerable land in Allen County, Indiana from his father John Meiser 5/2 and Susan Meiser of Stark County, Ohio. He bought three more parcels of land in Allen County, in 1865 and 1866. In this last year, he subdivided much of his Arcola property. In 1860, Benjamin and Fietta Meiser may have moved to Arcola, Allen County, Indiana.

Benjamin Meiser 6/4, a mild, gentle man, was a cabinet maker by trade. Fietta was an industrious and frugal person.

Benjamin died November 11, 1895; Fietta died September 18, 1904. Both are buried in Lindenwood Cemetery, Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

SECTION TWO

ELIZABETH MEISER 3/2, MICHAEL MEISER 3/3, HENRY MEISER 3/4 AND DESCENDANTS

ELIZABETH MEISER 3/2

ELIZABETH MEISER 3/2, daughter of Johann Michael Meiser 2/2 (Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Elizabeth Sixt (thought to be Zecht), was born ca. 1725 in Millbach, Pennsylvania. She was married to Henry Hoffman prior to 1749. There is no evidence as to the descendants of Elizabeth Meiser 3/2 and Henry Hoffman, however the editors are including the following information to aid further research.

1. Tax List, Rapho Township, Lancaster County, 1756 lists a Henry Hoffman.
2. Septennial Census 1779, Martic Township, Lancaster County, lists a Henry Hoffman.
3. Septennial Census 1779, Upper Saxton Township, Lancaster County, lists a Henry Hoffman.
4. Septennial Census 1779, Cocalico Township, Lancaster County, lists a Henry Hoffman.
5. Septennial Census 1779, Brecknock Township, Lancaster County, lists a Henry Hoffman.

The 1779 Septennial Census for Heidelberg Township, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania does not list a Henry Hoffman, we can only theorize that the Henry Hoffman living in Cocalico Township may have been the husband of Elizabeth Meiser 3/2. Cocalico Township is adjacent to, and south of Heidelberg Township.

MICHAEL MEISER 3/3

MICHAEL MEISER 3/3, son of Johann Michael Meiser 2/2 (Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Elizabeth Sixt (thought to be Zecht), was born in Millbach, Pennsylvania ca. 1727. He died prior to April 4, 1787, the date the will was probated at Sunbury, Pennsylvania.

He married Barbara _____ on November 2, 1760.

Michael is found in Penns Township, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania and taxed in 1778/1780 for 14;3;0, as per P413 Northumberland County, State Tax. Of interest is a land warrant given to his children mentioned in his will only thirty-five days after his will was probated, as follows:

Land Warrants-Penna. Archives S3; Vol. 24; Page 244 "Christ'n, Sus'h, Christiana Meiser," May 9, 1787, 100 acres. The only other record of the descendants of Michael Meiser 3/3 is the 1850 Perry Township, Union County Census taken November 20, 1850 which states:

Christian Meiser, age 75, head of household. Living with him: Polly Benfer, age 33; Mary Benfer, age 7; Benjamin Meiser, age 51, laborer. (Benjamin was the son of John Michael Meiser 4/3).

CHILDREN:

- 4/1 John Michael Meiser, born 1761 (Millbach Church record).
- 4/2 Christopher Meiser (named in will).
- 4/3 Susannah Meiser (named in will).
- 4/4 Christina Meiser (named in will)

HENRY MEISER 3/4 AND DESCENDANTS

HENRY MEISER 3/4, son of Johann Michael Meiser 2/2 (Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Elizabeth Sixt (thought to be Zecht), was born at Millbach in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, ca. 1728. He died in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, ca. August 7, 1801.

The burial place has not been determined although it is probably in a section of the cemetery at Grubb's (Bottschofts) [Gospel] Church where the ravages of time have destroyed the headstones.

Henry married Anna Maria _____ before July 5, 1764, as on this date he and Anna Mary baptized a son, John Michael, at Millbach, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. No records have been found of her parentage, birthdate, birthplace, death date, death place or burial place.

Henry was reared at Millbach, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania and on April 9, 1763 he was granted a warrant for 63 acres, 118 perches of land in then Cumberland County, Pennsylvania, later Northumberland County, and now Snyder County, Pennsylvania. In ca. 1772 he was listed in Penns Township, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, as additional resident. On June 29, 1773 he took up an additional 110 acres, 161 perches of land in the same locality. He was first taxed in Penns Township, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, in 1772, but it is believed that he lived there a year or two before. His land holdings extended along both sides of Mahantango Creek from south of the present village of Meiserville, north to near the village of Shadle. By 1793 his combined land holdings totaled over 470 acres.

When he first arrived with his personal effects and family in a two horse wagon, he built a bark hut but on three different occasions was forced to move away because of the unfriendliness of the Indians. On one occasion he placed his children in a chaff-bag (bed tick), put them on the back of a horse and went down the river to the present village of New Buffalo to escape from the ravages of the Indians. A temporary fort for the protection and refuge of the settlers had been erected there. On one occasion the Indians took the baking bread from the outdoor oven, and on another, an angry Indian appeared at the cabin, during the absence of Henry Meiser. Mrs. Meiser gave him things to eat, but he went away in a sullen mood. When Henry returned to the cabin, he took up the trail of the Indian. A fight ensued, and the Indian lost his life.

Henry was a great hunter. He had a deer lick in a swamp near his home, and it is said that his larder seldom lacked venison. One day a pair of panthers passed near their cabin, and he followed them, killing one. That night the other returned to the cabin, seeking its mate, and he shot it through the porthole in the cabin wall.

In 1775 he was a road supervisor for Penns Township. In this same year, Henry Meiser was a private soldier in the Heidelberg Company, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, under Captain George Hudson. (DAR Records) He lived in that part of Penns Township, which later became Mahantango Township—1796. In that year he was assessed with land, personal property and a sawmill located just north of the present village of Meiserville. This was one of the first sawmills in the section and is still operating today (1972) under diesel power rather than water power. The mill race still leads water under the mill. The village of Meiserville, Pennsylvania, was named for this Henry.

Henry died in Mahantango Township, and his will was probated in Sunbury, Pennsylvania, on August 7, 1801. His wife and son John Michael 4/3 were co-executors of his will. The will lists the following children: Mary Elizabeth, Catharina, Barbara, John Michael, Philip, Henry, George, Frederick and Andrew.

Andrew was one of the first children baptized at the old Zion Lutheran Church, north of Freeburg, in 1781.

Based on a family record compiled by John A. Miser 6/8 and exhaustive research by the Meiser Genealogical Association, the descendants of Henry Meiser 3/4 are as follows:

MARY ELIZABETH MEISER 4/1

MARY ELIZABETH MEISER 4/1 (Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meiser 1/1) was the first-born of Henry Meiser 3/4 and Anna Maria ————. Tradition has it that she married Hafley and in the fall of 1799 moved to Blount County, Tennessee along with the families of her sister and brothers: Catharine Meiser 4/2, Henry Miser 4/5, John George Miser 4/6 and John Miser 4/8.

Interred in the Eusebia Cemetery, Blount County, Tennessee is a Cornelius Hafley, born 1749, died 1807 and his wife Elizabeth, born March 7, 1755; died September 5, 1845. Blount County records show that an Elizabeth Hafley gave power of attorney to George Miser 4/6 on August 23, 1808.

Numerous Blount County historical documents refer to Conrad Hafley, however it is believed that Cornelius and Conrad Hafley were one and the same person since on February 23, 1807 an administrator was appointed for Conrad Hafley, deceased. The administrators for Cornelius Hafley were Warner Martin and James Hafley.

From the will and records of the distribution of the estate of Cornelius (Conrad) Hafley, one finds the names of the children, their spouses and places of residence. The editors at the time of publication are unable to verify the order of birth, however, they are assigning numbers for ease of reference.

CATHARINE MEISER 4/2

385 CATHARINE MEISER 4/2 (Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) was born ca 1760. Tradition has it that she married Peter Bowerman and in the Fall of 1799 moved to Blount County, Tennessee along with the families of her sister and brothers: Mary Meiser 4/1, Henry Miser 4/5, John George Miser 4/6, John Miser 4/8. There Peter Bowerman is supposed to have accumulated considerable wealth by purchasing slaves in the North and driving them to Southern markets.

Based on "A History of Blount County, Tennessee" by Inez Burns, Peter Bowerman was in Blount County, Tennessee as early as February 7, 1794 since "Peter Bowerman, a soldier in Captain Singleton's Company of militia, was fired on by three Indians near Wells Station. One ball struck his hunting shirt." Also in 1813, Bowerman was operating a still (mill?) on Bowerman's Creek, also known as Isbes. It is possible that Bowerman took over Elizabeth Ishe's Mill. This mill or its successor was later known as the Johnson or Mahoney Mill which stood on the road to Friendsville.

Peter Bowerman died in Blount County, Tennessee prior to May 3, 1835. He was born ca. 1760. His sons Henry and Michael were named executors of the estate. His daughter Sallie married to John Jefferson Hoover received the "plantation." It is interesting to note that Catharine Meiser's brother Frederick Meiser 4/9 also referred in his will to his "plantation" in Meiserville, Pennsylvania.

CHILDREN:

- 5/1 Michael Bowerman, born ca. 1781; died May -, 1861.
- 5/2 Sarah (Sallie) Bowerman, born May 12, 1802; died May -, 1842; married John Jefferson Hoover, born April 29, 1818; died May 29, 1842.
(married Sept. 4, 1834).
- 6/1 Henry Hoover
- 5/3 Henry Bowerman, died 1855.
- 6/1 Michael Bowerman; married Sarah Blackwell.

Based on tax records of Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, Peter Bowerman was taxed in the years 1776, 1778, 1781, 1782, 1785 and 1786.

JOHN MICHAEL MEISER 4/3

JOHN MICHAEL MEISER 4/3 (Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) was baptized July 5, 1764 in the Millbach Church, Lancaster County. He came with his father and mother to Northumberland County, Pennsylvania enduring the hardships of frontier life. Christina Druckenmiller, born November 29, 1774, is recorded as his wife. She was the daughter of Frederick Druckenmiller.

Little factual information is known concerning John Michael Meiser 4/3 other than he is credited with building an oil mill about 1800 near Aline to manufacture linseed oil from flax seed. We can only surmise that he also helped his father, Henry Meiser 3/4, operate the sawmill and cider press at the same location. Since the foregoing were only seasonal businesses, farming must have been his primary source of "eking" out a living in this frontier area.

John Michael Meiser 4/3 died in 1827 and is believed to be buried near his wife at Grubb's Church where a tombstone records her date of death as December 21, 1854.

6/8 Lewis Meiser, born ca. 1841; died prior to 1856.

6/9 Benjamin Meiser (twin)

6/10 Perry Meiser (twin)

6/11 Sarah Meiser

Michael Meiser 5/1 died September 11, 1856 intestate. A detailed listing of his entire estate valued in excess of $7,000.00 is one of the oldest documents on file in the courthouse at Middleburg, county seat of Snyder County. It appears that he was a farmer residing near the Village of Aline. Sarah, his widow, died August 21, 1895. Both are buried at Grubb's Church.

S HARRISON MEISER 6/2, son of Michael Meiser 5/1 (John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Maria Kehn, was born about 1824 in Perry Township, Union County, Pennsylvania. He married Susanna Fisher, born ca. 1829, on August 12, 1845. Census records show that he lived in Perry Township until 1850, working as a day-laborer, after which he moved to the Midwest. A letter from Frederick Meiser 4/9 to Henry Meiser 5/4 dated June 24, 1855 stated, "Harrison Meiser is in Illinois but where, not able to tell." There are no further records on the family.

CHILDREN:

7/1 Christiana Meiser, born ca. 1848.

7/2 Benewell Meiser, born ca. 1850.

JOHN MEISER 6/3, son of Michael Meiser 5/1 (John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Maria Kehn, was born about 1824 in Perry Township, Union County, Pennsylvania. He married Katherine Zeller, born September -, 1828, on October 8, 1846. John was listed as a farmer in Perry Township in the 1850 census. Two sons, Frederick and Michael, were born in Perry Township. A letter from Frederick Meiser 4/9 to Henry Meiser 5/4, dated June 24, 1855, stated "John Meiser lives in Pulasky County, Indiana near Winamac which is his post office." His grandson John Meiser 8/2 stated "My father came to Pulaski County in 1851 by covered wagon."

John Meiser served in Co. D 58th. Indiana Infantry, during the Civil War. Records show that he saw action in the Atlanta Campaign under General W. T. Sherman.

John died June 2, 1880 and is buried in Winamac, Indiana where a veteran's tombstone marks his grave. His wife, Katherine, died June 29, 1906 and is buried by his side.

MICHAEL MEISER 6/4, son of Michael Meiser 5/1 (John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meiser 1/1) and Anna Maria Kehn was born in 1825 in Perry Township, Union County, Pennsylvania. He lived near Aline until 1850 when he either moved with his brother John to Indiana or joined him there prior to 1855. He moved to Michigan near the present village of Adamsville in Cass County where he earned the reputation as being an ambitious and reliable farmhand.

He purchased the farm of Sam Moyer, June 2, 1882, for what was then an exorbitant price of $100 per acre (twice what was believed to be the market value). However he prospered as a bachelor farmer and later asked his brother Thomas Meiser 6/7 and his family, then living in Snyder County, Pennsylvania, to join him in Michigan. Thomas, his wife and two children, joined Michael in Michigan where they resided until their death.

Michael Meiser died June 3, 1889 and is buried at Prairie Buchanan, Michigan. He never married.

LOUISA MEISER 6/5, daughter of Michael Meiser 5/1 (John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meiser 1/1) and Sarah Hains, was born about 1835 in Perry Township, Union County, Pennsylvania. Snyder County marriage records show that she married Isaac Row of Liverpool, Pennsylvania August 18, 1859. No further records on this family have been discovered other than unconfirmed reports that they moved to Virginia.

MARGARET MEISER 6/6, daughter of Michael Meiser 5/1 (John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meiser 1/1) and Sarah Hains, was born June 30, 1836. She married John A. Shadle born April 12, 1829. John died December 17, 1871 and Margaret died September 27, 1907. Both are buried at Mt. Pleasant Mills, Pennsylvania. (formerly Fremont, Pennsylvania)

CHILDREN:

7/1 J. Albert Shadle

7/2 Alice Shadle

J. ALBERT SHADLE 7/1, son of Margaret Meiser 6/6 (Michael Meiser 5/1 John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and John A. Shadle, was born November 1, 1858 in Perry Township, Snyder County, Pennsylvania. He married Sarah E. Schnee on September 9, 1878, who was born November 11, 1856. He followed in his father's trade as a miller until 1900 when he moved to Mt. Pleasant Mills, Pennsylvania and opened a photography shop. His business grew to where he employed two traveling photographers and four salesmen. In 1900 he was elected Justice of the Peace, an office he held until his death January 22, 1942. Sarah, his wife, died May 1, 1930. Both are buried at Mt. Pleasant Mills, Pennsylvania.

DESCENDANTS:

9/3 Miriam Shadle, born Nov. 8, 1916; married, 1st Howard Rowe; 2nd Charles Bowers.

9/4 John Shadle; married Sallie Conrad.

ALICE SHADLE 7/2, daughter of Margaret Meiser 6/6 (Michael Meiser 5/1, John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and John A. Shadle, was born May 19, 1861. She married Dr. Marand Rothrock, born May 12, 1854, a revered Snyder County horse and buggy doctor.

They resided at Mt. Pleasant Mills, Pennsylvania (then Freemont), where as the doctor's wife, she was called upon to comfort the sick and maimed who came to his office for treatment but had to wait until the doctor returned. Since there were no hospitals or nurses in the area, the task of caring for patients and administering to the sick too ill to be moved was the duty of a doctor's wife.

Alice Shadle Rothrock was the first person to attempt to compile a family tree on the Meiserville Meisers. She composed a circular chart listing the names of the early Meiser immigrants and their descendants that she was able to identify. She called her chart "The Meiser Circle" which was later given to Bertha Meiser Bolig 7/1 and used by the Meisser Genealogical Association as the primary reference for the Meiserville Pennsylvania Settlement Section of their first publication. She died April 28, 1932 and is buried beside her husband who died March 31, 1929 at Mt. Pleasant Mills, Pennsylvania.

DESCENDANTS:

8/1 J. Roswell Rothrock, born Aug. 3, 1883; died Feb. 1, 1927; married Laura Oldfield.

8/2 Margaret C. Rothrock, born Dec. 17, 1886; married Rev. Calvin P. Swank, born April 26, 1880; died April 3, 1962.

9/1 Rev. Paul R. Swank, born March 27, 1920; married Miriam E. Maeder.

THOMAS MEISER 6/7, son of Michael Meiser 5/1 (John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Sarah Hains, was born May 9, 1838 near Aline, Union County, Pennsylvania. He married Sarah Garman, born December 19, 1837, on February 12, 1861. He and his family are reported in the 1880 census as living in Snyder County, Pennsylvania.

Based on family records and personal letters, Thomas served in the Civil War.

Thomas's half-brother Michael influenced Thomas and his family to move to Adamsville, Michigan, prior to 1890, where Thomas resided until his death in 1909. Sarah, his wife, died October 7, 1893 and her body was returned to Snyder County, Pennsylvania for burial. Thomas is buried at Adamsville, Cass County, Michigan.

CHILDREN:

7/1 William Austin Meiser

7/3 Minnie Meiser, (1865-1867).

7/2 Thomas Jefferson Meiser

WILLIAM AUSTIN MEISER, 7/1, son of Thomas Meiser 6/7 (Michael Meiser 5/1, John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meiser 1/1) and Sarah Garman, was born July 22, 1861 in Snyder County, Pennsylvania. He married Sarah J. Krause, born May 4, 1864. He came with his father to Michigan about 1890 and worked on the farm of his bachelor uncle, Michael. The spacious house and barn on this farm were erected during his ownership of the property.

William died March 19, 1927, his wife preceding him in death in 1924. Both are buried in Adamsville, Michigan.

CHILDREN:

8/1 William T. Meiser

WILLIAM T. MEISER 8/1, son of William A. Meiser 7/1 and Sarah J. Krause, was born at Adamsville, Michigan, February 22, 1901.

He married his second cousin, Alda R. Meiser 8/3, daughter of William H. Meiser 7/1. They lived on the Michael Meiser homestead until his death November 5, 1928.

Further information on Alda R. Meiser 8/3 and their daughter Patricia J. Meiser 9/1 will appear later in this section.

CHILDREN:

9/1 Patricia J. Meiser, born July 26, 1928; married Gerald Peare.

THOMAS JEFFERSON MEISER 7/2, son of Thomas Meiser 6/7 (Michael Meiser 5/1, John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meiser 1/1) and Sarah Garman, was born in Snyder County, Pennsylvania, May 12, 1864. He came with his father to Michigan about 1891. There are no further records other than the names of his children and the belief that he moved to Missouri.

CHILDREN:

8/1 Grace Meiser

8/3 Thomas Meiser

8/2 Vesta Meiser

LEWIS MEISER 6/8, son of Michael Meiser 5/1 (John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meiser 1/1) and Sarah Hains, was born about 1841 according to the 1850 Perry Township census. He must have died prior to 1856 since he did not share in his father's estate when the "Letters of Administration" were filed in Snyder County, Pennsylvania in 1856.

BENJAMIN MEISER 6/9, son of Michael Meiser 5/1 (John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meiser 1/1) and Sarah Hains, was a twin brother of Perry Meiser 6/10. Benjamin was born February 28, 1844 near Aline and lived with his widowed mother until June 20, 1872 when he married Annie Phillips. Annie was born January 1, 1850. He was a farmer working at day labor for nearby land owners. Summers were spent mowing hay with a scythe and cradling grain. He was one of the few people skilled in the use of a two-fingered cradle used in the harvesting of clover seed. His winters were spent working in the sawmill near Aline and in the distillery at Meiserville. Wages were considered to be a bushel of wheat and three meals. On these meager earnings he raised a family of nine children. At age 74, he was still employed when he took ill and collapsed on his way home from work. Neighbors discovered him in the snow and carried him home where he died Feb. 17, 1918. Annie, his wife, lived until June 3, 1928. Both are buried at Aline Church.

An interesting story is told how Annie Phillips Meiser received the name of Annie "Bench." In the Perry Township area, four Meisers were married to women by the first name Annie. To differentiate between the four, residents of the area referred to Annie Phillips, married to Benjamin Meiser 6/9, as Annie "Benj." Annie Herold, married to Henry Meiser 6/2, was called Annie "Hen." Annie Naugle, married to Dave Meiser, 6/6, was called Annie "Dave." and Annie Haas, married to Peter Meiser 6/7, was nicknamed Annie "Pete."

MEISER 7/4, daughter of Benjamin Meiser 6/9 (Michael Meiser 5/1, John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Annie Phillips, was born near Aline, Pennsylvania in 1880. She married W. P. "Dutch" Knoll. The first years of their marriage were spent operating canal boats on the Pennsylvania Canal (Susquehanna Division). Coal was loaded into the boats near Nescopek and drawn by mules to Baltimore, Maryland. There the "holds" were emptied and reloaded with barrels of flour, cases of groceries and sacks of sugar to be transported North to cities along the canal.

When the canal was destroyed by the Spring Flood of 1901, they moved to Steelton, Pa. where he worked as a pattern maker in the steel mills. He could not read or write yet had no difficulty converting mathematical directions into finished patterns. "Dutch" died July 16, 1934, his exact age was never known. Sallie died in 1951.

JOSEPH A. MEISER, SR. 7/6, son of Benjamin Meiser 6/9 (Michael Meiser 5/1, John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meiser 1/1) and Annie Phillips, was born near Aline, Pennsylvania, June 24, 1888. He was named after Joseph Meiser 5/4 of Meiserville. At age nine he lived with his sister Sallie and brother-in-law "Dutch" Knoll on canal boats operating on the Susquehanna Division of the Pennsylvania Canal. His daily chores included tending tow ropes and caring for the mules that pulled the boats between Nescopek, Pennsylvania and Baltimore, Maryland. When the canals failed in 1901, he went to live on the farm of his brother Francis near Stonington, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania. Here he met and married Sallie Bahner, February 10, 1909. Sallie is a descendant of John Nicholas Bahner, a Hessian soldier captured by Washington's Army at Trenton, New Jersey, December 26, 1776.

His entire life, except for a brief period during World War I when he worked for the Pennsylvania Railroad, was devoted to farming. He managed farms for Frank Christ, John W. Bahner and the Martz Sisters, all located in Shamokin Township, Pennsylvania. He possessed the enviable ability to transform marginal farms into successful profitable enterprises, a trade mark of so many Pennsylvania Deutsch farmers.

Joseph A. Meiser, Sr. 7/6 and Sallie M. Bahner celebrated their 63rd wedding anniversary February 10, 1972 and retired from active farming. On August 10, 1972 Joe Sr., died and was buried in the Miller's Crossroads Cemetery, Stonington, Pennsylvania.

ALDA R. MEISER 8/3, daughter of William H. Meiser 7/1 and Barbara E. Minium, was born October 28, 1897 near South Bend, Indiana. She married William T. Meiser 8/1, her second cousin from Adamsville, Michigan. William died November 25, 1928. She then married Howard L. Persing, born 1892; died 1959. They resided on the farm purchased by her great uncle Michael Meiser 6/4, which was deeded later to Thomas Meiser 6/7, William T. Meiser's 8/1 grandfather.

Much of the credit for identifying the descendants of Michael Meiser 6/4 is due Alda Meiser in that she preserved historical documents and photographs that assisted the Meisser Genealogical Society in its research. Her memory of names, dates, and relationships saved untold hours of research.

She still resides in the family homestead at Adamsville, Michigan.

CHARLES FREDERICK MEISER 7/1, son of Benjamin F. Meiser 6/6 (Henry Meiser 5/4, Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Mary C. Mengel, was born May 31, 1872 in Washington Township, Snyder County, Pennsylvania. He died June 10, 1913 at Dowagiac, Michigan and is buried in the Grace Lawn Cemetery, at Elkhart, Indiana.

He married Sarah A. Diehl November 10, 1896 at Cassopolis, Michigan. She was the daughter of John Diehl and Maria A. Eisenhart. Her grandfathers were Michael Diehl and Jonas Eisenhart, of Northumberland County, Pennsylvania. She died January 30, 1927 and is buried along side her husband.

Charles F. Meiser entered the railroad shops of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad in Elkhart, Indiana where he learned the trade of boilermaker. In 1905 he took over the farm of his aging father-in-law, John Diehl near Bristol, Indiana. In 1913 he acquired a farm south of Dowagiac, Michigan which he farmed until his death a few months later.

CHILDREN:

- 8/1 Marlin Diehl Meiser

MARLIN DIEHL MEISER 8/1, son of Charles F. Meiser 7/1 and Sarah A. Diehl was born May 5, 1899 at Elkhart, Indiana. He married Frances P. Martin, the daughter of Frank P. Martin and Mary Gardner at Goshen, Indiana, August 25, 1923. Marlin died March 28, 1973 and is buried in the Chapel of Peace Mausoleum, Rice Cemetery.

Marlin, after a short service in World War I at Indiana University, was employed as a supervisor at a telephone and electronics manufacturing firm in Elkhart, Indiana. A life long interest in antiques led to his entering into that business in 1950. He owned and operated his own establishment at Elkhart, Indiana.

As a pictorial photographer he exhibited in and judged photographic salons and became an associate in the Photographic Society of America and a Fellow of the Royal Photographic Society. His photographic activities have stimulated an interest in travel which has taken him to five continents.

Marlin served as Curator of the Elkhart County Historical Society Museum at Bristol, Indiana and his wife as the Registrar. Marlin was a member of the Indiana Historical Society, the Midwest Museum Conference, the National Historical Society and the Association of Indiana Museums.

JOHN NEWTON MEISER 7/3, son of Benjamin F. Meiser 6/6, (Henry Meiser 5/4, John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Mary C. Mengel, was born March 28, 1876 in Snyder County, Pennsylvania. He married Betty E. Rood at Cassopolis, Michigan, February 23, 1898. She was born in Warren County, Illinois March 8, 1879, and died June 21, 1969.

John was a life long farmer, starting as a farmhand in the Edwardsburg, Michigan area. In 1908 he purchased his own farm west of Cassopolis, Michigan which he operated until his retirement in 1935. He died August 8, 1959 at Dowagiac, Michigan and is buried in the Brookside Cemetery at Dailey, Michigan.

FREDERICK MEISER 6/9, son of Henry Meiser 5/4, (John Michael Meiser 4/3, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Rebecca Moyer, was born in Perry Township, Snyder County, Pennsylvania April 27, 1849. Since he moved to Indiana prior to his brother Benjamin 6/6 and that the graves of his first born children are near Winamac, it can only be surmised that his first cousin John Meiser 6/3, living in the Winamac area, was instrumental in Frederick migrating from Snyder County to the Bruce Lake area. Also the death of Frederick's father, Henry Meiser 5/4 in 1861, probably influenced others to assist the widow and her minor aged children.

Frederick married Caroline Wentzel born in 1856. Since the Snyder County marriage records do not report this marriage, she was probably from Indiana. Frederick died December 2, 1924 and Caroline died July 15, 1932. Both are buried at Bruce Lake, Indiana along with their sons George 7/1 and Milow 7/2.

JOHN PHILIP MEISER 4/4

JOHN PHILIP MEISER 4/4, son of Henry Meiser 3/4, (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Maria ———, was born October 15, 1766 (according to Brendle's History of Schaefferstown, Pennsylvania) in Millbach, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania.

Philip Meisser was issued a Certificate of Public Debt by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in the amount of £ 10:17:0 for a tour of active duty in the Berks County Militia. He was a member of Lt. Jacob Rherer's Detachment, Second Battalion, guarding convention prisoners at Reading, according to Basic Payrolls, Vol. B, Page 15, Pennsylvania. Historical and Museum Commission, Division of Public Records.

The name of Philip's wife has never been authenticated. On April 14, 1789 a Philip Meiser married Maria Diehl in the German Reformed Church, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. (Pennsylvania Archives, Second Series, Vol. 8.) Yet on July 1, 1792, a Philip Meiser and a Barbara Swartzen (both unmarried) were sponsors in the baptism of Johann Philip, son of Johannes Swartz and his wife, Maria, nee Schwartzen (Grubb's Church, Snyder County, Pennsylvania.).

Grubb's Church records show that Philip Meiser and his wife baptized a child on December 14, 1794. Sponsors were Frederick Neiss and his wife Barbara. The name of the child was not filled in. This child could have been Philip's first-born Henry, whose birthdate has never been established. The date fits in with the 1795 date on which Philip's second child, Lydia, was born.

Philip Meiser 4/4 came to Ohio in the early 1800's and held land in Jefferson County, Ohio for a brief period; the deed for one hundred acres is dated April 15, 1806. On September 1, 1819, Philip received a patent for land in Tuscarawas County, Ohio. Additional purchases were recorded July 10, 1822. These holdings were near New Cumberland, Ohio. It is now owned by the Muskingum Watershed Conservation District and much of it is a part of the Lake above Atwood Dam. The house site is now a boat landing.

Philip Meiser 4/4 died after 1822, the year he conveyed his lands to his sons, Frederick and Henry.

HENRY MISER 4/5

HENRY MISER 4/5

HENRY MISER 4/5, son of Henry Meiser 3/4 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Maria ———— was born in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania on November 6, 1768. He grew to manhood in Penn's Township, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania.

Ca. 1793 he married Margaret Druckenmiller, born June 29, 1772, who was a daughter of Frederick Druckenmiller and Christina ————. Tradition has it that in the fall of 1799, Henry, along with his brothers George and John and sisters Elizabeth and Catharine, moved to Blount County Tennessee. In the fall of 1800, Henry returned to Pennsylvania.

Henry Miser 4/5 settled permanently in Jefferson County, Ohio near the village of Annapolis in 1802. His land is recorded as being in Section 32, Twp. 10, Range 3, Jefferson County, Ohio. It has been stated that Henry Miser was not the original owner of the land, but that the land was first entered by a pioneer, Solomon Miller, in 1800. As he was unable to buy the section, Mr. Miller was dispossessed and the land entered by Henry Miser.

It was here that Henry Miser cleared the land to make it suitable for farming and raised his family. For sometime he and his family lived in a log cabin, presumably erected by Mr. Miller. Later they built a house of hand-made bricks from the clay found on the farm.

Margaret died November 26, 1850 and Henry died February 22, 1861. Henry is buried in the Leas Cemetery, Annapolis, Ohio.

Miser 6/3 (Henry Miser 5/1, George Miser 4/6, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and George Washington Brickell, was born January 31, 1855 at Miser Station, Tennessee died September 29, 1951 at Knoxville, Tennessee. On March 23, 1881 she married Josiah Campbell Hutton, born December 26, 1837; died August 21, 1889. Both are buried in Shady Grove Cemetery.

CHILDREN:

8/1 Cora Belle Hutton, born Jan. 30, 1882; died March 11, 1888; buried in Shady Grove Cemetery.

8/2 Elizabeth May Hutton, born Oct. 30, 1884, died May 27, 1966; never married. She is buried in the Woodlawn Cemetery, Knoxville, Tennessee. Elizabeth was secretary of the Blount County Miser Reunion Association for the 25 year period prior to her death.

8/3 Campbell Azro Hutton.

CAMPBELL AZRO HUTTON 8/3, son of Lucretia Brickell 7/2 and Josiah Campbell Hutton, was born July 9, 1888 at Miser Station, Tennessee and died at his home in Knoxville, Tennessee on January 10, 1972, at the age of 83 years. He is buried in the Woodlawn Cemetery, Knoxville.

On August 30, 1915, he married Annie Lee White at Jefferson City, Tennessee. She was born September 23, 1890 at White Pines, Tennessee. Annie Lee White was graduated from Carson Newman College in Jefferson City, Tennessee and Virginia Intermont College in Bristol, Virginia, majoring in piano and voice. She performed and taught for many years and continues to teach piano lessons to a number of students in her home in Knoxville.

Annie Lee's parents were Thomas Findlay White, born 1848, died 1897 and Callie Joan Manard, born 1850, died December 21, 1921.

Campbell A. Hutton 8/3 graduated from Maryville Polytechnic School in 1909 and from the University of Tennessee in 1913 where he majored in Dairying. College was "serious business" for him. In his own words, "My Mother and sister helped me pay college expenses by selling butter at 10 and 15 cents a pound and milk for 5 cents a quart. I worked on the U. T. dairy farm, tested milk for butterfat, and handled the farm payroll for 10 cents an hour. In my senior year, I assisted with the teaching phase at a somewhat better rate of pay." While a student at U. T., he became a member of Alpha Zeta and Phi Kappa Phi scholarship honor fraternities, and was editor of The Tennessee Farmer. Upon graduation, Mr. Hutton served as Agricultural Representative for the Southern Railroad, and in November of 1914, under the co-operative agreement between the United States Department of Agriculture and the University of Tennessee, he became the third specialist employed by the Agricultural Extension Service. For the next 44 years, he was in the service of dairying throughout Tennessee.

Hoard's Dairyman, the National Dairy Farm Magazine, described Mr. Hutton's work in an article in these words: "Hutton will long be remembered in dairy circles. He probably made more lasting tracks in the dairy lots of Tennessee than any other person. And his innovations and adaptations have had their influence on the dairying of the entire South. In 1916, he organized a cow testing association, which grew into the Dairy Herd Improvement Associations of the area. He pioneered artificial insemination as a means of improving dairy herds, and in 1939 Hutton organized the first artificial breeding association in the South. He assisted in establishing the first successful cheese plant in Tennessee".

Mr. Hutton was the author of many bulletins published by the Agricultural Extension Service. One of these, "Feeding Dairy Cows," had a total printing of over 108,000 copies, the largest circulation of all farmers' bulletins issued up to the time he retired in 1958. He won many honors along the way. Probably the one he cherished most was the American Dairy Science Association 1952 citation for his distinguished service to the dairy industry of the South.

8/5 Charles Daniel Dyer, born Nov. 3, 1908; married Georgie Miller.

8/6 Alma Gladys Dyer, born Nov. 14, 1912; died Oct. 1, 1913.

WILLIAM ABRAHAM DYER 7/2, son of Sarah F. Miser 6/4 (Henry Miser 5/1, George Miser 4/6, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Felix A. Dyer, was born July 8, 1870 at Miser Station, Tennessee and died January 30, 1951. On July 18, 1893 he married Mary Miser 7/1, daughter of George Madison Dallas Miser 6/3 and Hester A. Smith. Mary was born June 27, 1870 and died June 25, 1899. A list of their descendants appear later in this section.

Following Mary's death, William married Julia Ellis Henson, born October 7, 1890 and died November 27, 1866. All are buried in the Shady Grove Cemetery.

GEORGE MISER 5/5

GEORGE MISER 5/5, son of George Miser 4/6 (Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Mary Druckenmiller, was born at Miser Station, Tennessee ca. 1810. On October 14, 1836 he married Elizabeth Pickering.

CHILDREN:

6/1 Sarah Miser, born ca. 1837.

Evidently Elizabeth died ca. 1837, since Blount County, Tennessee records show that George Miser 5/5 married Sarah Brooks on November 6, 1838. According to the 1850 census for Blount County, four children were born to his second marriage.

CHILDREN:

6/2 John Miser, born ca. 1840.

6/4 Frank Miser, born ca. 1843.

6/3 Samuel Miser, born ca. 1842.

6/5 Polly Miser, born ca. 1848.

George Miser 5/5 may have moved with his family to either Missouri or Arkansas since his two sons, Samuel 6/3 and John 6/2 are listed in the 1870 Arkansas Census as living in Clay Township, Izard County. There is a possibility that other children were born to the second marriage of George Miser 5/5.

JOHN MISER 6/2, son of George Miser 5/5 (George Miser 4/6, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Sarah Brooks, was born ca. 1840 in Blount County, Tennessee. The 1870 census for Clay Township, Izard County, Arkansas lists a John Miser, born ca. 1846 in Tennessee. In February 1870 he married Nancy born ca. in 1852 in Arkansas. There is no proof that this John Miser is the son of George Miser 5/5, however the fact that he was living neighbors to Samuel Miser 6/3 indicates a possible relationship.

SAMUEL HENRY MISER 6/3, son of George Miser 5/5 (George Miser 4/6, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Sarah Brooks, was born ca. 1842 in Blount County, Tennessee. Evidently his family moved to Arkansas prior to 1861 since on July 26, 1861 Samuel Miser 6/3 enlisted in Company G, 7th Arkansas Regiment at Camp Shaver, Arkansas. His military records indicate; blue eyes; fair hair; dark complexion and 5' 11½" tall. On December 9, 1863 he was listed as a Private Sharpshooter and in 1864 as a Corporal.

Samuel's first marriage was to Susan Chappell and they were residing in Clay Township,

FAMILY OF SAMUEL HENRY MISER 6/3

Seated Front: Melissa Caroline Simpson (wife of Samuel), Samuel Henry Miser 6/3, Tennessee (Tennie) Miser 7/3, Standing: Dora Lucinda Miser 7/5, Commodore Vanderbilt Miser 7/6, Dallas S. Miser 7/4, Bernettie Agnes Ramsey (wife of Dallas Miser).

Izard County, Arkansas on September 13, 1870. Two children, Mary (ca. 1868) and Samuel (ca. 1869) were listed in the household. According to family records and statements, three children were born to this marriage.

CHILDREN:

7/1 Mollie Miser

5/10 James Miser, born 1844; died 1863, Nashville, Tennessee. (Master Roll, Co. G., 3rd Reg., East Tenn. Inf.

It has been stated that John 4/8 died in Benton County, Arkansas at the age of 105 after being gored by a bull while he was doing his chores in the barnyard. We have not, however, been able to find records to substantiate this claim. Census records and title to land ownership indicate John was in Bradley County, Tennessee just prior to 1850. No further records have been found on John 4/8, but a son, John L. Miser, is recorded in the Benton County, Arkansas 1860 Census.

Sarah Jane died October 20, 1892. Burial was in the Butcher Cemetery near Eldridge, Missouri. The eldest daughter, Mary E. Miser, died April 23, 1890 at the age of 23. She was buried in the Butcher Cemetery. A visit to the cemetery in the spring of 1971, revealed a sadly neglected little plot, located in a farmer's field on a dead end road. Only five of the twenty five or so graves have grave markers. Fieldstones marked other graves, but there was no way to tell who rests there. Blackjack sprouts grew up in the little cemetery which was fenced to keep out livestock. Crow's foot violets grew in profusion among the graves. On Mary E. Miser's stone was the following: "Mary E. Miser, daughter of Michael and Sarah Miser, born April 9, 1867, died April 23, 1890 on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Farewell parents and children dear, I am not dead, but sleeping here." Michael is said to be buried there also, but no stone marked his resting place.

Michael Miser 7/3 married (2) Samantha Alexander Taylor, daughter of Minus Alexander and a widow with several children. Michael died about 1901 according to his only living son. Samantha married Joseph Phillips September 21, 1904 and later a Mr. Cook. She died in 1937 and is buried in the Hufft Cemetery as Samantha Cook. Michael and Samantha had two children:

MAMIE GILBERTSON 9/3, daughter of Theodocia Martin 8/3 and George Gilbertson, was born February 19, 1891 in Laclede County, Missouri. On September 24, 1913 she married Harry Norman, son of Jasper Norman. He was born May 1, 1889 and died October 4, 1949. Burial was in the Lebanon City Cemetery.

Harry was a well known stockman and farmer. He enjoyed fox hunting but only "Ozark Style." In this sport the hounds are turned loose to run while their owners gather round a campfire, drink coffee, swap stories and listen to the music of their favorite hound. No longer do they ride horseback to the hunt but use modern campers which they ride in comfort. In the event the dogs do not come back to where they were turned loose, their masters start hunting for the dogs, rather than the fox. If anyone should be so unwise to kill the fox, he would be in for trouble.

NANCY M. MIZER 7/5, daughter of Hartwell Mizer 6/1 (Michael Mizer, Sr. 5/1, John Mizer 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Betsy Swafford, was born ca. 1848 in Laclede County, Missouri. She married James Rollins on November 9, 1866. Nancy died sometime after March 1867.

CHILDREN:

8/1 Mary Ellen Rollins

GEORGE WASHINGTON MIZER 7/7, son of Hartwell Mizer 6/1 (Michael Mizer Sr. 5/1, John Mizer 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1), and Mary Ann Prater, was born October 1, 1851 in Laclede County, Missouri. He was murdered from ambush on June 9, 1879. On Saturday, June 7, he had taken a load of ties to Lebanon to sell to the Frisco railroad. The trip took all day. On his return home, he found two men stealing corn from his crib and recognized them as men that he knew had committed a murder, though he had never mentioned it. He told them that if he ever caught them on his property again, he "would put them where they wouldn't hurt anyone again." They threatened him. On Monday morning, as he and his younger brother were plowing corn in a bottom near his home, he was shot. His nephew was accused of the murder, and was tried and acquitted. Another man confessed on his deathbed to the slaying.

George Washington Mizer 7/7 was buried in the family cemetery on the farm. It is now a part of a farm lying north of Lebanon, Missouri. It lies in a wooded area and is fenced but woefully neglected. The wooden gate burned in a timber fire and the farm goats roam among the graves, perhaps a good thing, as they keep down the blackjack sprouts that grow there. The grave lies in a plot with a concrete curb around it. There are five other graves in the plot, but only the grave of George Washington Mizer 7/7 has a gravestone. The other graves are marked only with field stones and no one seems to know who lies buried there. There are other Mizer family graves in the cemetery, including that of George's older sister Polly Ann Mizer 7/1 and her husband John Smith.

George W. Mizer 7/7 married Ann Clinkenbeard, daughter of James Matthew Clinkenbeard and Sarah Ann Elder. Ann was a great grand-daughter of the famous Colonel Miles Standish Vernon and was born August 30, 1852, Laclede County, Missouri. George and Ann were married ca. 1871 in Laclede County, Missouri. After George's death, Ann made soap which she sold to neighbors and also sold butter and eggs in Lebanon to earn a little money for sugar, coffee, salt and the few other articles that the family needed. They had their own grain for flour and meal. They raised fresh vegetables and had fruit to can and to dry. Ann also served the community as a midwife. The women whom she helped would give her some small compensation, a length of cloth for a dress, or some small thing for the children. They had a difficult time.

ISAAC MIZER 6/2, son of Michael Mizer, Sr. 5/1 (John Mizer 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Betsy Swafford, was born in Tennessee ca. 1819 according to the Bradley County Tennessee census. His widow Nancy Mizer appears in the 1850 Bradley County Tennessee census (24th subdivision, East Tennessee) with five children.

John W. Mizer 8/10 of Chelsea, Oklahoma, son of Jonathan L. Mizer 7/2, grandson of Benjamin A. Mizer 6/3, a brother of Isaac Mizer 6/2, stated that he remembered his father telling him of a kin living near Joplin, Missouri. He states further that a female member of that family and her infant child are buried at Chelsea, Oklahoma in the same cemetery wherein his father Jonathan L. Mizer 7/2 and his second wife Susan L. McIntosh are buried.

The "kin" has been identified as James Monroe Mizer 7/4, son of Isaac Mizer 6/2 and Nancy Cunningham; the woman as Mary Elen Mizer 8/3, the daughter of James Monroe Mizer 7/4.

The first wife of Isaac Mizer 6/2 has not been identified. On January 20, 1838 he married Nancy Cunningham, according to McMinn County marriage records. Isaac died prior to 1850, since in the 1850 census Nancy Mizer was listed as the head of the household.

Ruth Mizer 9/2, granddaughter of James Monroe Mizer 7/4, recalls that James had a half-brother living in Chelsea, Oklahoma. This half-brother was William Mizer 7/1, born ca. 1836, who is shown in the household of Nancy Mizer in the 1850 Bradley County Census.

BENJAMIN A. MIZER 6/3, son of Michael Mizer Sr. 5/1 (John Mizer 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Betsy Swafford was born June 6, 1820.

An article by the Missouri State Historical Society states that ten children were born to Michael Mizer, Sr. 5/1 and Betsy Swafford, nine have been identified. The birth date of Benjamin A. Mizer 6/3 fits between the birth date of his next older brother Isaac Mizer 6/2 and his younger sister Nancy A. Mizer 6/4. Also, as previously stated, Benjamin's grandson John W. Mizer 8/10 of Chelsea, Oklahoma, recalls his father Jonathan L. Mizer 7/2 talking about a kin living near Joplin, Missouri and that a female member and infant child of that family were buried at Chelsea, Oklahoma. The "kin" has been identified as James Monroe Mizer 7/4, son of Isaac Mizer 6/2 and the woman as Mary Elen Mizer 8/3, daughter of James Monroe Mizer 7/4.

Benjamin A. Mizer 6/3 married Nancy Hatfield. She was born June 14, 1822. It is not known as to when they died or their place of burial. We have only the statement of John W. Mizer 8/10 that his father Jonathan L. Mizer 7/2 sold Benjamin's land holdings in Bradley County, Tennessee between 1877 and 1883. Fortunately from family Bible records we were able to identify the descendants of Benjamin A. Mizer 6/3 and Nancy Hatfield.

MICHAEL MIZER, JR. 6/6, son of Michael Mizer, Sr. 5/1 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Betsy Swafford, was born ca. 1826 in Tennessee. He married Lucinda C. _____ ca. 1845. She was born ca. 1830/31 in Tennessee. They came to Missouri about 1844. They had seven children. Lucinda was living at the time of the census of Laclede County, taken June 11, 1860, but apparently died before November 15, 1860 when four of the children were legally placed in the care of Michael's sister, Mary Ann (Polly) Miser 6/8 and her husband John Smith. By September 20, 1864 Michael 6/6 had died, as George Layman was appointed by the Probate Court as guardian of five of the children and letters of administration of the estate of Michael Mizer, deceased, were granted to Mr. Layman. The children of Michael Mizer 6/6 and Lucinda C. _____ were:

CHILDREN:

7/1 Phoebia Mizer, born ca. 1846.
 7/2 Nancy Jane Mizer, born ca. 1848.
 7/3 George Taylor Mizer, born ca. Feb. 1849.
 7/4 Martha A. Mizer, born ca. 1852.
 7/5 John H. Mizer, born ca. 1854.
 7/6 Robert H. Mizer, born ca. 1856.
 7/7 Mary C. Mizer, born ca. 1859.

Births taken from census records.

The children placed in the care of John and Polly Mizer Smith in 1860 were Martha A., John H., Robert H. and Mary C. Mizer. On September 20, 1864 the Probate Court ordered that George Layman be appointed guardian of George T. Mizer, Martha A. Mizer, John H. Mizer, Robert H. Mizer and Mary C. Mizer, minor heirs of Michael Mizer, deceased and letters of administration were granted to Mr. Layman in this same term of court.

On July 14, 1870 it was ordered that George Layman, former guardian of Robert Mizer, minor heir of Michael Mizer, deceased, pay to William A. Alexander, guardian and curator of said Robert Mizer the sum of $_____ as his distributive share of the personal estate of Michael Mizer and also the sum of $_____ be paid to Martha A. Alexander, her distributive share of the estate. Martha A. Mizer had married William A. Alexander, son of Minus Alexander. On April 12, 1875 it was ordered by the court that William A. Alexander be and was thereby appointed Guardian of the person and estate of Robert H. Mizer, minor heir of Michael Mizer deceased and that he enter into bond of $300 as such guardian and curator.

Not much else is known of these children. Phoebia Mizer 7/1 married Michael T. Lowry 7/2 on January 1, 1871. He was the son of Polly Ann Mizer 6/8 and John B. Lowry. Phoebia had two children by Michael Lowry. She and the children died of a fever when she was quite young. Burial was in the Lowry Cemetery.

In the 1870 census of Laclede County, Mary C. Mizer 7/7 is found with the family of George Layman. Martha A. Mizer 7/4 is married to William A. Alexander and her brothers George T. Mizer 7/3 and Robert H. Mizer 7/6 are living in the Alexander home. John H. Mizer 7/5 is with the family of John L. Roberts. These sons of Michael Mizer 6/6 and Lucinda C. _____ were earning their living by working on farms. Robert H. Mizer 7/6 married Bertha Caffey.

The family lived in the Auglaize Township, but little else is known of them. Dates of death and place of burial are unknown at present.

BUREL MIZAR 6/7, son of Michael Mizer Sr. 5/1 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Betsy Swafford, was born June 3, 1829 in Meigs County, Tennessee; died of cancer January 18, 1908, Wymore, Nebraska. He married Veleria McCamus who was born June 18, 1827 in Illinois. She died April 25, 1904 in Rulo, Nebraska and is buried in Olive Branch Cemetery, White Cloud, Kansas.

After their marriage, Burel and Veleria lived in Iowa for about a year and then moved to Missouri. They lived in Gentry County, Missouri, 1882-1889. About 1893 Burel went

WILLIAM HARRISON MIZER 6/15, son of Michael Mizer, Sr. 5/1 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Nancy Hale, was born in Meigs County, Tennessee, February 13, 1843. He went to Laclede County, Missouri with his parents about 1844. At the age of 20 he enlisted in the 14th Reg. M.S.M. He was mustered in, January 24, 1862 at Buffalo, Dallas County, Missouri, under the command of Captain Worley. On December 3, 1862 he was transferred to the 4th Reg. Cav. M.S.M., Co. L and served to the end of the war.

William married Mary E. Clinkenbeard on October 7, 1866. She was born October 15, 1849 near Brush Creek, Laclede County, Missouri. Her parents were James (Matt) Clinkenbeard and Sarah A. Elder. The family home was on farmland in the High Prairie area and is still owned by a grandson, Raymond Parsons 8/1. William was a man of integrity and honor, taking great pride in his family. Mary was a Confederate sympathizer whereas William had been in the Union Army. Many were the arguments that usually ended in laughter as Bill would say "Now, Puss Clink", his favorite nickname for his beloved wife.

William died May 8, 1922 at Lebanon, Missouri and was buried in Bolles cemetery. Mary died September 23, 1930 and was buried beside her husband.

The history of the William H. Mizer 6/15 family would not be complete without mention of the ancestry of William's wife, Mary. Mary's father James (Matt) Clinkenbeard was born in Tennessee in 1830. They were married in Tennessee and moved to Missouri. About the beginning of the Civil War, the Clinkenbeard family moved to Marion County, Arkansas. Matt enlisted in the 29th Cavalry, Co. B., Confederate Army at Clarksville, Texas on July 20, 1862. He later transferred to Elliott's Battalion, Mo. Cavalry, Marmaduke's Div. on January 3, 1863. While on a visit with his homefolks on March 23, 1863, he was killed from ambush by bushwhackers who also burned the family residence. Matt's daughters, Mary E., age 14, and Ann, age 12, dug his grave and buried him. Homeless, Matt's wife and two daughters started the long journey by foot back to relatives in Laclede County, Missouri.

Matt's wife Sarah was the daughter of Polly Ann Vernon and John Moore Elder and a granddaughter of Colonel Miles Standish Vernon and Ann Catlett Atchley. Col. Vernon was born in Virginia, served in the War of 1812 and was an escort to a party of Cherokee Indians on the Trail of Tears when the Indians were moved from North Carolina to Oklahoma Territory. Returning with his family to Missouri, he settled in Goodwin Hollow. His first wife died and he married her sister Sarah Atchley Wyatt Vernon, a widow and Union sympathizer. During the Civil War, Col. Vernon took his slaves and all but the youngest of his seven sons South where he enlisted in the Confederate Army. He returned to his family in Missouri following the War. He later moved to Rolla, Missouri where he died in 1866. ELDER JOHN MIZER 7/1, son of William H. Mizer 6/15 (Michael Mizer, Sr. 5/1, John Mizer 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Mary E. Clinkenbeard, was born September 7, 1867 in Laclede County, Missouri and died June 29, 1927 in St. Louis, Missouri. He married Etta Sittler about 1887.

Clinkenbeard, was born November 3, 1870 in Laclede County, Missouri. He married Anna Dickinson on November 4, 1893, who was the daughter of William and Jane Dickinson. Anna was born August 1, 1870 near Gothenburg, Dawson County, Nebraska.

William L. Mizer was a farmer and dairyman operating 200 acres in the Bolles-High Prairie area of Laclede County, Missouri. Part of the acreage was once owned by Reuben T. Bolles, father of Robert C. Bolles who first married Angeline Mizer 6/11 and second Lucinda Mizer Fry 6/13. The mid-part of the farm was owned by William and Sarah Charlton. Another parcel of 40 acres was once owned by William Dickinson, father of Anna Dickinson who married William L. Mizer 7/3.

About 1894 William and Anna built a two room house in which they started housekeeping. Through the years the house was enlarged to accommodate a growing family. The house was bias boxed with native lumber, some of the boards as wide as 24 inches. About 1920 they moved near the west edge of Lebanon where he and his son Albert Mizer 8/4 operated a dairy and delivered bottled milk to customers, using first a horse and buggy; later a Model T. Ford touring car.

William was past 80 years of age when he retired. Anna died September 6, 1954 and William died April 7, 1955. Burial was in the Bolles Cemetery, Lebanon, Missouri.

ALBERT CHARLES MIZER 8/4, son of William L. Mizer 7/3 and Anna Dickinson, was born October 10, 1902 in Laclede County, Missouri. On June 28, 1925 he married Kathryn Olivia Ingersoll. Kathryn is the daughter of George P. Ingersoll (1874-1944) and Milley A. Fuls (1879-1909). Kathryn traces her maternal line to Christopher Gist II, an aide to Gen. George Washington and a great grandson of Sir Oliver Cromwell.

In February 1926, Albert and Kathryn moved to the Charleton house on the William L. Mizer 7/3 farm and here their first child was born on June 26, 1926. The child died two days later. In November the tenants moved out of the main house and Albert and Kathryn moved into the old homestead. They lived there until the house was destroyed by fire May 22, 1969. A mobile home was then moved onto the site.

Albert 8/4 has been prominent in most M. F. A. organizations and a frequent delegate to district and state meetings. He and Kathryn were instrumental in organizing the Joel E. Barber C-5 Consolidated School District in 1967 and helped with the building and furnishing

PHEBE MISER I 5/2

PHEBE MISER I 5/2, daughter of John Mizer 4/8 (Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Elizabeth Hale was born April 27, 1800 in Blount County, Tennessee. She attended a community subscription school and being an excellent student, was asked to teach in the Fall of 1817. Here she met and married _____ Brown.

CHILDREN:

6/1 John H. Brown, born Nov. 14, 1818; died Nov. 22, 1837; no record of marriage.

Phebe married John Buttram in Bledsoe County, Tennessee in 1821. He was born June 1, 1803 in Rowan County, North Carolina, son of Levi Butram (born 1777 in Rowan County, North Carolina) and Elizabeth "Eliza" Bedwell (born ca. 1779 in Rowan County, North Carolina). John Buttram's grandparents were William and Margaret Buttram. It is believed that William Buttram was born in Pennsylvania ca. 1735 and married Margaret prior to their leaving Lancaster County, Pennsylvania.

Quoting in part from his obituary published in the "Southwestern Christian Advocate", Nashville, Tennessee, Saturday, September 11, 1841, "John Buttram in the year 1823 professed religion and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church; and on the 5th of October 1830 was licensed to exhort on Sequachy Circuit (Bledsoe County, Tennessee). He removed to Rhea County, Tennessee (now Meigs), February 15, 1831; and on the 25th of July, 1836, was licensed to preach by the quarterly conference for Sweet-water Circuit, Holston conference. As a preacher he was generally respected.

"He had, for some years previous to his death, manifested symptoms of a chronic illness. "I frequently visited him, in the time of his affliction, and every time heard him say something relative to his trust in God, and his prospects of a happy immortality. I took leave of him and he died May 24, 1841." Written by James Moore.

It is assumed that Phebe Miser Buttram kept her children together on a tract of land on the East side of Sewah (now Sewee) Creek, Meigs County Tennessee near land owned by Rev. James Moore, close friend and co-worker of John Buttram. A granddaughter of Phebe Miser Buttram 5/2, Phebe Buttram Pitts of Pea Ridge, Arkansas gives us some insight as to the early years of her father and brothers:

"John and Phebe Miser Buttram's children were young when their parents died (Phebe died August 16, 1844). Phebe Buttram 6/5 was sixteen years old in 1844 and with the assistance of her brother George W. 6/3 and the beloved and faithful Granny Nickels, reared the younger children to adulthood. Elijah 6/7 was told by his sister Phebe 6/5 to run an errand for her. Since he had a stone bruise on his heel, he felt he was unable to go. Waiting a little while, she mentioned sending him to one of the neighbors. "Lige" jumped up as fast as he could, cracked his heels together and was ready to go. Phebe picked up a switch and then sent him on the first errand she had requested."

"Phebe 6/5 sent "Lige" in early winter to round up the sheep and bring them nearer the barn. Elijah was so cold and tired that he sat down on a stump to rest. Everytime he dozed off an old ram would butt and awaken him, probably saving "Lige's" life.

CHILDREN:

- 6/2 Mary M. Buttram, born July 27, 1822; died Nov. 8, 1843; no record of marriage.
- 6/3 George Washington Buttram, born April 1, 1824; died April 27, 1847; no record of marriage.

- 6/9 Francis A. Buttram, born Sept. 23, 1836, died Oct. 1, 1856; no record of marriage.
- 6/10 William Dotry Buttram

PHEBE BUTTRAM II 6/5, daughter of Phebe Miser 5/2 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and John Buttram, was born August 20, 1828 in Bledsoe County, Tennessee. She married Joseph G. Roister who died April 4, 1853. Phebe died August 13, 1856.

Following the death of her parents, she and George W. Buttram 6/3 had the responsibility of caring for the younger children. By October 1848, George W. 6/3 and Melissa 6/6 died and she took the four younger brothers in with her family.

CHILDREN:

- 7/1 John H. Roister, born March 30, 1848; died Aug. 25, 1895; never married.

ELIJAH HENEGER BUTTRAM 6/7 and his wife NANCY ELIZABETH MISER

ELIJAH HENEGER BUTTRAM 6/7, son of Phebe Miser 5/2 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4 Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johann Meisser 1/1) and John Buttram, was born October 13, 1832 in Rhea (now Meigs) County, Tennessee. With the passing of his father when Elijah was not quite 9 years of age, and his mother's death when he was nearly 12 years old, his period of education was shortened somewhat. However, Elijah's father provided his family with a small library and the children learned to study in early life.

In 1851, a wagon caravan began in Tennessee and took a number of pioneer families to Benton County, Arkansas. Elijah H. Buttram went with his brothers and with the Oakes, Wrights, Misers, Shorts, Blevins and Coffelt's. A very memorable lady, Mary Nubal Nicels (Nickels) accompanied the four young Buttram sons to Arkansas. She was affectionately known as "Granny Nickels." In the Buttram Bible records it states Mary Nubal Nicels (Nickels) was born October 14, 1782, died February 6, 1866. There is no proof as to her relation to the Buttrams or Misers.

On August 4, 1853 Elijah married Nancy Elizabeth Miser 6/5, daughter of George W. Miser I 5/4 and Polly Swafford who went to Benton County, Arkansas with their family in 1838 from Bledsoe County, Tennessee. Elijah's mother, Phebe Miser 5/2, was an older sister of George W. Miser I 5/4.

Elijah H. Buttram was active in the Methodist Episcopal South Church which was located on his Uncle George W. Miser's farm. Years later a new structure was relocated on the same farm. It was named in honor of Elijah H. Buttram.

Quoting from "The Pea Ridge Graphic", August 21, 1969 issue: "Elijah H. Buttram realized the great need for a building large enough for church services and also a public school.

"Elijah summoned help from his younger brothers, Mike and Dotry, for the construction of the original Buttram's Chapel building in 1860. Church trustees, C. W. Rice, John Lee, John Foster, Jacob Hileman, and friends assisted in the construction.

ELIJAH HENEGER BUTTRAM, JR. 7/9

"It was Elijah's wish to follow in the footsteps of his circuit Methodist minister father and had started preaching prior to 1860. On August 16, 1872 he was recommended, examined and formally licensed to preach the Gospel and on November 2, 1874 was elected to Deacon's Orders by the Arkansas Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South at Ft. Smith, Arkansas. Local Deacon's Orders were conferred on Elijah July 27, 1884 at Buttram's Chapel."

The Civil War in the Pea Ridge community was very difficult for the residents. "Bushwhackers" who invaded north central Arkansas, were bands of deserters from both the Union and Confederate armies that escaped to the hills following the Battle of Pea Ridge. They took advantage of the people who were unable to protect themselves.

Elijah remained with his family during the War. As a minister he comforted the sick, assisted widows and their families and served as a Captain of the Home Guard. Bushwhackers slipped into the farm of two widowed sisters and stole their horses. Elijah and a group of men captured one thief and attempted to get him to tell where the horses were hidden. He refused to tell and Elijah said "Get the rope and we'll string him up." They put the rope around the bushwhacker's neck and began to pull him up. Elijah said "Let him down boys, give him another chance." Again the thief remained silent so the order was again given to "Pull him up." Still obtaining no confession "Lige" told the bushwhacker, "If we pull you up again your feet will never again touch the ground." Realizing the sternness of Elijah's tone, the thief confessed and the horses were returned to the widow.

"Lige" Buttram was a Circuit riding Methodist Minister like his father. For many years he and Nancy kept a ledger in which they recorded the churches "Lige" founded with a list of names of the charter members of each church. The original Buttram Chapel Building built in 1860 was torn down in ca. 1891 and a second Chapel constructed near the site of the original building. The second Chapel was a tall white frame one-story typical rural church structure. Although the Methodist Church at Buttram's Chapel was dissolved in 1912, funerals and special services were held there until 1942 when a tornado destroyed the Chapel.

Quoting from "The History of Buttram Chapel" in the "Pea Ridge Arkansas Graphic," August 21, 1969, "Elijah had to discontinue preaching and confine his waning years to his little home in Pea Ridge; however, his entire thoughts and conversation were for the advancement of the Methodist Church. He once remarked, "I once had a good farm and plenty of stock. I gave it all to the Lord, and if I had my life to live over, I would do the same again.

"As he stood in the evening shadows of his 83rd year, the summons came. All that loving hands could do could not retain the noble and sublime soul in its tabernacle of clay. On September 26, 1916, without a struggle, the life of one of earth's most noble men passed away. The funeral service was held at Buttram's Chapel, after which his remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at a spot where the altar of the first church once stood."

Nancy Miser Buttram died of pneumonia on March 3, 1921, lacking four months of being 89 years old. She was buried beside Elijah at Buttram's Chapel.

Bishop farmed in Benton County, Arkansas but later was in the lumber business near Raymond, Washington. In 1930 he returned to Miami, Oklahoma, and in 1931 he wrote the following to his sister, Phebe A. Buttram Webb Price 7/2: "This is the hardest time in all the time I have lived. Both city and county jails are full of bootleggers and other vagrants. All kinds of business is on the drag. Most of the farmers are broke and just holding by their eyebrows."

Bishop died February 21, 1936 and Mary died March 23, 1946. Both are buried at Miami, Oklahoma.

JOHN MICHAEL BUTTRAM 7/6 and his wife NANCY ELLEN SMITH.

JOHN MICHAEL (MIKE) BUTTRAM 7/6, son of Elijah H. Buttram 6/7 (Phebe Miser 5/2, John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Nancy E. Miser 6/5, was born near Pea Ridge, Arkansas on November 26, 1861. On January 28, 1883 he married Nancy Ellen Smith, born September 4, 1866. She was the daughter of William Henry Smith (1836-1870), a Union soldier in the Civil War, and Nancy Matilda Myres (1836-1901). Nancy Ellen was the granddaughter of Peter Myres (born 1801 in Kentucky) and Temperance Myres (born 1819 in Indiana).

Following their marriage, Mike and Ellen lived in a double log cabin in the Pea Ridge Community but in the Spring of 1893, Mike took his family to Indian Territory (now N. E. Oklahoma) where part of the time the family lived in a tent while Mike worked tending sheep.

Late in the Fall they returned to the Little Missouri Hollow Community near Jane, Missouri.

In subsequent years the J. M. Buttram family lived in Bear Hollow, Caverna, Missouri; Locust Grove, McDonald County, Missouri; and Blaine County, Idaho. Mike and Ellen later returned to Missouri and spent their remaining years in McDonald County, Missouri. Ellen died December 3, 1934 and Mike died November 20, 1950. Both are buried in the Buttram Chapel Cemetery at Pea Ridge, Arkansas.

Space does not permit repeating the numerous humorous stories concerning John Michael Buttram. However, Mike's fall into a barrel of molasses as a child cannot be omitted. When his mother and "Granny" Nickels pulled him out, Nancy realized that the contents of the barrel could not be replaced and she asked "Granny" what to do. "Granny" Nickels said very quietly, "Well, the barrel of molasses is all right to use, Nancy; just what is stuck to little Mike is all you need to throw away."

SARAH E. MISER III 6/12

Michael built a log house in the Pea Ridge community that contained but one large room with a loft and a lean-to-kitchen. In 1873 they used Sarah's inheritance to build a frame house. Subsequently he purchased additional land from his brother-in-law, Jordan S. Miser 6/14, and cousin, John H. Miser 6/4, until his combined holdings totaled 220 acres.

Phebe Buttram Pitts 7/11 related "that Father "Mike" did not send his children to Sunday School and Church—he TOOK us to church. Brother James, in his early teens, decided one Sunday he was too big to go along with the family to Church. Father observed Jim's hesitancy and told him to black his shoes and get ready to leave for church. Jim said, "I have a hole in my shoe!" Father replied, "Well, black your sock!" Jim said, "I have a hole in my sock too!" Father said rather emphatically, "Black your toe and come on!"

Michael was killed by a falling tree November 11, 1897. Sarah died January 30, 1922. All her life was spent within the sound of the Church bell of Buttrams Chapel.

Miser, III 6/12, was born December 31, 1886 near Pea Ridge, Arkansas. On May 31, 1909 she married Charles "Choc" Calvin Pitts, born June 16, 1885, the son of Robert Pitts and Oma Ann Cox. Charles was a farmer and stockman. He died September 6, 1956 and was buried in the Buttram's Chapel Cemetery.

A biography written by her granddaughter Mary Kathryn Pitts 9/3 best describes this wonderful woman.

"Grandmother's brown hair (with very little gray in it) has never been cut. She wears it twisted and piled on top of her head which gives it the appearance of being short. She's independent, stubborn, and full of stories of her past. I listened for hours as she wove tales of her family. There were nine children—eight boys and one girl—one of the boys was your father, Charles F., a sleepwalker; he'd make off down that road and end up all the way to brother Jim Buttram's farm. And he wasn't young then—why he was at least 15 years old.

We used to pin his sheets tight to the bed to keep him from wandering off.' I heard all about the aunts and uncles—the whole story from covered wagons to ancient tintypes; it came to life in her quiet recollections. For the first time, Dad was a country-barefoot boy, working on a small farm that has since been sold. We visited all the graveyards around Pea Ridge. Like old-west graveyards, they told us stories, or more accurately, they filled me with pictures of those whose lives Grandma had recounted. Old stone markers, the kind that stick up and tell you stories and dates, not flat marble name placards with no story to tell. The warmth in these stories left me with a picture of more than just a graveyard. Getting to know Grandma, well, was like visiting with the past which really was viewing myself in a kind of on-going history."

Rice, born September 27, 1826; died December 6, 1910.

Timothy Rice was about six years of age when the Battle of Pea Ridge was fought in March 1862. He recalled that the residents of the area had to find hiding places in double-quick time. The cellar of their home provided shelter for 25 children and some adults. "A doorkeeper was necessary only to keep the children from running in and out to see what was going on. You have no idea the number of folks you can get in a small cellar."

Nancy died February 13, 1936 and was buried at Buttram's Chapel Cemetery. Timothy, a Justice of the Peace for many years, died December 7, 1943 and was buried alongside his wife.

JOHN L. MISER 5/3, son of John Miser 4/8 (Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Elizabeth Hale, was born in Blount County, Tennessee. ca. 1805. He married Polly Hale. According to the United States census records, he lived in: Bledsoe County, Tennessee in 1830; Meigs County, Tennessee in 1840; Bradley County, Tennessee in 1850; and Benton County, Arkansas in 1860.

According to Wilson L. Miser 7/4, John L. Miser 5/3 lived in a log house south and east of the big Miser Spring near the home of his brother George W. Miser 5/4. The land on which he lived belonged to George and was deeded later to the first Methodist Church. However, it was not part of the land that was given later to Buttram's Chapel.

The Confederate soldiers raided the home of John L. Miser and while making off with a large barrel of molasses, broke the barrel thus forming a large puddle. The soldiers came back for several days to dip up the sorghum. Tradition has it that the soldiers burned the log house while John was away.

John L. Miser 5/3 died ca. 1865 and was buried near the location of the old log house. Dr. Wilson L. Miser 7/4 had the grave of his uncle moved to the Buttram's Chapel Cemetery and a monument erected. It reads "John L. Miser, 1805 E. Tennessee—About 1865—wife, Polly Hale"

He married Rebecca E. Burrows 7/4 July 11, 1867 at Buttram Chapel, Benton County, Arkansas. Rebecca was born December 7, 1849; the daughter of Josiah Henninger Burrows and Elizabeth Miser 6/2.

Rebecca was only nine years old when her mother died. She was then cared for by her stepmother, Betty Ann Caveness.

Following their marriage they moved to a farm on Little Sugar Creek, McDonald County, Missouri. Later he moved to near Lebanon, Missouri. After selling the farm, they again moved to Newton County, Missouri in 1872 where they purchased 80 acres of land near the Indian territory line. Here he helped organize and get allotments for the Quapaw Tribe. John 6/9 made the race for land in Oklahoma's Cherokee Strip in 1891 but decided not to settle there. John died in 1894 in Seneca, Missouri. Rebecca died July 4, 1930 in Pitcher, Oklahoma.

GEORGE WASHINGTON MISER I 5/4

GEORGE WASHINGTON MISER I 5/4, son of John Miser 4/8 (Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Elizabeth Hale, was born January 21, 1807 in Blount County Tennessee.

A copy of a letter written by 5/4 George Miser's son, G. W. Miser III 6/18, states that George W. Miser 5/4 came to Arkansas in 1826. It is believed that he came to look over land for future settlement. Family Bible and handwritten records by G. W. Miser III 6/18 reveal that G. W. Miser I 5/4 and Polly Swafford were married in Tennessee on October 18, 1826. Polly was born November 25, 1805 in Tennessee. Nine of their eleven children were born in Tennessee.

Early in 1838, George Washington Miser I and wife, Polly S. Miser, began to make arrangements to move their family from their home in Sequatchie Valley, Bledsoe County, Tennessee to Arkansas. The date of the Miser family's move to Arkansas in 1838 is supported by the census records showing the birth of the last child in Tennessee, Michael 6/9, and the birth of the first child in Arkansas, Elijah 6/10, as well as by the land records of George W. Miser I 5/4 in Benton County, Arkansas. George W. Miser I 5/4 and family were listed in Benton County 1840 census. Polly Swafford Miser left an estate in Tennessee according to Deed Books in the Benton County, Arkansas Courthouse. It is assumed that this estate was property she inherited from her parents in Tennessee.

George W. and Polly Miser were attracted to the Pea Ridge area not so much by the beauty of the countryside, or the fertility of the soil, but by springs which furnished an abundance of pure water. They made their home in the Pea Ridge neighborhood near the fields which were battlegrounds 25 years later in the Civil War. The beautiful spring, which was a short distance from the Miser log homestead, is still a lovely spring with cold sparkling clear water flowing in abundance from a cave-like entrance. The name Pea Ridge came from a strip of territory lying between Big and Little Sugar Creeks where there was a profusion of wild peas growing in 1838. The "ridge" was about eight miles wide and about twenty-five miles long.

Records reveal that 15 families settled in and around Pea Ridge. The first settlers were the Hardy, Hammock, Harris, Harston, Foster, Miser, Lasater, Morrison, Patterson, Pickens, Price, Patton, Walker, Webb, and Wood families. Of the fifteen families, descendants of eight of the families intermarried with members of the Miser family; namely the Harris, Foster, Lasater, Patterson, Pickens, Price, Walker, and Webb families.

George W. Miser I 5/4 was anxious to help with the establishment of a church and school for his family as well as those of the community as soon as he was settled in his new Pea Ridge home. From the "Rogers Daily News," Rogers Arkansas July 1, 1950—Sec. N.—Pg. 4:

"Among the early settlers on Pea Ridge, there was a fair proportion of Methodists. The first meeting place of Methodists on Pea Ridge was at a camp meeting ground on what is now known as the George W. Miser farm. No records exist of this early effort toward establishment of the church but the time was somewhat around 1840. The first church building erected on the camp meeting site was destroyed during the Civil War. Around 1855, another Methodist church was organized at Buttram's Chapel located a mile south and a half-mile east of the present town of Pea Ridge."

Phoebe Buttram Pitts 7/11 (born 1886), a granddaughter of G. W. Miser I 5/4, lives in Pea Ridge and relates that the camp meeting ground was known as the Segal Camp and School. Her mother, Sarah Miser Buttram 6/12, attended church and school there. It is believed that the Campground was in use in 1839. The location was about ½ mile south of the home of George W. Miser I. An arrangement was made by George W. Miser for a subscription school to be held during the week and church services on weekends. His children attended the school, and the entire family was present for all the church services.

Tragedy struck the G. W. Miser home in the fall of 1842 when his beloved wife, Polly Swafford Miser, became ill and died on November 23, 1842. She was buried in the Miser homestead cemetery which was a short distance from their home. It is believed that her grave was the first in the cemetery. Daughters, Elizabeth 6/2—then 14 years old, and Nancy 6/5—10 years old, took over the role of their late mother and helped rear the younger children.

George W. Miser I 5/4 met Jane Potter in Benton County, Arkansas and was married September 9, 1845. She was born July 4, 1819 in South Carolina. Descendants state that Jane Potter Miser was very much loved by her stepchildren as well as by her own.

George W. Miser I 5/4 was a very colorful, intelligent and ambitious pioneer leader in the Pea Ridge, Arkansas area. His original land patents totaled 1460 acres on the homestead property. The 1860 census reported a valuation of $10,000 in real estate and $2000 in personal property.

It is important that one understands the duplication of names among the children of George W. Miser I, 5/4. Children of his first wife died and children born later to his second wife were named for them. Roman numerals are used to differentiate the duplications.

The biographies of George W. Miser I 5/4 and his wife Jane Potter would not be complete without mention of the hardships inflicted on the family during the Civil War. Phoebe Buttram Pitts 7/11 of Pea Ridge, Arkansas has related the following information about her Grandfather G. W. Miser I 5/4 which was told to her by her mother, Sarah Miser Buttram 6/12.

"Grandfather had been ill with a fever in the summer of 1861 and he had not regained his strength by early fall. He became very discouraged with his slow recovery as there was so much work to be done in the fall to prepare for the long cold winter season. Their pork meat supply had been exhausted for some time, and Grandfather was anxious to replenish the supply.

The family quickly made all the preliminary preparations for the large task of butchering the hogs and preserving the meat. By the time the hogs were dressed, the weather turned much warmer. An encampment of soldiers was in the Miser community and rumors were being circulated that the soldiers were taking food from some of the citizens. Grandfather George directed the family to place all of the meat in the large barrels of salt brine for preservation. There was the strong possibility that the meat would spoil. They waited the necessary time for the meat to remain in the brine, and then took out the side meat first to smoke. Because it was thinner, it had taken the salt much faster than the thick hams. As soon as the sides had been smoked, Grandfather dry salted them as an extra precautionary measure and hid them under the house where it was dry and cool. The hams and shoulders were removed from the salt brine and carried to the smoke house to prepare for the smoking process. There was a moldy smell, and Grandfather was afraid they could not use the meat. They went ahead and continued with the smoking anyway. The soldiers who were encamped in the community raided my Grandparent's smokehouse just a few days later and took the molded meat. Grandfather was so thankful that their good meat had been hidden from the thieves.

Grandfather George Washington Miser I 5/4 died on Christmas day in 1861 and was buried beside his wife, Polly, in the Miser Homestead Cemetery. Everything seemed so difficult without him during the stress and turmoil of the beginning of the Civil War. Grandmother was a very courageous lady and did the best she could to hold the family together. The older sons remained at home that winter, spring, and early summer of 1862 to help with the work."

Dr. Wilson Lee Miser 7/4 related the same story about the meat that Phebe Pitts remembered. However, he added the following information:

"The intruding soldiers did not become discouraged with the spoiled meat for they repeatedly returned and took all of Grandmother's stock. They did leave one animal for her—a bow-legged mule. The soldiers took the family feather beds, bed clothing and blankets—nothing was left but the straw bed ticks and the slats on the beds. Fortunately, the furniture wasn't taken. They took all the cloth they could find in Grandmother Jane's home. It was believed the soldiers took the cloth for uniforms and clothing."

Wilson L. Miser 7/4 has a receipt which was given his Grandmother Jane Miser by an Army Captain who took a heifer to butcher for food for the troops. It was intended that she receive money for the animal, but there was no place or arrangements made to redeem the receipts so she never was reimbursed by the Army. He states that, "The bow-legged mule, that was left as the lone animal on the 1460 acres of land belonging to Grandmother and her children, was used in many ways by many people. The soldiers drove the mule down the hill first and then returned to drive some of Grandmother's geese. The soldiers tied the heads of the geese together and put them over the back of the mule—they then drove the mule down the hill to their encampment. They would make several trips; and when the old mule was unloaded, he made his way back home as soon as he could. The soldiers dressed the geese for those in their Company. The old mule was used by the family for cultivating the vegetable gardens as well as any other work that they could persuade him to do. The Miser family members suffered no physical abuse by the soldiers for they were apparently friendly, but they stole about everything the family owned."

In 1889, the eight surviving children of George Washington Miser I 5/4 began to consider the future of the Miser Homestead Cemetery as there were no permanent gravestones for future identification of the graves. Field stones had been placed at each grave through the years, and the immediate family could identify each one, but they were fully aware it would be impossible for future generations to find the unmarked cemetery. The children decided to purchase a large monument in memory of their father which would mark his grave as well as identify the cemetery. The monument has some lovely inscriptions. In part, the wording is, "Erected in 1889 in memory of our Beloved Father—GEORGE W. MISER, A Native of East Tennessee, born January 21, 1807, died in Benton County, Arkansas, December 25, 1861—Also in memory of his family who are deceased."

George Washington Miser I and his first wife Polly Swafford Miser, were buried in the Miser Homestead Cemetery with six of their children and two children by G. W. Miser and his second wife, Jane Potter Miser. The number (1) on the right-hand side of the following list designates the child as being of the first family and number (2) for the second family.

Through the years, the fence around the Miser Homestead Cemetery had been torn down and had not been replaced in recent years. The Cemetery had become a cow pasture, and the cattle had rubbed against the tall monument, and knocked it over, thus parts of it had become disassembled. The monument was repeatedly put together again. In 1970, a meeting of some of the G. W. Miser I 5/4 descendants was held, and it was unanimously agreed to follow Dr. Wilson Lee Miser's suggestion that the grave of G. W. Miser I 5/4 and monument be moved from the unmarked Homestead Cemetery to the Buttram's Chapel Cemetery. Wilson gave two burial sites in his father Jordan S. Miser's lot in Buttram's Chapel Cemetery for the purpose of the removal. Some of the descendants of G. W. Miser's first wife, Polly Swafford Miser (1805-1842), decided it was the thing to do to move her grave also. The latter had been marked with the footstone of G. W. Miser's grave. A new monument was provided by Polly Miser's descendants, and her grave is beside that of G. W. Miser's.

The farmland of G. W. Miser I 5/4 where the original house stood, and the family burying plot to the rear of the house, is currently owned by the heirs of the late Eugene Howard Miser. This farm is one mile south of the Buttram's Chapel Cemetery and is on the east side of the road. The Buttram's Chapel Cemetery is a mile and one-half east of the Village of Pea Ridge, Arkansas, Benton County. The removal and new location of the G. W. Miser I 5/4 and Polly Swafford Miser graves are registered in Little Rock, Arkansas for future generations' information.

Jane Potter Miser, second wife of G. W. Miser I 5/4, was residing with her daughter, Susan Miser Perkins Requa 6/17 (1859-1938) at Neosho, Missouri at the time of her passing on February 8, 1907. She was buried at Buttram's Chapel Cemetery by the side of her little granddaughter, Minnie, who had requested this privilege of being buried by her Grandmother some twenty-two years previously.

HENRY CLAY MISER 6/1, son of George W. Miser I 5/4 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Polly Swafford, was born July 30, 1827 in Tennessee and moved with his parents to Pea Ridge, Arkansas when he was nearly eleven years old. He married Sarah Phelps Forsythe in 1847 in Benton County, Arkansas. She was born in 1831.

Henry Clay Miser 6/1 and Sarah Forsythe Miser left Pea Ridge with Sarah's brothers Ben and Robert Forsythe for California in 1847. They changed the spelling of their name to Miser and lived the remainder of their lives in California where they settled on lands in the Santa Rosa Valley, Sonoma County, California. Little did they realize the future value of the lands they purchased there.

Henry C. Miser 6/1 died December 19, 1877 and Sarah Forsythe Miser died January 4, 1928.

ELIZABETH "BETSY" MISER 6/2, daughter of George W. Miser I 5/4 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Polly Swafford, was born October 1, 1828 in Tennessee. Elizabeth moved with her parents to Benton County, Arkansas when she was nearly 10 years old and assisted in the rearing of the younger brothers and sisters until she married Josiah Henninger Burrows (Burris) ca. 1844. Elizabeth died November 6, 1858 at the age of 30 years. (Burrows was spelled as Burris in the legal papers).

1/1) and Josiah H. Burrows, was born December 7, 1849 at Pea Ridge, Arkansas. She was married to John Miser 6/9 on July 11, 1867 at Buttram's Chapel. The descendants of Rebeca E. Burrows 7/4 and John Miser 6/9 appeared earlier in this publication. AARON MISER, 6/3, son of G. W. Miser 1 5/4, (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Polly Swafford, was born February 4, 1830 in Tennessee and was a young lad of 8 years when his parents moved the family from Bledsoe County, Tennessee to Benton County, Arkansas. He married Martha (Sarah) Foster of the Pea Ridge area ca. 1853. Four children were named as heirs in 1873. Aaron died February 15, 1865. Later Martha Foster Miser married a Mr. Patrick, and they took her children to California.

JOHN HENRY MISER 6/4, son of G. W. Miser 1 5/4 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Polly Swafford, was born March 4, 1831 in Tennessee. Excerpts from the "Arkansas Gazette" of Little Rock, Arkansas on Friday July 15, 1910 provided us with the following information:

"John Henry Miser was one of the County's most notable citizens. He had always been a man of powerful physique and was known because of his strength and endurance. When Mr. Miser was a young man, he made several trips across the plains to the Pacific Coast. His prowess as a guide, and hunter made him a reputation along the entire frontier. He cast his lot with the Forty-niners in the California rush for gold and fared as well as the majority of his comrades."

John H. Miser 6/4 married Sarah H. Walker in 1859 near Pea Ridge, Arkansas. Sarah was born 1836 in Tennessee, the daughter of William Walker and Sarah Hicks who moved from Bedford County, Tennessee to Benton County, Arkansas when their daughter Sarah was young.

In the 1860 Benton County, Arkansas census, John Miser was married and had an infant son. The census reveals he submitted a $2500.00 valuation of real estate and $2500.00 in personal property. He was considered "well off" for a young married man in that day and time. On August 15, 1862, John H. Miser 6/4 enlisted himself as a Captain; his young brother, Elijah H. Miser 6/10, as 2nd Lieutenant; and their good friend William Frazer Patton of Pea Ridge as 1st Lieutenant in the Confederate Army at Bentonville, Arkansas for a period of three years. Civil War service records of all three men have been obtained from the National Archives of Washington, D.C. They served together in Company "F", Hindman's Div., King's Reg., 35th Arkansas Infantry. They were encamped in Little Rock, Arkansas quarters in December, 1862 when John H. and Elijah H. Miser received leave to go home to Pea Ridge. A notation for both men was made on the Company Muster Roll for October 31, 1862 to February 28, 1863, "Deserted January 1, 1863." Local historian, Alvin Seamster of Seamster's Civil War Museum, Garfield, Arkansas, was told by Captain William F. Patton that he was assigned as an officer under Captain John H. Miser, and he was immediately placed in the position formerly held by John H. Miser, and he was promoted to the rank of Captain on March 10, 1863.

Tradition has it that John H. Miser 6/4 did not return to the Confederate forces but remained at home for a period of time before he enlisted as a Captain in the Union Army. According to the "Arkansas Gazette," Little Rock, Arkansas in July 15, 1910:

"John Henry Miser was a captain of the Home Guards during the period of strife in the sixties, and his absolute fearlessness made him an object of dread to the deserters and jay-hawkers of that time." There are no records to document his having been a Captain in both armies.

Following the close of the Civil War, John H. Miser 6/4 took his wife Sarah and their son, Henry Alexander Miser 7/1, to California. It is believed they lived in an area near John's brother, Henry Clay Miser 6/1, who lived in Sonoma County, California near the Pacific Coast.

The John H. Miser family returned to Benton County, Arkansas prior to June 24, 1870 where their daughter Mary "Molly" was born near Pea Ridge. John Miser purchased 100 acres in the NE part of Section 32 and 80 acres in the SW part of Section 29. John Miser's property was near Buttram's Chapel and located between Pea Ridge and the Elkhorn Tavern on the Pea Ridge battlefield.

John H. Miser was an enthusiastic supporter of civic interests and gave financial assistance to the Pea Ridge Normal College. His name can also be found on the cornerstone of the First Methodist Church of Pea Ridge as being one of its directors.

Sarah Walker Miser died near Pea Ridge in 1896.

Following the passing of John Miser's wife, Sarah Walker Miser in 1896, John decided he would like to marry again and chose his late brother 6/16 William Miser's widow, Aunt Marietta V. Pickens Miser.

They were married on November 11, 1898 in Benton County, Arkansas. Marietta V. Pickens was born September 15, 1857 near Pea Ridge, Arkansas; the daughter of Andrew Pickens III and Susan Morrison of Bedford, County, Tennessee.

Marietta Miser and her first husband, William McCalister Miser 6/16 had no children, but took a two-day old orphan girl, Cora Hill, to care for as their own. She was born December 28, 1876 at Brightwater, Arkansas. She married Leonard J. Temple who was born November 15, 1871. Leonard died May 30, 1903 and Cora died September 3, 1907. Both are buried at Ness City, Arkansas. They had a son, Lyle Temple, born January 20, 1901. He was reared by his foster grandparents, Marietta and John Henry Miser 6/4. On April 1, 1922, Lyle married Tomy Helen Ottinger at Pea Ridge, Arkansas. She was born October 27, 1904, the daughter of J. S. Ottinger and Margaret Louise Hess.

Lyle and Margaret Temple had a son, Lynn Leon Temple who was born April 28, 1924. On August 31, 1945 he married Neva Lois Horne, born May 8, 1924. Lyle was a dental graduate and a veteran of World War II. He died January 23, 1967. Their children are: Pamela Temple, born March 21, 1951, and Gregory Lynn Temple, born June 8, 1953. Pamela married William Tyne, Jr. and they had a son, Jefferson McDonald Tyne, born April 17, 1971.

John Henry Miser 6/4 died July 13, 1910 near Pea Ridge, Arkansas at the age of 79 years, four months and 11 days. He was buried at the Pea Ridge Cemetery. Marietta Pickens Miser died in 1941 at the age of 84 years and is also buried in the Pea Ridge Cemetery.

HENRY ALEXANDER MISER 7/1, son of John Henry Miser 6/4 (George W. Miser 1, 5/4, John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Sarah H. Walker, was born in 1860 near Pea Ridge, Arkansas. On December 31, 1883, he married Ada Walker at Pineville, Missouri. She was born March 24, 1866 in Benton County Arkansas and died October 7, 1938 at Livingston, Montana.

Henry moved to Livingston, Montana where he raised peas for the Burpee Seed Company. He also did substitute teaching in the Livingston High School. Henry enjoyed Shakespeare and read poetry in a beautiful and perfect manner. He died March 29, 1933 in Montana.

NANCY ELIZABETH MISER 6/5, daughter of G. W. Miser I, 5/4 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Polly Swafford, was born in Tennessee on July 3, 1832. She accompanied her parents and brothers and sisters to Benton County, Arkansas in 1838. Nancy E. remained at home to assist her sister Elizabeth with the rearing of the small children following the passing of their mother on November 23, 1842. Nancy continued to live at home and helped her stepmother, Jane Potter Miser, with the first four children of the second family of Miser children.

On August 4, 1853 Nancy married her first cousin, Elijah Heneger Buttram 6/7, near Pea Ridge. E. H. Buttram was born October 13, 1832 in Meigs County, Tennessee, the son of John Buttram, born 1803; died 1841 and his wife Phebe Miser Brown Buttram 5/2., born 1800; died 1844. The latter was an older sister of Nancy E. Miser's father, George Washington Miser I.

Rev. Elijah and Nancy E. Miser Buttram lived the majority of their years in the Pea Ridge community where their ten children were reared. Complete genealogy of each of the ten children and their descendants has been given previously in this book under the heading of "Phebe Miser 5/2." Rev. E. H. Buttram died at Pea Ridge, September 26, 1916, and Nancy E. Miser Buttram died at Pea Ridge, March 3, 1921. They were buried in the Buttram's Chapel Cemetery in the location of the first pulpit of the Buttram's Chapel Church. MICHAEL MISER 6/9, son of George W. Miser I 5/4, (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1), was born November 14, 1837 in Tennessee the last of the G.W. Miser I and Polly Swafford Miser children who were born there. He was a baby less than a year old when he was moved by his parents to Arkansas.

The Battle of Pea Ridge had ended, but there was still a great deal of conflict in the battlefield community three and one-half months later. G. W. Miser I had died in 1861 and Michael was left as the eldest son and protector of his family. Some bushwhackers slipped in on the Miser property and drove off Michael's mules. He heard the disturbance as they were leaving and he ran out to follow them—perhaps a little too closely as they saw Michael and shot him, July 28, 1862. The bushwhackers threw his body under a cliff. There were conversations in the family about what should be done; and his plucky, courageous sister Nancy E. Miser Buttram, who loved Michael so dearly, spoke up immediately and said she was the logical one to go in search of his body! Nancy did not want to take a chance on the next brother's safety—that of Elijah. She convinced the family a lady could get through the numerous groups of soldiers in the area. She hurriedly hitched a horse to a spring wagon and went to get her pastor to ask him to accompany her to find her brother's body. The two set out on the sad mission, but they did not have to look long to find the body which had lain there two days partially hidden down in a small bluff area. They returned home by a back way for safety to bury the body of Michael in the Miser homestead cemetery late that afternoon.

ELIJAH (LIGE) H. MISER 6/10, son of George Miser I 5/4 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2 Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1), tenth child of G. W. Miser I and Polly Swafford Miser, was the first of their children to be born in Arkansas. His birthdate was May 3, 1839. Following his father's passing in 1861, he and his older brother Michael had the responsibility of making the living for the large family. After Michael's death in July of 1862, he felt the need of trying to end the terrible conflict and restore peace to their countryside. He went with his older brother, John Henry 6/4, to Bentonville, Arkansas to enlist in the Confederate Army on August 15, 1862. He was assigned to Co. "F", King's Regiment, 35th Arkansas Infantry as a Second Lieutenant for a period of three years. Elijah received a leave to go home to Pea Ridge with his brother John early in December of 1862. Upon reaching Benton County, they deserted the Army officially on January 1, 1863, according to the company muster roll for October 31, 1862 to February 28, 1863. Elijah H. Miser's Civil War papers indicate the possibility that he later rejoined the Army for he was listed as a Private in Company "E", Freeman's Cavalry Regiment, Missouri and he was captured on January 21, 1864 in Izard County, Arkansas and confined February 12, 1864. He was released June 23, 1864 with the remarks: "Forwarded from Military Prison, Little Rock, Arkansas to Rock Island, Illinois, June 23, 1864 by Lt. Col. J. L. Chandler, Provost Marshall General, Dept. of Arkansas". Elijah H. Miser was on the Roll of Prisoners of War on the Confederate War forms. He was received at Rock Island Barracks on July 6, 1864. His name was reported then as "Meisser". Elijah's file as a CSA prisoner of war was "Elijah H. Miser, Freeman's Regt., Missouri Cavalry." He died at Rock Island Barracks, Illinois of hepatitis on August 14, 1864 and buried in grave #1408 southeast of the prison barracks.

SARAH E. MISER III 6/12, daughter of G. W. Miser I 5/4 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Miser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1), and Jane Potter, was born June 20, 1846 near Pea Ridge, Arkansas. She married her first cousin, Michael Farmer Buttram 6/8, February 11, 1863 near Pea Ridge, Arkansas. He was the son of Rev. John Buttram and Phebe Miser 5/2 of Meigs County, Tennessee. Michael Farmer was born there August 2, 1834. Sarah Miser Buttram 6/12 died January 30, 1922 at Pea Ridge. A complete genealogy of Michael Farmer Buttram 6/8 and wife Sarah Miser III Buttram 6/12 has been given previously under the heading of "Phebe Miser 5/2"

JAMES (JIM) H. MISER 6/13, son of G. W. Miser I 5/4 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Miser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Jane Potter was born near Pea Ridge, Arkansas, December 7, 1847. Wilson Lee Miser 7/4 relates that his Uncle James H. Miser 6/13 watched the Battle of Pea Ridge out of a window at their home. James H. Miser served in the Civil War and died in April of 1866. He is buried in the Miser homestead cemetery.

JORDAN STANFORD MISER 6/14, son of G. W. Miser I 5/4 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Miser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Jane Potter, was born January 14, 1850 near Pea Ridge, Arkansas. Dr. Wilson L. Miser 7/4 related that his father, Jordan S. Miser 6/14, and his brother, James H. Miser 6/13 looked out the north window of the attic of their parent's log home and saw the glistening of sabers, bayonets and rifles in the Battle of Pea Ridge, which occurred three to four miles away.

Jordan S. Miser 6/14 was married to Eliza Caroline Webb on March 13, 1879 at Pea Ridge, Arkansas. She was born September 25, 1860 at Pea Ridge, Arkansas, the daughter of Stephen Bedford Webb and Eliza Prudence Murphree (both born in Tennessee). Jordan S. Miser was a very progressive farmer and stockman in the Buttram's Chapel community. All six of his children were born in the original old home which had three rooms with an attic. Mr. Miser was very civic minded and keenly interested in the welfare of his own family as well as those of the area. He was one of the officers at the time of the organization of the Benton County Fair which held its first showing in Rogers in the Fall of 1888.

Jordan S. and Eliza Miser taught their sons Hugh and Wilson to read at home and they started to school at the nearby Buttram's Chapel School. Hugh started in 1892 in the third reader while Wilson was in the second reader.

Wilson Lee Miser 7/4 relates that the Buttram's Chapel School began as a subscription school. It was a large two-story frame structure which faced east. The first floor was used for church services, and there was an outside stairway at the rear of the building. The upstairs room was used for the school as well as for the Pea Ridge Masonic Lodge #119. The first Buttram's Chapel building had poles for 2" x 4" lumber; the outside was hand planed with the rough side placed inside. The interior boards were hand planed on the inside and the rough side butted against the outside boards. It had a ceiling and early-day type of windows. Wilson's first term at Buttram's Chapel began in August and ended after Christmas due to a lack of funds. The building was razed following the 1892 term and replaced with a new building.

Jordan S. and Eliza Webb Miser reared their children near Pea Ridge, Arkansas. In the 1903 "Benton County Atlas", J. S. Miser was shown on the map as owning 110 acres in one farm and 62 acres in another piece of property. He died near Pea Ridge on July 11, 1935; and Eliza Miser died May 27, 1954. They are buried in the Buttram's Chapel Cemetery.

HUGH DINSMORE MISER 7/3, son of Jordan S. Miser 6/14 (G. W. Miser 1 5/4, John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Eliza Webb was born December 18, 1884 near Pea Ridge, Arkansas. He taught school for a while in the area. After receiving an education as a Geologist, he joined the United States Geological Survey in 1907. Hugh Miser was married to Mary Kate Goddard on September 21, 1910 at Fayetteville, Arkansas. She was born at Prairie Grove, Arkansas on November 7, 1879, the daughter of Jesse Wells Goddard (1842-1917) and Mary Jane Marrs Goddard (1855-1939). Hugh D. Miser received a B.A. degree in 1908 and an M.A. degree in 1912 from the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville. During this time he was Geologist for the Arkansas Geological Survey from 1907 to 1910. In December 1912 Hugh D. Miser and his wife, Mary Kate, moved to Washington D.C. He was Geologist for the Tennessee Geological Survey in 1912 and 1917, Chief Secretary of Areal Geology in 1927, Fuel's Section Geologist from 1928 to 1947, and the staff Geologist from 1947 to 1954. Hugh D. Miser received a L.L.D. degree in 1949 from the University of Arkansas, and he was employed in the Office of the Director of United States Geological Survey in 1955. In 1955, he received the Interior Dept's Distinguished Service Award.

His first cousin Phebe Buttram Pitts of Pea Ridge, Arkansas has described Dr. Hugh D. Miser as a man with a great sense of humor who loved a good joke better than anyone. He was a born story teller with a phenomenal memory, impish grin, and droll manner. He never lost the common touch which endeared him to everyone who had the rare privilege of knowing Dr. Miser. Mrs. Mary Kate Miser died July 26, 1963 in Washington, D.C. and was buried in the Fort Lincoln Cemetery.

Dr. Miser had told friends he planned to retire from his work in February 1970 at the age of 85 years. He had enjoyed excellent health and had worked full time all of his life. In fact, he worked every day up until his death on August 1, 1969 at the Geological Survey offices, Washington, D.C. A severe heart attack at his home claimed the life of one of Pea Ridge's most illustrious sons.

WILLIAM McALISTER MISER 6/16, son of George Washington Miser I 5/4 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1), and Jane Potter, was born near Pea Ridge, Arkansas, November 17, 1853. He was married to Marietta V. Pickens January 30, 1878 in Benton County, Arkansas. She was born September 15, 1857 near Pea Ridge, Arkansas to parents Andrew Pickens III and wife Susan Morrison of Bedford County, Tennessee. Full references on William's wife, Marietta, are given in earlier genealogy of William McCalister Miser's older brother, John Henry Miser 6/4, as the latter married Marietta following the death of William Miser in 1898.

Phoebe Buttram Pitts of Pea Ridge has related an interesting story about her beloved Uncle Bill Miser. He was "courting" Marietta V. Pickens and went to call on her one Sunday afternoon at the home of her brother, Capt. Cyrus Pickens, a veteran of the Civil War from Pea Ridge. After a pleasant afternoon with Marietta, he suddenly realized he had stayed much too long. Uncle Bill Miser hurried to leave the Pickens' home and ran out to get his saddle horse to make a fast exit from the barnyard. He jumped on the horse, jerked the reins, and the horse became rather frightened and reared up. Much to Uncle Bill's embarrassment, he fell off the horse into Cyrus Pickens' pig pen and killed one of the pigs. Uncle Bill told Cyrus he would be back the following day to reimburse him for the pig—which he did.

In 1889 William M. Miser 6/16 was the postmaster of Brightwater, Arkansas and also managed the Mercantile store of J. S. Dickson. William died February 3, 1898 and is buried in the Buttram Chapel Cemetery.

Cora E. Hill, was a foster child of William and Marietta Miser taken at two days old and reared. She was born in the Brightwater, Arkansas community on December 28, 1876 and died September 3, 1907. Details of this beloved young lady and her orphaned son are given in the John Henry Miser 6/4 account.

SUSAN AMILDRA MISER 6/17, daughter of George Washington Miser I 5/4 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Jane Potter, was born near Pea Ridge, Arkansas on February 13, 1855. Susan A. Miser was married to John A. Perkins near Pea Ridge on September 26, 1872. Mr. Perkins was born ca. 1843 and was a Civil War veteran who had lived in the Pea Ridge community. John A. Perkins was a farmer in the Pea Ridge community and he, Susan, and the children lived on the Robert Harston place (formerly Henry C. Miser's farm). Mr. Perkins passed away in 1880, leaving Susan Miser Perkins with three young children.

Following the death of John A. Perkins, Susan A. Miser 6/17 married Alexander Requa about 1895. A widower, he was born ca. 1832 and died ca. 1928. He owned and operated the Requa Feed Store in Neosho, Missouri.

Susan A. Miser 6/17 died April 4, 1938 and was buried at Neosho, Missouri. She was known as "Mother" to the residents of Neosho, Missouri and is so commemorated by the "Joplin Globe" in its April 5, 1938 issue.

Back Row: William Leonard Miser 7/4, Mary Lela Miser 7/2, Janie Elizabeth Miser 7/1, Susan Leona Miser 7/3.

GEORGE WASHINGTON MISER III 6/18, son of G. W. Miser I, 5/4, (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Jane Potter, was born April 6, 1858 near Pea Ridge, Arkansas. G. W. Miser III was married to Laura V. Winters on May 13, 1879 in Benton County, Arkansas. She was born March 8, 1862 in Missouri, the daughter of Joshua and Elizabeth Winters.

G. W. Miser III owned considerable good fertile land, much of which had been previously owned by his father. G. W. III and wife, Laura V. Winters Miser, lived their lives near Pea Ridge in the Buttram's Chapel community. He was a short, stout man, with graying hair, fair skin, and twinkling blue eyes, outgoing personality, and a deep and abiding love for his kin and friends. G. W. III modernized the old Miser spring and had a ram placed there to pump water to his home which still stands on the hill south of the spring.

G. W. Miser's wife, Laura Miser, died on November 18, 1937. G. W. Miser III died on July 31, 1951. They were both buried at Buttram's Chapel near Pea Ridge, Arkansas.

CHILDREN:

MARY LELA MISER 7/2, daughter of G. W. Miser III 6/18 (G. W. Miser I 5/4, John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Laura V. Winters, was born in 1882 near Pea Ridge, Arkansas. She met her future husband in a unique way. Lela Miser's parents had a strawberry patch, and Lela worked in it each year. During one season, Lela and her girl friend decided for fun they would place their names and addresses on some of the boxes of strawberries they packed for shipping. Arthur Johnson of Wichita, Kansas purchased a box of Benton County strawberries, and he was intrigued with the unknown lady's name he found on the container. He promptly wrote her to state how delicious the berries were and asked to correspond with her. They began a courtship which culminated in marriage ca. 1905.

CHILDREN:

8/1 Archie Johnson, born ca. 1909; died 1913.

8/2 Juanita Johnson, born ca. 1911; died 1913.

About 1912, Mr. Johnson died and Lela Miser Johnson and two young children left Wichita to go to live with her parents in Pea Ridge. After they were there a brief time, Lela decided to return to Wichita and take an upstairs apartment in Mr. Johnson's parents' home. One day Lela left the two small children in their bedroom and went downstairs to borrow an iron from Mrs. Johnson and visited a few minutes with her. Suddenly Lela Miser Johnson smelled smoke and ran upstairs to discover the room was full of smoke and flames. Lela began frantically to call for her children, and they had become frightened as the fire began, and they crawled back under the bed. She tried in vain to rescue them but they died immediately from smoke inhalation and burns. Lela M. Johnson was so badly burned she died in one or two days after the fire in 1913. It was believed that the children had turned up the gas in the apartment and had, without realizing it, set something on fire.

WILLIAM LEONARD MISER 7/4, son of G. W. Miser III 6/18 (G. W. Miser I 5/4, John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Laura V. Winters, was born December 7, 1887 at Pea Ridge, Arkansas. He was married to Addie Mae Tiner on January 2, 1916. W. Leonard Miser owned 520 acres of land southeast of Pea Ridge near Buttram's Chapel. He was a farmer and a stockman there. Addie Mae was born May 8, 1894 and died November 4, 1938. W. Leonard Miser then married Nellie Luker on January 9, 1948.

W. Leonard Miser was killed instantly in a tragic highway accident on Highway 12 east of Rogers, Arkansas on January 9, 1957. An oncoming truck, heavily loaded with large logs, was transporting them when the chains slipped and a log suddenly protruded and sliced the body of Leonard Miser's pickup truck. The log demolished the upper half of the cab on his truck. Both Leonard and Addie Miser were buried at Buttram's Chapel Cemetery.

EMILY MELVINA MISER 6/19, daughter of George Miser I 5/4 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Jane Potter, was born near Pea Ridge, Arkansas on December 13, 1859. Emily M. Miser was married to John Wilson Stroud near Pea Ridge, Arkansas ca. 1878. John Wilson Stroud was born November 4, 1855 in Arkansas but near the Missouri line. He was the son of A. B. Stroud and came with his parents to Benton County before the Civil War and settled on a farm near Pea Ridge. He was a brother of the well-known H. L. Stroud (1858-1954) who was the founder of Stroud's Mercantile Store in Rogers, Arkansas in 1884. John W. Stroud was one of the founders of the Ozark Fruit Growers Association, which for many years handled a major share of the fruit shipment of Northeast Arkansas and Southwest Missouri. It also operated in Tennessee. Mr. Stroud became secretary in 1908 (a position he occupied until 1926) when it was decided to locate the headquarters at Monett, Missouri and he did not care to make a change in his residence. During most of these years he also owned and managed a large apple orchard between Rogers and Pea Ridge. John Wilson Stroud died of cancer on April 3, 1931 at Rogers, Arkansas. Emily Melvina Miser Stroud died September 27, 1937 at Rogers, Arkansas.

CHILDREN:

- 7/1 Cora Stroud (1880-1950), married John Simon McLeod. They were buried in the Rogers Cemetery. No issue.

ELIJAH MIZER 5/6

ELIJAH MIZER 5/6, son of John Miser 4/8 (Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Elizabeth Hale, was born in McMinn County, Tennessee November 25, 1811. He married Elizabeth Tallent, born March 1, 1814 in Tennessee. They moved to Benton County, Arkansas between 1850 and 1860, where on March 1, 1854 Elijah obtained land in the "Southwest quarter of the South East quarter, Sec. 21, Twp. 20, North of Range 31 West, in the District of Land subject to sale at Fayette, Arkansas, containing 40 acres," under Federal Act granting Bounty Land to Certain Officers and Soldiers who had engaged in Military Service of the United States." The document was signed by M. O. H. Wheeler, Assistant Secretary. Based on the above, Elijah probably served in the Mexican War (1846-1848).

According to his grand-daughter Bammie Miser 7/5, Elijah Miser served in the Civil War. He was ill with tuberculosis the latter part of the war, thus stayed home with his family. Being a Northern sympathizer, the "rebels" tormented him so much that he moved his family from Bentonville, Arkansas to near Joplin, Missouri where he stayed with his oldest son William P. Miser 6/1. On one occasion Elijah was taken from his home by bushwhackers. His two oldest daughters, Rebecca and Rachael, followed the men. A neighbor woman stopped the girls and told them not to go farther as their father would not be hurt. A man in the group stepped up and said that Elijah was an old man and very sick so there wasn't any reason to harm him and if they did, the first man to touch Elijah would be shot. Elijah was released and unharmed.

Another time a "raider" came to the house looking for Elijah who hid under the wide plank flooring of the porch. His daughter Rachael stood with a fire poker ready to kill the intruder if he spotted her father. Luckily, for the raider, he did not spot Elijah.

Elijah died in September 1865 at his son's (William P. Miser 6/1) home near Joplin, Missouri. His wife and son, Henry L. Miser 6/7, buried Elijah during the night in an unmarked grave. The reason given for this strange burial was that his body would have been dug up by the "rebels."

Following Elijah's death, George Miser 6/5 and his mother returned to Arkansas and tried to eke out a living for the orphaned children. George was planning to get married in January of 1867 but while returning home with his girl friend, the rebels caught him and took George to his brother William's home in Missouri. The bushwhackers surrounded the house and called for William 6/1 and his brother James 6/3 to come out with their hands up or they would kill everyone. To save the life of William's wife and children the boys, along with their brother-in-law John Edwards surrendered. The men were marched many miles in the snow without shoes and finally hung or shot. They were murdered, perhaps along with others, somewhere in Arkansas.

The above account of the murders of William Miser 6/1, James Miser 6/3, George Miser 6/5 and John Edwards was sworn to by Phoebe T. Miser Fulton 6/8 on September 22, 1923 in a veteran's pension application on behalf of Elizabeth C. Miser Edwards Jameson 6/6, widow of John Edwards.

The "rebels" then returned to the Bentonville, Arkansas area and stripped the farm of all the livestock. A lawsuit ensued and all the livestock was returned. Based on the war records of Elijah's three sons, one must assume that James Miser 6/3 and George Miser 6/5 when on detached service were pursuing deserters as their "daily duty." In a territory torn asunder over the question of slavery and State's Rights as early as 1853, resentment against soldiers who were given the unpleasant assignment of "hunting down" deserters undoubtedly carried over into the post-war period.

In 1883 Elizabeth Tallent Miser left Arkansas with her son Henry Lot Miser 6/7 and his family. They crossed the plains in covered wagons, arriving at Milton, Oregon in time for the Fall harvest. Following the harvest, they moved to Latah, Washington and rented a farm until 1887, only to return to the Arkansas homestead. In 1890 she sold the homestead and moved to near Spokane, Washington where they farmed until 1893.

Elizabeth Tallent Miser died August 27, 1903 on the Camas Prairie near Nezperce Idaho. The tragedies and hardships she endured must be preserved as a memorial to the women pioneers of the 19th Century.

WILLIAM P. MIZER 6/1, son of Elijah Mizer 5/6 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Elizabeth Tallent, was born in 1837 in McMinn County, Tennessee. He married Margaret _____ and lived in the area of Joplin, Jasper County, Missouri.

William was mustered into the service during the Civil War on August 27, 1864 at Springfield, Missouri. He served with the 7th Prov. Regiment, Missouri Militia which later became Company K, Missouri Cavalry. He gave his age as 24 at the time of his enlistment and his occupation as farmer. His war record states "Own horse and equipments whole time." He was mustered out of service July 1, 1865 at Springfield, Missouri, after 297 days of active service. His promotion to 2nd Master Sergeant on March 1, 1864 indicates he may have served more than one term of duty during the war. The above information is from the Missouri War Records and Records in the National Archives.

As reported earlier, he was murdered by the "rebels" in 1867 and buried in an unmarked grave. Margaret, his wife, died of grief, and their children were raised by Henry L. Mizer 6/7,

GEORGE V. MIZER 6/5, son of Elijah Mizer 5/6 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Elizabeth Tallent, was born ca. 1845. He enlisted in the Union Forces at Ft. Scott, Kansas for a term of three years, giving his age as 18; occupation as farmer and "owning his horse and equipments." He was a private in Co. H, 6th Regiment, Kansas Cavalry which was mustered March 3, 1862. In May and June 1863, George was absent from the Company and on detached service in pursuit of deserters as his "daily duty."

George was taken prisoner of war by the Confederates July 27, 1864 at Mazzart Prairie, near Ft. Smith, Arkansas. He was confined in Rebel Prison Camp near Tyler, Texas from August 22, 1864 to May 15, 1865. He was exchanged as a prisoner of war at Red River Landing, Louisiana on May 27, 1865. George was released and discharged by telegram from the War Dept. A.G.O., Washington, D.C. on May 30, 1865. He rejoined his Company June 14, 1865.

As reported earlier, he was murdered by the "rebels" in 1867 and buried in an unmarked grave. The above information is from Kansas War Records and Records in the National Archives.

was born in Ash County, North Carolina.

John Edwards enrolled in the Union Army February 9, 1862 and was mustered into service March 3, 1862 as a private in Co. H, 6th Regiment Kansas Volunteer Cavalry at Ft. Scott, Kansas. He was mustered out March 22, 1865 and honorably discharged at De Valles Bluff, Arkansas. He was 17 years old at the time of his enlistment.

Elizabeth was expecting her first child when she heard of her husband's and brothers' deaths. Three weeks later on February 4, 1867 her daughter Ida was born in Lane County, Kansas.

CHILDREN:

7/1 Ida Edwards

Elizabeth Mizer Edwards 6/6 remarried ca. 1870 to James Jameson who was crippled in both legs and unable to serve in the war. After their marriage they lived in Bentonville, Arkansas where he farmed and taught school. He was part Cherokee Indian and taught school on the Cherokee Strip in Oklahoma. Later he ran a saloon at Sylom, Arkansas.

The family moved West ca. 1895 and acquired land near Kamiah, Idaho on the newly opened Nez Perce Indian Reservation. James died on October 9, 1908 leaving his widow to live with their two sons, Benjamin and Lige, on the farm. Later she moved to Clarkston, Washington where she died in 1929 and was buried in the Vineland Cemetery.

HENRY L. MIZER 6/7, son of Elijah Mizer 5/6 (John Mizer 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Elizabeth Tallent, was born August 14, 1848 in McMinn Co., Tennessee.

He escaped the tragedy at Lawrence, Missouri by hiding under the porch. Following the untimely death of his three brothers, he and his mother supported his orphaned brothers and sisters. Henry married Mary S. Jameson October 23, 1870.

In 1883 he loaded the family possessions in a covered wagon and began the three months journey to Milton, Oregon where he spent the summer farming for his future brother-in-law Joe West. Following the harvest, he moved to Latah, Washington and purchased a farm but, in 1887 he decided to return to the homestead his mother still owned in Arkansas. The long journey was made by train. A new house was built, but in 1890 his mother sold the farm and the family returned to Spokane, Washington.

In the fall of 1895, Henry, his sister Annie and son Christopher filed homestead claims on the Nez Perce Indian Reservation. He farmed until 1905 when he sold the farm and purchased acreage near Clarkston, Washington.

Mary Jameson Mizer died in 1906 and is buried at Clarkston, Washington. Henry died in 1930 at Cloverland, Washington. They are buried at Clarkston, Washington.

ELIZABETH ADELEAH MIZER 6/7, daughter of Henry C. Mizer 5/7 (John Miser 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Elizabeth E. Wolf, was born ca. 1852 in Arkansas, according to the 1876 Special Census for McDonald County, Missouri. Elizabeth 6/7 was married ca. 1868 to John Skaggs. They separated while their two children were very young and Elizabeth left them in her parents care while she went away to find work. She became ill and died.

The following children are believed to have been born to this marriage since the Special 1876 Census for McDonald County, Missouri shows them to be living with their grandparents Henry C. Mizer 5/7 and Elizabeth Wolf Mizer.

CHILDREN:

7/1 James C. Skaggs

7/2 Nancy E. Skaggs

JAMES C. SKAGGS 7/1, son of Elizabeth A. Mizer 6/7 (Henry C. Mizer 5/7, John Mizer 4/8, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and John Skaggs, was born May 8, 1869. He is believed to have died ca. 1936 in California. He was raised by his grandparents and according to McDonald County, Missouri records on May 8, 1888, entered into a contract to take care of his grandparents Henry C. Mizer 5/7 and Elizabeth Wolf Mizer during their natural lives. In consideration for these services he received certain tracts of lands.

James C. Skaggs married Rosa Montgomery in McDonald County, Missouri. They moved to Oklahoma about 1898 and separated shortly thereafter. One child was born to this marriage.

CHILDREN:

8/1 Ernest P. Skaggs

James C. Skaggs then married a young widow, Mrs. Emma A. Means who was born in Missouri February 22, 1869, the daughter of ——— McMullen and Andrew Henning. She died July 22, 1925 at Nashoba, Oklahoma as a result of being bitten by a rabid dog.

Following Emma's death, James married Mrs. Daisy Reddick of Nashoba, Oklahoma. James was a carpenter by trade and served as the Justice of Peace in Nashoba, Oklahoma.

CHILDREN:

8/2 Elizabeth Skaggs

ERNEST P. SKAGGS 8/1, son of James C. Skaggs 7/1 and Rosa Montgomery, was born in McDonald County, Missouri on October 17, 1897. He married Julia Carns. Tragedy struck the family when Julia and their newborn son died during the flu epidemic of 1918.

CHILDREN:

Mizer 5/7 and Elizabeth Wolf Mizer. Her grandfather gave his written consent to her marriage to John M. Richardson on February 12, 1888. John M. Richardson was born in Missouri February 8, 1864, the son of Sarah E. Faust and Benjamin F. Richardson.

They moved to Oklahoma County, Oklahoma about 1898 and settled near the town of Norman. John died February 7, 1900 and is buried at Moore, Oklahoma.

CHILDREN:

8/1 James C. Richardson

8/2 Benjamin F. Richardson, born June 8, 1891.

8/3 Sarah V. Richardson

8/4 Jesse M. Richardson, born June 3, 1898; married Lula Beckwith.

Nancy moved her family to Doxey, Oklahoma on July 15, 1902 and married J. P. Straughan; however, the marriage ended in divorce. Nancy or "Lizzie", as she was called, died September 1, 1926 in Tahoka, Lynn County, Texas and is buried in Tahoka Cemetery.

JAMES C. RICHARDSON 8/1, son of Nancy E. Skaggs 7/2 and John M. Richardson, was born July 9, 1889, at Jane, Missouri. He married Ida M. Richardson (no known relative) at Altus, Oklahoma in 1911. James died December 22, 1913 and is buried in the Carter, Oklahoma cemetery. Ida died April 25, 1915 at Cumberland, New Mexico.

11/1 Janet L. Weaver, born March 24, 1970.

FREDERICK MEISER 4/9

FREDERICK MEISER 4/9, son of Henry Meiser 3/4 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meiser 1/1) was born April 1, 1780 in Penn's Township, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania near what is now the village of Aline, Snyder County, Pennsylvania.

The biography of Frederick Meiser 4/9 compiled from a series of historical records indicates that he married Magdalene Rine in 1807. The will of Frederick Meiser 4/9 lists the following as his sons and daughters and are the children believed to have been born to this union:

5/1 Christina Meiser

5/3 Ann (Maria) (Mary) Meiser

5/2 David Meiser

Baptismal records of Grubb's Church show that Frederick Meiser 4/9 and Magdalene were the parents of Maria Meiser born September 10, 1816. "A History of the Freeburg Charge" by Rev. J. F. Wampole confirms the 1816 date but refers to Mary Meiser, daughter of Frederick and Magdalene Meiser.

The records on Joseph Meiser 5/4 are conflicting in that family records refer to Joseph son of Frederick Meiser 4/9 and Margaret Bilger. Grubb Church and Rev. J. F. Wampole's records indicate that Joseph Meiser was the son of Frederick Meiser and Rebecca.

The baptismal certificate states: Frederick and wife Margaret Bilgerin, born a son, Joseph Meiser, November 12, 1827. Baptized by Jacob Schmidt, Lutheran preacher, Chapman Township, Union County, Pennsylvania. The editors are inclined to accept the family version of Margaret Bilger.

Magdalene Rine must have died prior to 1829 since the baptismal records of Grubb's Church state that Frederick Meiser 5/5 was born June 23, 1829, baptized January 3, 1830 and was the son of Frederick Meiser 4/9 and Margaret Bilger. This is substantiated further in the will of Frederick Meiser 4/9 when he refers to his dear wife Margaret.

5/4 Joseph Meiser

5/5 Frederick Meiser, Jr.

Frederick Meiser built the first stone gristmill in what is now Meiserville about 1806.

The February 1820 petition to form Chapman Township specifically called for the inclusion of Frederick Meiser's house and mill thus he was the first Meiser to live in what is now called Meiserville.

Frederick Meiser is also credited with building a gristmill of logs about 1841 opposite Oriental near the Snyder-Juniata County line, three miles south-west of Meiserville.

He built and lived all his adult life in the frame house that stood just North-East of the stone gristmill in Meiserville. The structure was torn down in the early 1900's and a new frame house erected on the site. The out-door bake oven and stone mill still remain as historical monuments to Frederick Meiser.

Frederick Meiser died May 14, 1856 and his wife Margaret January 31, 1874. Both are buried at Grubb's Church.

Frederick's will contains the following statement worthy of mention: "And it is further my will and I do order that if any of my children are not satisfied with this my last will and testament and wished or tries to break or upset the same, he or she so displeased and trying to make disturbance among the rest of my children is to have nothing at all of my estate." No record of contest was recorded.

CHRISTINA MEISER 5/1, daughter of Frederick Meiser 4/9 (Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Magdalene Rine, was born December 15, 1807 in Mahantango Township, Union County, Pennsylvania. She married David Fisher, born September 3, 1797. Unsubstantiated records indicate their children to be:

CHILDREN:

6/1 John Fisher, born Sept. 19, 1826; died April 9, 1863; Co. I 172nd. Penna. Vol. Inf.

6/2 Fred Fisher

6/3 David Fisher, born Nov. 2, 1830.

6/4 Jacob Fisher

Christina died December 12, 1846 and David her husband died June 1, 1856. Both are buried at Grubb's Church.

DAVID MEISER 5/2

DAVID MEISER 5/2, son of Frederick Meiser 4/9 (Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, John Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Magdalene Rine, was born February 12, 1812 in Mahantango Township, Union County, Pennsylvania. He married Polly Shadle, born August 12, 1818. The 1850 Census for Greenwood Township in Juniata County lists him as a farmer. By 1870 he had moved to Middlecreek Township in Snyder County near what is currently referred to as Globe Mills, Meiser Station or Meiser. By 1880 he had again moved to West Perry Township in Snyder County.

Records are not clear as to who owned and operated the grist mill at Meiser Station. "A History of the Juniata Valley" states that about the year 1788 a frame gristmill was built on the south side of Middle Creek at what is now Meiser Station. David Meiser supposedly purchased the gristmill and operated it until his retirement in Chapman, Chapman Township, Snyder County, Pennsylvania.

Polly Shadle Meiser died January 13, 1889 and David died November 13, 1889. Both are buried at Grubb's Church.

CHILDREN:

6/1 Mary Meiser

6/2 John S. Meiser

6/3 Catherine Meiser, born ca. 1847; married William Fryman.

6/4 Martha Meiser, born ca. 1848; married John P. Leitzel.

MARY MEISER 6/1, daughter of David Meiser 5/2 (Frederick Meiser 4/9, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Polly Shadle, was born about 1838. Snyder County, Pennsylvania marriage records indicate that she married Henry Snyder September 14, 1856. They lived near Meiserville. There are no further records on the family other than the names of two of their children.

CHILDREN:

7/1 Sarah Snyder, born ca. 1860.

7/2 Katie Snyder, born ca. 1862.

JOHN S. MEISER 6/2, son of David Meiser 5/2 (Frederick Meiser 4/9, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Polly Shadle, was born August 21, 1840 in Chapman Township, Snyder County, Pennsylvania. He first married Mary Ann Jane Walter and a son Charles Ammon Meiser was born to this union. He then married Mary J. Luck born 1852 on November 7, 1869. Five daughters were born to this marriage.

John S. Meiser served in Co. F 171st. Regiment of the Pennsylvania Volunteers during the Civil War. Following his discharge he was the agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad at Meiser Station for many years. He was simultaneously engaged in farming and lumbering. The house and barn occupied by John and his father still stand south of the railroad as you enter the village of Meiser. The sign identifying the village stands on what was once Meiser property.

John died in 1922 and his wife Mary died in 1948. Both are buried at Middleburg, Snyder County, Pennsylvania.

CHILDREN:

7/1 Charles Ammon Meiser

7/2 Clara Meiser, born 1871; married John Diemer.

8/2 Moyer M. Meiser

MOYER M. MEISER 8/2, son of Charles Ammon Meiser 7/1 and Ida C. Moyer, was born in 1894. He is married to Olive Rauch and lives in Northumberland, Pennsylvania. He attended Mercersburg Academy and Stevens Hall, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. All of his life has been devoted to business ventures in Northumberland, Pennsylvania.

CHILDREN:

9/1 Marilyn M. Meiser, born 1925.

9/2 Ida A. Meiser, born 1927.

ANN MEISER 5/3, daughter of Frederick Meiser 4/9 (Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Magdalene Rine, was born September 10, 1816 and christened Maria according to the Grubb Church baptismal records. The will of Frederick Meiser 4/9, refers to his daughter Ann and his granddaughter Elizabeth Kremer.

Ann is believed to have married Elijah Kremer who died prior to May 7, 1843 since that is the recorded date that she married Amos Shadle who is also mentioned in Frederick 4/9's will.

Personal records of Frederick Meiser 5/5 dated 1875 show that she was then a widow of George Miller of Union County.

No further records were found on this family.

JOSEPH MEISER 5/4

JOSEPH MEISER 5/4, son of Frederick Meiser 4/9 (Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Margaret Bilger, was born in Chapman Township, Union County, Pennsylvania, November 12, 1827. He first married Hannah Shadle (born December 3, 1825; died March 3, 1869) on June 10, 1851. Upon the death of Hannah in 1869, he married Rebecca Hummel, born June 5, 1842.

The 1850 Union County census lists Joseph, age 22, living with his father (occupation laborer). In 1860 he is listed as a farmer and 1870 as a retired farmer. There is little doubt that Joseph was a man of considerable wealth. In 1885 Meiserville consisted of a store, hotel, gristmill, wagon-manufacturing shop, blacksmith shop, shoe repair shop, farm and nine dwellings, all owned by Joseph Meiser. He is reported to have owned the gristmill and sawmill at the foot of Shade Mountain, just north of Mt. Pleasant Mills; the Schnee mill in Mt. Pleasant Mills; the sawmill near Aline and the gristmill in Meiserville.

Joe was said to be very generous to the poor, giving them food and clothing in times of need.

Joseph Meiser died September 27, 1896 and his wife Rebecca, died December 11, 1921. All are buried at Grubb's Church Cemetery.

HENRY MEISER 6/2, son of Joseph Meiser 5/4 (Frederick Meiser 4/9, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Hannah Shadle, was born April 8, 1853 in Perry Township, Union County, Pennsylvania. He married Phoeby Ann Herold (born 1855) on February 6, 1892. He purchased the farm and sawmill near Aline from Johnny Peffer in 1892. This is the site of the sawmill built by Henry Meiser 3/4 about 1796 and the oil mill built by John Michael Meiser in 1800.

He proceeded to modernize the sawmill by replacing the "up and down" saw with a circular saw. In 1902 he built a cider press and later installed machinery for manufacturing wood shingles.

Henry was well-liked by his neighbors and was called upon to mediate disputes. His family attended the Aline Church standing near by.

Henry Meiser died in 1926 and his wife Annie Herold Meiser in 1932. Both are buried at Grubb's Church. Upon his death, his son Joseph 7/2 operated the mills and farm until 1956 when they were sold to the present owners Daniel and Mattie Troyer, Amish farmers.

CHILDREN:

MARTHA O. MEISER 7/3, daughter of David Meiser 6/6 (Joseph Meiser 5/4, Frederick Meiser 4/9, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Annie Naugle, was born November 20, 1900 in Meiserville, Pennsylvania. She married Paul O. Frank, born August 30, 1900. They resided in Sunbury, Pennsylvania.

Preservation of a small German Bible by Martha enabled the editors to verify the names and birth dates of the children of Joseph Meiser 5/4 for in this Bible the family had recorded information that was impossible to obtain from any other source.

Martha's husband Paul died in 1954.

FREDERICK MEISER, JR. 5/5

FREDERICK MEISER, JR., 5/5, son of Frederick Meiser 4/9 (Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Margaret Bilger was born June 23, 1829 in Chapman Township, Union County, Pennsylvania. His boyhood was spent learning the mill-ing trade from his father in the gristmill still standing in Meiserville. He first married Martha House, born February 5, 1836, daughter of Ephrim House and Mary Scott.

Ephrim House was of German descent, living first in New Jersey and later in Perry County, Pennsylvania. Mary Scott was of English descent arriving in America at age 16 with her father who returned to England but was lost at sea on the return voyage. Mary Scott was described as being small in stature but a woman of intelligence and excellent strength of character.

As will be reported later in detail, the descendants of Ephrim House are closely identified with the history of the Meiser family. For this reason, the known descendants of Ephrim House and Mary Scott are reported here.

John House, born July 4, 1832; died 1912; 1st married Catherine Brooker; 2nd married Elizabeth Limbert, born 1845; died 1920. Following his first marriage in 1856 in Snyder County, Pennsylvania, he moved to Pulaski County, Indiana where he stayed seven months. He returned to Pennsylvania for 12 years and then moved to Prairie Buchanan, Berrien County, Michigan.

Martha House, born February 5, 1836; died May 16, 1862; married Frederick Meiser 5/5.

Amos C. House, born May 24, 1843; married Eliza (Rhodes) Rough, born May 16, 1843. At age 24 journeyed to Missouri; later moved to Indiana and finally located at Prairie Buchanan, Berrien County, Michigan. He became a wealthy land-owner in Berrien County.

Cyrus L. House joined his two brothers in Michigan but later moved to Dakota Territory.

James House also moved to Michigan but like his brother Cyrus, moved to Dakota Territory.

Sarah House married to John Barner moved to Michigan but also settled in Dakota Territory.

Five children were born to the union of Martha House and Frederick Meiser 5/5:

CHILDREN:

6/1 Frederick House Meiser

6/4 Joseph House Meiser

6/2 Margaret House Meiser

6/5 Martha House Meiser

6/3 John House Meiser

All of the children subsequently moved to Prairie Buchanan, Michigan and Dakota Territory. The three boys eventually settled in Oregon and Washington.

Following the death of Frederick Meiser's 5/5 first wife May 16, 1862, he married Catherine A. Lower on April 14, 1863. Catherine was born October 23, 1844; died March 22, 1864. She is buried at Barner's Church, Perry County, Pennsylvania.

CHILDREN:

6/6 Catherine A. Meiser

Frederick Meiser 5/5 then married Catherine's sister, Sarah A. Lower on October 17, 1865. She was born December 17, 1842 and died April 10, 1890. The following children were born of this marriage:

6/7 Jacob L. Meiser

6/8 Mary Meiser, born Sept. 30, 1867; died Jan. 10, 1871.

6/9 Eliza A. Meiser, born March 29, 1869; died Jan. 12, 1871.

Sarah is buried along side Frederick at the Church of the Brethren Cemetery near Oriental.

Frederick, following the death of his third wife, married Barbara Longenecker. No further records have been found on this marriage.

Frederick Meiser, Jr. 5/5 inherited his father's plantation and gristmill at Meiserville according to his father's will probated in 1856. He was also the executor of his father's estate. Both the 1850 and 1860 census list him as a miller by trade. On April 10, 1866 Governor Andrew G. Curtin of the State of Pennsylvania signed Frederick's commission as a duly elected Justice of the Peace, Township of Perry, County of Snyder. Numerous documents in the possession of his descendants attest to the many duties of his office.

Although the 1870 census lists him as a farmer, he must have continued his interests in the gristmills since he is credited with replacing the log gristmill near Oriental with a modern brick structure in 1883. During the period 1860-1875 he must have sold the gristmill at Meiserville to his brother Joseph Meiser 5/4 who is credited with ownership of the mill in 1875.

Frederick Meiser 5/5 died September 14, 1907 and is buried by the side of his third wife, Sarah, at the Church of the Brethren Cemetery near Oriental, Pennsylvania.

born in Snyder County, Pennsylvania August 21, 1854. He married Laura V. Smith, born May 26, 1858 on October 8, 1876. Laura was the daughter of Clarissa T. Robbins and William T. Smith.

Following their marriage, Frederick H. Meiser and his wife moved to Prairie Buchanan, Berrien County, Michigan, probably because his uncles Amos, John and Cyrus House had already settled there and were encouraging others from Snyder County to do likewise.

In September of 1878 he moved his family to Dakota Territory in Armstrong County. He relates in letters to his father of the heavy snows and winter storms. His desire was to discontinue working at day-labor and raise cattle. He complained of the 15 to 20% interest rate levied on borrowed capital.

After several years in the Dakotas, Frederick moved further West, this time to Linn County in the Willamette Valley of Oregon. A log cabin was built and land cleared for a garden.

In the 1890's Frederick moved once more to Big Oak Flats in California where he purchased a prune ranch. Following the harvest, the prunes were shipped to Chicago only to be lost in the great railroad strike.

In 1907 Frederick moved to the State of Washington, pioneering once more in the Grandview district. Potatoes were the most important crop at that time.

Laura preceded Frederick in death on June 6, 1936 whereas Frederick died May 19, 1945. Both are buried at Grandview, Washington.

FREDERICK S. MEISER 7/1, son of Frederick H. Meiser 6/1 (Frederick Meiser, Jr. 5/5, Frederick Meiser 4/9, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meiser 1/1) and Laura V. Smith, was born in Berrien County, Michigan June 21, 1878. At the age of three months, along with his father and mother, a span of mules and a covered wagon, he began the long journey to Dakota Territory. His stay in the Dakotas was brief for in the 1880's his family moved to Oregon only to move again to northern California.

At the age of seventeen Frederick obtained a job cutting timber for the Longfellow Mining Company, a firm engaged in mining gold. Here he lived in Mark Twain's Calaveras County cabin for a two year period. Within the cabin was a suitcase containing some of Mark Twain's writings and sketches. Included were drills used in mining which are now displayed in a museum owned by Gladys Meiser Mitchell 8/3.

On April 6, 1904 he married Ruby J. Varain born June 26, 1888 and they decided to homestead in Oregon raising wheat and grazing cattle. Once irrigation opened up the Yakima Valley in Washington for homesteading, they again moved to Grandview, Washington where the land was cleared of sagebrush and seeded into alfalfa. Potatoes were also an important crop.

In 1927 Frederick S. Meiser 7/1 and his wife separated. On September 10, 1940 he married Josephine M. Iverson born December 25, 1890. He continued to farm until his retirement.

Frederick S. Meiser died January 15, 1966 and is buried at Grandview, Washington.

MARGARET H. MEISER 6/2, daughter of Frederick Meiser, Jr. 5/5 (Frederick Meiser 4/9, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Martha House, was born in Snyder County, Pennsylvania, May 13, 1856. She married Aaron Kline (born May 20, 1852) and probably because of her uncle's Amos, John and Cyrus House's invitation, moved to Buchanan, Berrien County, Michigan, arriving there February 21, 1880.

Their first letters tell of their being befriended by uncle's John and Cyrus but complaining of the prices charged by Uncle Amos House for wagons and other necessities. They remained in Michigan for some period of time since a letter post marked at Buchanan, Michigan in 1881 relates their good fortunes and tells of their children Frederick and Daisy's desire to visit grandpa.

By January 21, 1885 they were living in Dakota City, Dakota Territory since Lewis Carvell's letter of that date states "Aaron is teaching school with 28 scholars on roll. He has Russians, Germans and Americans. But in general he has a good school and all are learning well."

In 1896 Aaron and his family moved to Canton, Mississippi where Aaron died in October of 1903. His body was shipped to Parkston, South Dakota for burial and all the family except Daisy Kline 7/2 returned to South Dakota.

Margaret Meiser 6/2 and her children moved to Max, North Dakota in 1906 where Margaret died in January of 1929. Her body is interred along side her husband's at Parkston, South Dakota.

JOHN H. MEISER 6/3, son of Frederick Meiser, Jr. 5/5 (Frederick Meiser 4/9, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Martha House, was born in Snyder County, Pennsylvania in 1858. He married Emma M. Barner, (born January 7, 1861), on March 2, 1879 and must have moved almost immediately to Michigan since a letter postmarked Buchanan, Michigan November 30, 1879 is in the possession of his relatives in Snyder County. He probably farmed on shares for his Uncle Amos House for a short period. By November 18, 1883 he and his wife had moved to Iroquois, Kingsburg County, Dakota Territory.

His communication from Iroquois mentions his working as a carpenter for 25c per hour and the following market prices for household necessities:

Hay, $4.00 to $6.00 per ton; Oats, 25c per bushel; Barley, 30c per bushel; wheat 65c per bushel.

Potatoes, 25c per bushel; flour, $1.60 for 50#; beef 8 to 15c per pound; pork 8 to 12c per pound; eggs 20c a dozen; apples $2.00 per bushel; fruit 15c to 25c per quart.

Pennsylvania hard coal, $12.00 per ton; Iowa soft coal, $7.00 per ton; kerosene 25c per gallon; gasoline 25c per gallon.

In 1909 he moved to Twin Falls, Idaho where he worked as a carpenter building many of the homes in the Twin Falls area.

John died June 12, 1931 and his wife died July 18, 1931. Both are buried in Twin Falls, Idaho.

JOSEPH H. MEISER 6/4 and his wife IDA LEIGHT. Son, Martin M. Meiser 7/1.

JOSEPH H. MEISER 6/4, son of Frederick Meiser, Jr. 5/5 (Frederick Meiser 4/9, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meiser 1/1) and Martha House, was born in Snyder County, Pennsylvania in 1860 where he grew to man-hood and was united in marriage with Ida P. Leight in 1882. He must have moved to Michigan shortly after his marriage since letters postmarked Buchanan, Michigan December 30, 1882 are in the possession of his relatives. By 1884 they had moved to Iroquois, Dakota Territory.

His first letter postmarked November 3, 1884 states "finishing up seven school houses that we were talking about when father was out here", thus he must have been working as a carpenter at that time. January 26, 1886, on Charles Knecht, General Merchandise stationery, he writes about working for Charles Knecht and being granted a wage increase of $5 making his monthly income $30.00.

Evidently he formed a business partnership with his employer as they moved to Albany, Oregon in 1891 and opened a variety store featuring imports from Germany and other European countries. He later purchased Charles Knecht's interest in the business and operated the same along with his son Martin M. Meiser.

Joseph went to Dawson in 1898-1899 during the Klondike Gold Rush. He crossed the treacherous Chilkoot Pass and shot the rapids at White Horse. It is said that he returned with exactly the same amount of money in his pocket as he had when he left. His son, Martin, stayed in Oregon with friends.

Joseph sold the store in 1914 and spent several years doing carpentry work in that area. His last few remaining years were spent on the farm at Scio, Oregon. He died in 1932 and his wife Ida May 26, 1893. She was born Oct. 7, 1861. They are both buried in the Riverside Cemetery, Albany, Oregon.

CHILDREN:

7/1 Martin M. Meiser

MARTIN M. MEISER 7/1, son of Joseph H. Meiser 6/4 (Frederick Meiser, Jr. 5/5, Frederick Meiser 4/9, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Ida P. Leight (Light), was born October 7, 1882 in Snyder County, Pennsylvania. By age six he had lived in three different States and had traveled almost the entire North American Continent.

Martin attended Oregon State College then went into partnership with his father in Albany, eventually opening the same type of store in Dallas, Oregon. Ill health forced him to leave the store and for several years he engaged in farming. In 1925 the family moved to Camas, Washington, where he purchased the Fain Grocery. Martin was active in business men's organizations, philanthropic agencies, and particularly interested in the Boy Scouts of America.

Martin married Bertha Dorris who was born April 23, 1884 and died August 14, 1952. Martin died January 15, 1942. They are both buried in Riverside Cemetery, Albany, Oregon.

MEISER 6/6, daughter of Frederick Meiser, Jr. 5/5 (Frederick Meiser 4/9, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Martha House, was born May 19, 1862 in Snyder County, Pennsylvania. She married Lewis B. Carvell March 8, 1878 and by September 12, 1880 had established themselves in Buchanan, Berrien County, Michigan where he clerked in a store at a wage of $30 per month.

By July of 1883 they were seriously considering an invitation from their Uncle Cyrus House to join him in Dakota Territory. Evidently they accepted his invitation since their letter postmarked January 21, 1885 Dakota City, Dakota describes the hardships of pioneering. "We have been able so far to keep warm in our sod house and with our Russian oven. We have not been lucky enough this winter to shoot one Jack Rabbit, there are many rabbits but so far they have been too sharp for us. We are now talking of getting a Gill net for fishing in the Spring. We think we can catch pickerel by the wagon load."

Martha died April 1, 1925 and Lewis, May 30, 1925. Both are buried at Washburn, North Dakota.

JACOB L. MEISER 6/7, son of Frederick Meiser, Jr. 5/5 (Frederick Meiser 4/9, Henry Meiser 3/4, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Sarah A. Lower, was born in 1865 near Oriental, Snyder County, Pennsylvania. He married Mary Secrist, born April 21, 1864. Jacob operated the gristmill on the Mahantango Creek near the village of Oriental although the farmstead and mill were in Snyder County.

It is not known why the youngest of Frederick's 5/6 four sons was the one to follow in his father's footsteps. It can only be surmised that the older brothers preferred the adventure of homesteading in the Mid-West to the uneventful experience of farming in Snyder County.

Documents in the possession of Jacob's descendants indicate that he operated the mill until his death in 1938. He and his wife, along with an infant son are buried at Barner's Church in Perry County. Mary, his wife, followed Jacob in death in 1942.

DESCENDANTS OF JACOB MEISER 6/7

Back Row, Left to Right: Ida Chubb Meiser, J. Norman Meiser 7/4, Quilla Meiser 7/3 Wallace Hockenbrock, Katheryn Holibaugh, Glen Meiser 8/1.

Fortunately Jacob preserved many letters, deeds and historical documents pertaining to the Meisers as well as to the Secrists. From these papers the Meisser Genealogical Association was able to verify the migration of numerous Snyder County families to other locations throughout the United States. Historians will find these records of great assistance in years to come.

SECTION THREE

MARY MARGARET MEISER 3/5, ANNA MARIA MEISER 3/6, JOHN "JOHANNES" MEISER 3/7 AND DESCENDANTS.

MARY MARGARET MEISER 3/5

MARY MARGARET MEISER 3/5, daughter of Johann Michael Meiser 2/2 (Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Elizabeth Sixt (thought to be Zecht), was born ca. 1729/35 in Millbach Pennsylvania. She married Jost Hoffman before 1749. There is no further documented evidence as to the descendants of Mary Margaret Meiser 3/5 and Jost Hoffman; however, the editors are including the following information in the hope that it will aid future historians.

1. Septennial Census 1779, Heidelberg Twp., Lancaster County, lists a Jost Hoffman along with George Hoffman, George Messer (Meisser) 3/1, George Meser (Meisser) Jr. 4/2, John Messer (Meisser) 4/3. Furtig Wolfesperger, Philip Wolfesperger and Peter Wolfesperger.
2. Septennial Census 1786, Heidelberg Twp., Dauphin County, lists Yost Hoffman along with George Meisser 3/1, George Meisser Jr. 4/2 and Peter Wolfesperger.

It appears that a Jost Hoffman did indeed live in Heidelberg Township, however there is no evidence as to the names of his descendants.

ANNA MARIA MEISER 3/6

ANNA MARIE MEISER 3/6, daughter of Johann Michael Meiser 2/2 (Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Elizabeth Sixt (thought to be Zecht), was born ca. 1731/35 in Millbach, Pennsylvania. She married Jacob Rabold. There is no further evidence as to the descendants of Anna Maria Meiser 3/6 and Jacob Rabold. The only possible reference to such a person is the 1786 Septennial Census of Dauphin County which lists a Jacob Rabold in the same township as Frederick Wolfesperger (Wolfpertsberger) who married Anna Meiser 3/8.

JOHN "JOHANNES" MEISER 3/7 AND DESCENDANTS

JOHN (JOHANNES) MEISER 3/7, son of Johann Michael Meiser 2/2 (Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Elizabeth Sixt (thought to be Zecht), was born at Millbach in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, ca. 1732/1736 and died in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania ca. November 19, 1795 as per will filed at Sunbury, Pennsylvania.

He married Catharine ——— prior to 1758. No record could be found on this marriage or of the bride's parents. No other dates and locations for Catharine could be determined.

Records reveal that John (Johannes) Meiser lived in the Millbach/Schaefferstown area (a son, George Michael, was baptized on March 27, 1758) and about 1776 or a year or two earlier, he moved to Penns Township in Northumberland County, as in this year he was listed as "additional resident" by Linn's "Annals of Buffalo Valley". Records show he took up land here and was taxed for the first time in 1776. He was road supervisor in Penns Township in 1778. In 1781 he was assessed with a hundred acres of land and personal property. Three John Meisers lived in Penns Township at the same time. They were John Sr., his son, John Jr., and John, son of Henry Sr., who was a brother of John Sr.

In 1790 John Sr. was listed as having five males over sixteen and four females.

A John Meiser served in each of the following organizations:

- 1 - Captain Benjamin Weiser's Company, German Regiment Continental Line.
- 2 - Captain Michael Motz's Company.
- 3 - Captain John Snyder's Company.
- 4 - Captain Michael Weaver's Company.
- 5 - Ensign Simon Harrold's party.
- 6 - Lt. Jacob Speer's County Militia and Rangers.

The following service records are also listed for a John Meiser:

- a - John Meiser, Pvt., 8 days, Pennsylvania Archives S-5, Volume 9, page 680.
- b - John Meiser, Pvt., 9 days, Pennsylvania Archives, S-5, Volume 8, page 679.
- c - John Meiser, 6th & 7th Class, 2nd Batt., Lancaster Militia, 1781, Pennsylvania Archives, S-6, Volume 4.
- d - John Meiser, Northumberland County, Militia—Capt. John Snyder, Pennsylvania Archives, S-5, Volume 8.
- e - John Meiser, Rangers Frontier, 1778-1783, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania Archives, S-6, Volume 23.

f - John Meiser, Soldier of the Revolution, Continental Line, Northumberland County, 1778-1783, S-5, Volume 4, page 688.

g - John Meiser Penns Township, 1776, Private, Capt. Benj. Weiser, Northumberland County Militia; Also Capt. Michael Weaver—Capt. Charles Myers — Ranger (Meyser), Pennsylvania Archives S-3, Volume 23, page 256/257/341, Pennsylvania Archives S-5, Volume 8, page 662, also Capt. Michael Motz.

There seems to be no doubt whatsoever that John (Johannes) Meiser served in the Revolutionary War, particularly "g" above, as this is the date and locale of his residence at the time, based on historic and land and tax records.

John (Johannes) Meiser left a will probated at Sunbury, Pennsylvania, on November 19, 1795. It mentions children John, George, Margaret (Mrs. Peter Stoke) who had two daughters and who died before her father, Barbara (Mrs. George Coystervite) who also died before her father and who had children, Elizabeth, Margaret, Barbara and George Coystervite. The will further states John had three sons and four daughters but names only two sons—John and George—and two daughters, Mrs. Coystervite and Mrs. Stoke. He did not mention his wife, indicating she may have died before him. He was building a new house at the writing of his will, as he specified an additional ninety pounds of the first money to be paid to his son, George, for his "cost and trouble" to "finish" the house. The unnamed son is believed to be Jacob. This Jacob appears in Pennsylvania Archives S-6, Volume 23, as follows:

Penns Township 1776 - Northumberland Rangers, Jacob Meiser (son of John Meiser Sr.,) served under Capt. Michael Motz of Northumberland County Militia.

No record could be found proving this Jacob was the son of John (Johannes) Meiser, except the listing on page 57 of Snyder County Pioneers by Fisher.

CHILDREN:

4/1 George Michael, baptized March 27, 1758 in Millbach, Pennsylvania.

4/2 Johannes Adam, baptized April 2, 1760, in Millbach, Pennsylvania.

4/3 Catharine Elizabeth, baptized April 2, 1760, in Millbach, Pennsylvania.

4/4 Mary Elizabeth, baptized July 19, 1761, in Millbach, Pennsylvania.

4/5 John George, baptized October 17, 1762, in Millbach, Pennsylvania.

4/6 Jacob.

4/7 Barbara, married George Coystervite.

CHILDREN:

5/1 Elizabeth Coystervite

5/3 Barbara Coystervite

5/2 Margaret Coystervite

5/4 George Coystervite

4/8 Margaret, married Peter Stoke, had two daughters.

JOHN MEISER 4/2

JOHN MEISER 4/2, son of John (Johannes) Meiser 3/7 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Catharine ———, was born at Millbach, Pennsylvania, and was baptized "Johannes Adam Meiser" at the Millbach Church, presently in Lebanon County, Pennsylvania, on April 2, 1760. He died in Jefferson County, Ohio, ca. June 1, 1812, and is buried on the farm he owned and lived on at the time of his death. The area is presently in Harrison County, Ohio, being a part of Section 20, Township 11, Range 4 of the Steubenville District Lands.

He married Rosina Eckhart as evidenced in a baptismal record under the date of April 4, 1792, when "Johannes Meiser and his wife Rosina" were sponsors to the baptism of Johannes Jacob Miller, son of Johannes Miller and wife, Elizabeth. (Baptisms 1776-1876, Grubbs Church, Chapman Township, Snyder County, Pennsylvania, page 1, line 4—a translation by Karl Schild, recorded at the Lutheran Seminary Library in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.) No other record has been found of this marriage. Rosina (Eckhart) Meiser is found listed in the will of her father, Jacob Eckhart, Northumberland County, Vol. 2, p. 108.

He is first recorded in 1776 as living in Penns Township, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, as additional resident. He was assessed there for the first time in 1782, and in that year he was taxed with a hundred acres of land and personal property. When Mahantango Township was formed from the lower part of Penns in 1796, his name did not appear on the tax list there, indicating he may have removed from that section. Fisher feels sure that he served in the Revolution. We next find him living in Jefferson County, Ohio, September 6, 1806, having on this date purchased 160 acres of land from Mathias Stoll, covering a parcel of land "lying on the waters of Cross Creek, Jefferson County, Ohio, and being part of Section 20, Township 11, range 4, in the Steubenville District . . ." He died here ca. June 1, 1812, and is buried on the farm.

In his will, dated June 1, 1812, John Meiser does not mention his wife, indicating she may have died before him. He specifies a bequeath of twenty-five dollars to be paid to his daughter Elizabeth, "not as part of her Legacie . . ." and the balance to be equally divided between his eight children.

Jacob Levensgood and Christopher Shaber were designated executors.

JOHN MIZER 5/1

JOHN MIZER 5/1, son of John Meiser 4/2 (John Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Rosina Eckhart, was born in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania in the year 1782 according to the U.S. census records.

He married Elizabeth Miller of Jefferson County, Ohio February 7, 1804. This is recorded in the marriage records of Jefferson County. Two of his sons, Henry and John Jr., were born here. Soon afterward they all moved to Tuscarawas County, Ohio where they became the first settlers in what is now Auburn Township, ca. 1811.

The records of the General Land Office Show that Military Bounty Land Warrant 27893, 160 acres, Act of 1855, was issued to "John Miser. Private, Captain Casebear's Company, Ohio Militia, War of 1812." On July 7, 1865, John Miser, "For value received," sold and assigned this warrant to William Lukens. On September 25, 1857, William Lukens used this warrant to locate the West 1/2 of the Southwest 1/4 of Section 4 and the East 1/2 of the Southeast 1/4 of Section 5, in Township 22 South of Range 16, containing a total of 160 acres. This land was located in Coffey County, Kansas Territory.

The land on which John 5/1 settled was an eighty-acre tract which he obtained from the U.S. Government. It is said that he walked to Zanesville, Ohio to obtain his deed. The farm is now known as the John Young farm and it is located about one mile south of Ragersville. It was on this farm that the third son, George, was born. This was in the year 1812 and according to the History of Tuscarawas County, Ohio by Mansfield, 1884, he was the first white child born within the limits of Tuscarawas County. The fourth son, Jacob, was born here in 1813.

John Miser lived in a day when communication was very slow. It has been said that John related that it took three months to get the news after Admiral Perry drove the British from Lake Erie.

John Miser loved to hunt and therefore remained in Auburn Township only twelve to fifteen years while game was plentiful. When the wild game became scarce he sold his eighty acres and moved to Evans Valley in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. There game was plentiful. He purchased 700 acres of land for ten dollars per acre.

For a few years before 1843 the county paid a bounty on wolves. Mr. Miser shot forty-seven, far more than anyone else in the county. He also shot a 700 pound bear and two panthers; measuring eleven feet and twelve feet respectively. He and his son George shot thirty-one deer in one day. The family made their own clothing from some of these skins. It is said that much of Mrs. Miser's clothing was made of buckskin.

Many and varied were the experiences of Mr. Miser. One day while Mr. Miser was hunting wolves he was suddenly attacked by a catamount (wild cat) which jumped from a tree and onto his back. He pressed it against a tree, drew his hunting knife and plunged it into the beast's side several times. The animal struggled to get away but the repeated blows from the knife soon dropped the catamount dead at his feet. It was the largest of the species ever seen in this part of the country. It measured three feet in length and weighed 100 pounds. As the result, Mr. Miser had back injuries which bothered him for sometime, but he was soon out hunting more wolves.

When he was a boy Indians often stopped at their house to spend the night. Usually not more than one or two at any one time. They slept by the fireplace and always with their heads toward the fire. After staying for a few meals they would go on their way. Mr. Miser said, "They almost ate us out of house and home." On one occasion they returned within a few days with bountiful supply of fresh meat in exchange for the kindness shown them.

It was about the year 1832 that the farmers in the Stonecreek Valley were having trouble with something taking their chickens, little pigs and small lambs. They were unable to find what it was so they asked the "Mizer Hunters" to come and help them. They consented to do so as soon as there was a snowfall for tracking. The day came and John Miser

Sr., his son, John Mizer, Jr., and perhaps his older son, Henry, and his brother, "Big Jake" Mizer went to find the beast making off with the farm animals. They followed some tracks to a cave in "Stucky Hollow." Now the big question came. "Who should go into the cave?" After much reasoning they decided John Jr. should go since he was the only one unmarried and therefore if he should be killed the loss would be less. John took a well loaded gun and went into the cave, the others stood by the entrance. After sometime of waiting they heard a faint shot, then silence. Finally a coarse voice said, "Give me another gun." Taking another gun he re-entered the cave. They heard another shot. Soon John Mizer Jr. reappeared at the mouth of the cave with two large panthers.

When the Amish settled north of Baltic, they kept their horses in a corral. One night the horses got out and wandered over the hills to Evans Creek and followed the valley south. The next day several Amish men tracked them to Evans Creek and asked Mr. Mizer to help round them up. Mr. Mizer followed the tracks to Orange, along the river to Coshocton, then up the Walhonding Valley. As it was growing dark he found a place to sleep in a pile of leaves beside a fallen tree. It was the late autumn and quite cool so he nestled down inside a pile of leaves. When he awoke the next morning he felt something moving under him. It was a large black snake which had become warm and began to crawl. The next day he found the horses and took them to the Amish owners at Baltic.

One summer evening when Mr. Mizer was on the hill above his house he came upon a rattle-snake. He killed it and then discovered he was near a rattle-snake den. There were snakes all around as they were returning to their abode for the night. As was customary, Mr. Mizer was wearing leather boots so he began stamping the snakes and hitting them with the butt of his gun.

One Sunday afternoon the Mizer children wanted to go and play with the children on the Shank Farm (now the Mark Mizer farm). It was one mile by following the road, but only one-half mile along the path through the woods. When the children had not returned in the expected time Mr. Mizer went to look for them. He followed the path through the woods and after being deep in the wooded area he heard something coming toward him, puffing and snorting. He stepped aside and a large panther rushed by. With this he became more worried about the children and hurried on to the Shank home where he found all the children safe.

John Mizer's grandson, Simon Mizer 7/2 relates that his grandfather shot the last Indian in this part of the country. The Indian boasted about killing ninety-nine white people and as proof he had the tongues strung on a cord and wore them about his neck. He told John Mizer about a widowed lady who lived alone and would be his hundredth victim. The Indian would need to cross a stream on a foot-log to reach the lady's house. Mr. Mizer cautiously watched as he was about to commit this cruel act. He saw the Indian enter the log, but waited until he was about in the center of the stream when he shot, and the Indian fell into the water below.

John Mizer purchased the first sawmill in the Bucks Township Area. It was run by water-power and the dam was just below the Evans Creek Church. (The taxation value being $100) The mill was in his possession from 1832 to 1834 when he sold it to his son, Henry. Henry Mizer operated it until he died in 1842 after which it was sold to his two youngest brothers, George and Jacob. (Taxation value $50) They operated it there for many years, until steam power replaced water power.

When the building of the first church was contemplated, Benjamin Helwig of the German Reformed congregation and Jacob Mizer of the Evangelical Lutheran congregation were selected to choose a site for a church and cemetery plot. They chose two acres from the John Mizer farm and for it he was paid one dollar per acre. The first church was built there in 1834 although both congregations had been organized a year or two before this date. This church is today's Salem Evangelical Lutheran Church.

On the evening of October 5, 1859, John Mizer and his son, Jacob, were attending a political meeting at Bakersville when Mr. Mizer suffered a stroke of apoplexy. He turned to his son Jacob, handed him his watch and quietly and quickly passed away. He was buried in the Evans Creek Church Cemetery. His wife Elizabeth remained on the old homestead (known as the Grover Mizer 8/8 farm) making her home with her son, Jacob. She died November 28, 1870 at the age of 85 years 11 months and 28 days. She is also buried in the Evans Creek Church Cemetery. They were both faithful members of this church from the time it was organized.

HENRY MIZER 6/1, son of John Mizer 5/1 (John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Elizabeth Miller, was born ca. 1807 in Jefferson County, Ohio and died in 1842 in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. He is buried in the Evans Creek Cemetery near Bakersville, Ohio.

Henry married Mary Margaret Sherretts, the daughter of Adam Sherretts and Catherine Miller, on May 31, 1827. She was born February 11, 1809. Henry moved to Auburn Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio with his parents ca. 1811. About 1825 he moved to Evans Valley where he lived the rest of his life.

In 1834 Henry purchased the water-powered sawmill from his father, John Mizer 5/1, which carried a tax value of $75. When he died, his uncle, Philip Mizer 5/7, who was a cabinet maker, made the casket. The cost of the casket was five dollars and the total funeral expense was twenty-six dollars.

JOHN MISER, JR. 6/2, son of John Mizer 5/1 (John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Elizabeth Miller, was born about 1809 in Jefferson County, Ohio (Census); married Betsy Jane Menser March 3, 1836 at Coshocton County, Ohio. She was born about 1818 (Census) Ohio.

John Miser was a great hunter following in the footsteps of his father who was known for his hunting exploits and was referred to as "The Hunter" by all in the region as related in a prior paragraph sketching his life.

After John married he resided in Adams Township, Coshocton County, Ohio being listed on the Coshocton County Tax List through 1858. In 1859 he moved to somewhere in Iowa with his entire family (except his eldest daughter Mary Elizabeth who had married Jesse March in 1857). Considerable research on the location of this family "somewhere in Iowa" has proven negative.

CHILDREN of John Miser 6/2 and Betsy Jane Menser taken from the 1850 Census of Adams Township, Coshocton County, Ohio were:

7/1 Mary Elizabeth Miser

7/4 Nancy Miser

7/2 Jacob Miser

7/5 Delilah Miser

7/3 John Miser

MARY ELIZABETH MISER 7/1, daughter of John Miser, Jr. 6/2, (John Mizer 5/1, John

JESSE EDWARD MARCH and wife MARY ELIZABETH MISER 7/1

Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Betsy Jane Menser, was born in Adams Township, Coshocton County, Ohio and was baptized at the Evans Creek Lutheran Church on December 19, 1837. Mary died in New Philadelphia, Ohio on December 22, 1918.

Mary Elizabeth Miser married 1st, September 24, 1857, Jesse Edward March, son of John March and Sarah Evans. They resided on 40 acres of land Jesse purchased from his father, being part of a tract of 160 acres his father entered in 1833 for which he received patents in 1835. Jesse was born on these lands September 21, 1836. His mother died at his birth and was the first to be buried in the "March" Cemetery which is adjacent to the lands John then owned. Jesse died May 17, 1869 and is buried alongside his mother and father who preceded him in death on April 15, 1868.

Six children were born to this marriage:

8/1 John Marvin March

8/2 Mary Elizabeth March, born April 7, 1860; died June 22, 1888; married Lewis M. Everhart

9/1 Jesse E. Everhart, born June 11, 1883; died Sept. 16, 1883.

8/3 James M. March

8/4 Charles H. March

8/5 Eliza Jane March

8/6 Amanda Alice March

Following the death of Jesse March, Mary E. Miser 7/1 married Peter Ulrich, widower, on October 15, 1876 who had fourteen children by his first wife Christina Reidenbaugh. Peter Ulrich was born January 11, 1825 in Germany, son of George P. Ulrich, who emigrated in 1842 to Port Washington, Tuscarawas County, Ohio where George P. Ulrich died January 4, 1869 and his wife died April 2, 1862. Peter Ulrich first married Christina Reidenbaugh, daughter of Adam Reidenbaugh, on February 18, 1848. She was born in Germany and died in Port Washington, Ohio August 24, 1875.

Four children were born to Mary E. Miser March and Peter Ulrich, making a total of 24 children in the family.

JOHN MARVIN MARCH 8/1, son of Mary E. Miser 7/1 and Jesse March, was born July 6, 1859 in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio and died July 30, 1935 in New Philadelphia, Ohio. He married Lela Rankin ca. 1885. Lela was born February 26, 1870 in Harrison County, Ohio and died June 29, 1955 in New Philadelphia, Ohio. She was the daughter of John Huffman Rankin and Margaret Shipley.

John was ten years old, the eldest of six children, when his father died in 1869. Upon him was thrust the burden of aiding his mother in keeping the family together for the next several years. He continued to live with his mother for a few years and apprenticed himself as a carpenter at an early age. Following his marriage to Lela Rankin, he continued as a carpenter; additionally renting a farm to augment his income. Farming turned into a liability

HELEN ELIZABETH EARLY 10/1, daughter of Ethel E. March 9/4 and Thomas D. Early, was born October 17, 1907 at New Philadelphia, Ohio. She has lived her entire life there. Early in life she became fascinated in the violin which she has played since she was ten years old. She graduated from Waynesburg College Conservatory of Music, took post-graduate work with Dr. Parmelee of Wooster College and later studied in Bremen, Germany where she also played with the Bremen Symphony Orchestra. She has been a member of the Canton Symphony Orchestra since 1949 and has never missed a concert. From 1949 to 1955 she was a teacher of string instruments in the New Philadelphia Public Schools. Since her graduation from college she has been a teacher of violin and viola. In 1960 she completed a degree in Interior Decoration.

In 1967 her children's book "OLIVER" was published.

On November 4, 1932 she married Al Boffo, born June 9, 1903 at Giulianova, Italy, son of Teresa and Alessandro Boffo. At the age of nine he came with his family to Mingo Junction, Ohio. For this trip he was dressed in a white linen suit, made by his mother from home-grown flax and cloth from her loom.

Following graduation from Steubenville Business College in 1921, he worked for the American Gas and Electric Company and the Ohio Power Company in Steubenville and New Philadelphia, Ohio. In 1949 he established his own Carpet and Drapery Business in New Philadelphia, Ohio. More importantly he has devoted immeasurable hours to researching the Meisser family and Boffo family histories. The basic research that enabled many families to identify themselves with their common ancestor, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1 must be credited to this devoted historian.

He migrated with his parents to "Somewhere in Iowa" in 1859. A letter written by John Miser 7/3 to his niece Eliza J. March 8/5, on February 15, 1880 from Tie Siding, Wyoming, states a son John William Miser 8/1 had been born placing John in that locale in 1880.

Laramie County, Wyoming marriage records reveal that he married Lillie Sevelia Potter on February 22, 1876. The records states that John and Lillie were from Minerva County, Iowa. There is no Minerva County in Iowa, but there is a Minerva Township, Marshall County Iowa, however efforts to find further information in Marshall County, proved negative.

Lillie Sevelia Potter Miser married Hugh McKendrick on February 18, 1882 at Laramie, Wyoming. They were divorced at Challis, Idaho in 1909 and subsequently remarried in 1916. The first names of children born to this marriage were: Daniel, Effie, Gertrude, Frank, Claude, Clarence and Harry.

No further records were found on this family.

CHILDREN:

8/1 John William Miser, died in Challis, Idaho on March 29, 1898 as a result of a fall from a galloping horse. He was only a schoolboy at the time.

GEORGE MIZER 6/3, son of John Miser 5/1 (John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Elizabeth Miller was born in the year 1812 in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. He died June 29, 1886 and is buried in the Evans Creek Cemetery.

He married Mary Elizabeth (Betsy) Helwig 5/-, March 23, 1838. She was the daughter of Benjamin Helwig and Mary Mizer 4/5. Benjamin Helwig was a native of Pennsylvania and one of the pioneers to Evans Valley. Mary Elizabeth (Betsy) Helwig's great grandmother was an Indian squaw as told by a granddaughter, Oma McCormick.

In the History of Tuscarawas County, Ohio by Mansfield 1884, page 731, we find the following account of George Mizer:

George Mizer's clothes were of Buckskin, hand made. He was twenty-one years old when he wore his first shoes. He was a great hunter. He and his father made one of their best records when they shot thirty-one deer in one day. He was the first child to be born within the limits of Tuscarawas County, Ohio. He owned 700 acres of land which was later divided among his children.

5. JACOB ('LITTLE JAKE') MIZER 6/4, son of John Mizer 5/1 (John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1), and Elizabeth Miller, was born July 7, 1813 in Auburn Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. When he was about twelve years old, he came with his parents and three brothers to Evans Valley in Bucks Township. Here he spent the rest of his life. He died December 11, 1882 in Evans Valley and is buried in the Evans Creek Cemetery.

Jacob Mizer married (Susannah Summers), daughter of Jacob Summers and Martha Hokerman, of Northumberland County, Pennsylvania. She was born October 1, 1815. Jacob and Susannah got their marriage license in New Philadelphia, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, on May 29, 1834.

Jacob Mizer's second marriage was to Hannah Hawk Mizer Chance, October 6, 1881. She died in 1896 and is buried in the Evans Creek Cemetery.

A grandson of Jacob Mizer, Tom Gerber, related that in 1834 his grandfather, carrying his trusty gun, walked to Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, to get a wife. On the way he came face to face with an Indian who also had a gun. The two looked at each other for a while; suddenly the Indian pointed his gun to the ground as if to say he wanted no harm, and each went his own way. Jacob continued to Northumberland County where he found a 19-year-old girl, Susannah Summers, who promised to be his wife. Her father, born in 1796, was a drummer boy in the War of 1812. After his discharge, he walked 300 miles to return home.

When Jacob returned to Tuscarawas County, Ohio, he not only brought his young sweetheart, but her entire family, consisting of her father, her mother, eight sisters and two brothers. Another sister and a brother were born after the family arrived in Tuscarawas County.

The Summers family settled on a farm about a mile and a half north of the Mizer homestead, which is now the Hershel Vittoe farm. They lived on this farm until 1860 when they sold it and moved to Owen County, Indiana.

Mr. Gerber also stated an incident concerning his grandfather as a young man. While walking through Old Town Valley toward New Philadelphia, Jacob came to an Indian village where there were just a few huts. The Indians knew him and asked him to stay to dinner. Not wanting to offend the Indians, he agreed to stay, but after learning what they were having for dinner, he wished he hadn't consented to do so. The meal consisted of muskrat and skunk cabbage. However, Jacob said it tasted pretty good.

Jacob, as most of the Mizers, liked to hunt. One day, while hunting on the hillside west of the Evans Creek Church, he shot a deer. He, however, just wounded it, and the deer attacked him. It hit his shot pouch, putting a hole in it, before he could get out his hunting knife to finish the job.

Jacob's son, William, told how his father made his own bullets. He made one out of pewter, which was used to kill three deer and a bear. When he shot the last time the bullet lodged in a tree and was lost.

He and his brother, George, operated a water power sawmill in the valley below the Evans Creek Church for many years. They would not saw on Sunday, but when the water was up, they would start to saw as soon as the sun went down and saw all night.

Jacob Mizer served on the first church council of the Evans Creek Lutheran Church. As a representative of the Lutheran congregation, Jacob, along with Benjamin Helwig of the Reformed congregation, were to select a location for the first church and cemetery. In 1836 they selected two acres from Jacob's father's land where the present church and cemetery is located. Jacob served almost continuously on the church council as long as he lived.

In later years Jacob used a cane with a crook to assist him in walking. When he sat in church, he set his cane in front of him, resting his chin on it. Many of the young people never saw him sit in any other position. He would also use the crook on his cane to catch his grandchildren around the neck. They soon learned to keep a safe distance.

FREDERICK MISER 5/4

FREDERICK MISER 5/4, son of John Meiser 4/2 (John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Rosina Eckhart, was born in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, in 1787. He died in January of 1860 and is buried in Feters Cemetery, south west of Bryan, Ohio. On February 18, 1812, he married Elizabeth Bickle in New Philadelphia, Ohio.

His parents resided on a farm now owned by Ernest Johnson of Germano, Ohio. The stone wall and outline of the house can be seen near the waters of Cross Creek, Harrison County.

The History of Coshocton County, pages 557-558, states that Frederick Miser settled in the South half of section one, Millcreek Township, about 1820. It describes him as being of towering stature and strength. It also states that when his rifle would bring down a deer, he was accustomed to swing the deer across his shoulder and continue to hunt until he had shot another. He would then fasten one to each end of a short pole and bear them home on his shoulder. The records show that he was a man of great strength, and possessed a quality of kindness.

The 1830 census reveals he lived in Millcreek Township and that at this time he and his wife were between forty and fifty years of age. The record also shows he had two sons between ten and fifteen years; two sons and one daughter between five and ten years; and one son under five years of age.

The next record found is in Howe's Historical Collections of Ohio, volume 2, page 848. It states "one autumn day two pioneer settlers, namely George W. Bible of Superior Township and Frederick Miser of Centre Township, Williams County, Ohio tried to see who could kill the largest number of deer within two months' time. Mr. Bible killed ninety-eight and Frederick Miser sixty-five. The skins and part of the flesh were sold. The hams were salted down."

Deed records for Williams County, Ohio show that on May 17, 1842, Frederick purchased land there in Pulaski Township. On January 31, 1843, he sold parts of it to his second son, John Miser, and part to Daniel and Elizabeth Feters, his daughter and son-in-law.

JOHN MISER 6/2

Son of Frederick Miser 5/4

JOHN MISER 6/2, son of Frederick Miser 5/4 (John Meiser 4/2, John "Johannes" Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Elizabeth Bickle, was born April 14, 1814 and died January 30, 1886. He married Mary Elizabeth Feters.

John was a great hunter and a strong man. He moved his family from Ohio to Iowa ca. 1850 and settled near Cedar Rapids. His son Henry 7/1 told of the time that a terrible blizzard was lashing the countryside. The children were coming home from school and "Big John" went to meet them. He picked up his daughter in his arms and carried her several miles through the raging storm.

The John Miser family then moved to Kansas by covered wagon. They were followed several miles by an outlaw band but were never attacked.

After his sons Jacob 7/7 and Thomas 7/6 moved to Idaho, John went to visit them. Being a great hunter, he went hunting for deer in what they called the lavas, about twenty miles south of Hailey, Idaho. He was lost from camp and stayed away overnight. He became sick from exposure and never fully recovered. He returned to Kansas where he died soon afterwards. He was buried in the Sherman Cemetery, Cherokee County, Kansas.

Following the death of John Miser 6/2, his widow, Mary Elizabeth, went to Hailey, Idaho to stay with her sons. She died July 25, 1901 at Hailey and is buried there.

On July 5, 1877 Henry Miser 7/1 of Defiance County, Ohio married Rebecca Rex of Hicksville Township in the same county.

Henry could shoot a gun or an arrow and hit the mark everytime. One Thanksgiving a turkey shoot was held near Henry's home. Although near 70 years of age, the young men ruled him out of the shooting since they said he would get all of the turkeys. Although he was never a member of any church, he was generous to the poor and sold wagon loads of wheat from his farm to buy school books for his children.

Henry Meiser 7/1, lived in Ohio, Kansas, Iowa and Tennessee. He had fallen in love with the rugged hills, streams and woodlands of Tennessee while in the Union Army. In 1890 he settled on a farm five miles North of McMinnville, Tennessee. Later he moved to McMinnville where he spent the last few years of his life. He died December 28, 1921 and is buried in the Riverside Cemetery.

MAUDE ELLEN MEISER 8/9, daughter of Henry Meiser 7/1 and Rebecca Rex, was born in Defiance County, Ohio on November 7, 1889. When eighteen months of age, the family moved to near McMinnville, Tennessee. In 1913 she graduated from Dibrell College. She accompanied her parents to Idaho to visit relatives and while traveling alone by train from Hailey to the East Fork School the conductor asked if anyone would meet her at the crossing. When she answered "No" the conductor insisted that she go on to Ketchum and return on the next train to Hailey. However, she insisted on getting off but when the train had gone and she stepped away from the tracks, she went to her knees in the snow. Another step was deeper. Realizing she had a mile and a half to walk, she looked longingly after the train. In what seemed like hours but in reality was only a few minutes, Uncle Jacob Mizer's neices came on horseback to take her to the farm.

On January 20, 1918 Maude married Brown Oliver, the long-time director of the McMinnville Silver Band. Maude was active in women's clubs, church and community affairs and received a citation from the American Red Cross for over 400 hours of volunteer service during World War II. Since her school days, she has taken part in community plays and performed in a play directed by "Minnie Pearl" of W. S. M. "Grand Ole Opry" fame. She also appeared in the McMinnville Sesquicentennial drama "The Ballad of Ben Lomand" in 1960.

The following tribute to "Outstanding Women of Kansas" by Alice M. Wirt bears repeating.

"In paying tribute to the outstanding women of Kansas, the one class I would honor above all others is not the political woman, not the crusader, not the writer, not the welfare worker, but the pioneer mother.

Two weeks ago yesterday, I stood beside all that was mortal of Mrs. Melissa Meiser White, eighty-six years old. Back in the middle 80's I had taught the Wild Cat School, rightly named then, across the Neosho River, east of Montana, and had lived in Mrs. White's plain, well kept pioneer home. A friendship was formed that lasted through life and we each had spent a day with the other within the last few years.

Mrs White was ambitious for her family, her home, her State and fairly well educated for her opportunities. Her children were given the best chance she and her husband were able to give them which was better than their own.

She lived to see her grandchildren college graduates and holding positions of responsibility. To me Mrs. White will always remain in memory the highest type of pioneer woman."

GEORGE MIZER 5/5

GEORGE MIZER 5/5, son of John Meiser 4/2 (John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Rosina Eckhart, was born in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania in the year 1792 as evidenced by the 1800 census records and by information from Snyder County Pioneers, page fifty-seven, where it is stated that John Meiser 4/2 was taxed in Penn Township until the year 1796, after which his name disappears from the tax list. This indicates he moved. The name George Mizer 5/5 also appears as one of the heirs in the will of John Meiser 4/2 filed in Jefferson County, Ohio, on June 1, 1812. It is believed that he came with his father to Jefferson County, Ohio about the year 1800. George Mizer died in Auburn Township near Ragersville, Ohio, on February 25, 1877, at the age of eighty-five years. He was buried in the family cemetery on his farm, which is located about one and a half miles south of the village of Ragersville, Ohio.

According to the Historical Collections of Harrison County, Ohio by Charles A. Hanna, George Mizer married Catharine Markley on August 28, 1816, in Harrison County, Ohio. She was born in 1795 and died in November, 1867, on their farm near the village of Ragersville, Ohio. The 1850 census record gives the age of Catharine as fifty-five years. The date of death is recorded in the pension records for George Mizer, National Archives, Washington, D.C.

George Mizer served in the War of 1812 with the Ohio Militia in Captain George Richardson's Company. He enlisted August 31, 1813, and was discharged December 1, 1813. His duty was to guard prisoners of war to Coshocton, Zanesville, Sandusky and Chillicothe, Ohio. These facts are recorded in the Roster of Veterans of the War of 1812; page 17, Ohio State Library and the National Archives and Records Service, Washington, D.C.

Soon after George was married, he and his wife, Catharine, moved to a farm in Auburn Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. The land they occupied was originally owned by Adam Miser, an uncle, who got the land from the United States General Land Office at Zanesville, Ohio, by patent during the administration of President James Madison. This information is found in the records of the United States Department of the Interior, Bureau of Land Management. The tract of land is further described as being located in the north-west quarter of Section One, Range Four, Township Seven, and being a part of Bucks Township until Auburn Township was established in 1831.

George and his wife lived on this farm until their deaths, having raised a family of nine children as recorded in the will of George Mizer in the Tuscarawas County, Ohio Court Records, on March 17, 1786.

JOHN MIZER 6/1, son of George Mizer 5/5 (John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Catharine Markley was born near the present village of Ragersville, Ohio. A stone marker in the Mizer Family Cemetery on the George Mizer 5/5 farm reveals that he was born June 9, 1818, and died September 10, 1887.

He was married to Mary Spangler on May 9, 1850. Little is known about her parentage. The census records of 1850 show that she and her husband, John were enumerated with the family of his father, George Mizer. This would indicate that perhaps they had not yet established a residence of their own. Mary was born November 5, 1831, and died August 5, 1860. A single marker for the couple can be found in the Mizer Cemetery.

They lived their entire lives on a small farm about one-half mile from his father's farm, the place of his birth. In more recent years the farm was known as the Eli Krebs farm. It was here he and his oldest son, Joseph, constructed a horse-powered cider press almost entirely of wood to make cider from the many apples grown in this vicinity. Long after the Mizers left the farm the press was still in use by the Eli Krebs family.

JOSEPH MIZER 7/1, son of John Mizer 6/1 (George Mizer 5/5, John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Mary Spangler was born in 1851 in Auburn Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio according to the U.S. census records of 1860. He died June 7, 1916, and is buried in the Ragersville Community Cemetery. Joseph married Barbara Ellen Sneary. She was born in 1859 according to the 1880 census. Little has been found concerning her parentage or date of death.

Joseph was a carpenter and was responsible for the construction of many barns throughout Tuscarawas County. He was also a gunsmith and took much pride in his collection of hand-made guns which he used for hunting trips during the winter months.

On August 24, 1837 she married Jacob Domer, born May 4, 1817; died 1874.

The following account of the Domer family is taken from the "History of Tuscarawas County, Ohio" published 1884.

"Listed among the earliest settlers in Sugarcreek Township was Frederick Domer—Judge Domer as he was known—was probably the earliest pioneer. He was a Dunkard, or German Baptist, and entered the southwest quarter of Sec. 3, just south of Shanesville, where he lived a prominent and respected citizen until his death.

His brothers, George, Jacob and Michael, soon followed him to the West. George settled in what is now Auburn Township, and Michael in Holmes County. Jacob entered and settled on the northwest quarter of Section 8, a mile southwest of Shanesville. He was a Dunkard minister and in later life moved to Elkhart County, Indiana."

Data concerning the children of Catherine Mizer 6/2 and Jacob Domer has been obtained from a great granddaughter, Della King Olinger Fisher 9/2; from a great grandson, William King 9/1; and the 1860 Census for Auburn Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio.

MATHIAS MIZER 6/5, son of George Mizer 5/5 (John Meiser 4/2, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/1, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Catherine Markley, was born December 12, 1821, and died July 31, 1904. A tombstone marks his grave in the Readstown, Wisconsin Cemetery.

Mathias was married April 19, 1846, at Ragersville, Ohio, to Mary Ann Miller, daughter of Barney Miller Sr. No records have been located to authenticate the exact date when Mary Ann died. Ada Williams of Madison, Wisconsin, however, reveals that she remembers the time of her grandmother's death. She recalls that Frank Mizer, her uncle, took them in a bob sled over the snow to the funeral and subsequent burial at Jug Creek Cemetery near Rockton, Wisconsin. Ada was eight years old at the time. This would put the date of the death of her grandmother (Mary Ann Miller) at 1896 or the winter of 1897. Although no marker has been found in the Jug Creek Cemetery, the place of her burial has been verified by Millard Towns, a grandson, and Mettie Alvord, a neighbor, who recalled the time of burial.

Mathias and Mary Ann lived in Auburn Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio (Stucky Valley) and raised a family of thirteen children prior to moving to Yuba, Richland County, Wisconsin. They went to Wisconsin and settled on cut-over lands in 1873, according to a granddaughter, Ada Williams. Gottlieb (Fred) Winger, Eli Treacle and Silas Treacle, who married Mathias' and Mary Ann's daughters, Nancy, Mary Ellen (Polly) and Rosanna, took up lands adjoining the Mathias Mizer land.

They rode in wagons which were loaded with their belongings, and drove their cattle with them. Mark Mizer a nephew of Mathias, accompanied them on the journey and returned to Tuscarawas County, Ohio, on foot, according to Pearl Mizer Sewell, a daughter of Mark Mizer.

The lumber barons advertised this cut-over land at very low prices. If they took up the land and lived on it by farming and improving it, the new arrivals had squatter rights, until they received a deed for the lands upon which they had settled.

Mathias first raised potatoes on the new land, but later he found it more suitable for tobacco growing. Tobacco brought a good price at this time but required a great deal of labor. The labor was later provided by his sons.

After living in Yuba for twenty years, Mathias purchased another farm at La Farge, Wisconsin. The County Records at Viroqua reveal the farm was purchased in January, 1893, from the John Jewell Executors—the N. E. 1/4 of Sec. 14.

On September 1, 1879 he married Mary E. Fisher, a sister to the wife of Barney Mizer 7/1.

William was a land speculator and moved about very frequently buying public land and selling when he could double his money. He first took up land in South Dakota, taking his family with him. Within a few years he sold the land and moved to Mikado, Michigan. It is here that his wife Mary died and was buried.

William doubled his money on the Michigan land and returned to Tuscarawas County, Ohio where he engaged in hauling coal. After a period of two years in New Philadelphia, Ohio, he purchased land near Kenton, Ohio. He died of a heart attack March 24, 1924 while visiting in Wisconsin and is buried in the Grove Cemetery, Kenton, Ohio.

DANIEL MIZER 6/8, son of George Mizer 5/5 (John Meiser 4/2, John "Johannes" Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Catharine Markley, was born

December 9, 1829 on the old Mizer homestead in Auburn Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. He died September 12, 1902 and is buried in the Stone Creek, Ohio Cemetery. Daniel married Lucinda Ellwood on September 26, 1852 at Newcomerstown, Ohio. She was the daughter of John Ellwood and was born in Harrison County, Ohio on May 18, 1832. She died June 3, 1907 and is buried along side her husband.

The Mizer homestead was located on a small piece of land in Jefferson Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, about two and a half miles north of Stone Creek, Ohio. The land was rough and hilly; much of it needed to be cleared to make it suitable for farming. It was here he raised his family of twelve children.

Because of the difficulty in providing for a large family on this small farm, he found it necessary to work part time with his team and wagon in the iron ore mines which were then in operation in Jefferson Township. There never was a shortage of food, however, there was a lack of certain items during the winter months. Milk and butter were not available for several months and eggs were not plentiful until spring. Eggs were stored in the ground cellar prior to Easter. They were then colored with onion skins in a large copper kettle, out of doors. At other times of the year butter and eggs were taken to the general store and exchanged for flour, sugar and other items to be used in the home. Huckleberries in the wooded area of the farm also provided an important money crop.

MARK MIZER 7/1, son of Daniel Mizer 6/8 (George Mizer 5/5, John Meiser 4/2, John "Johannes" Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Lucinda Ellwood, was born near Stone Creek, Ohio on July 10, 1853 and died in Dover, Ohio on June 23, 1926. He married Elizabeth Rousch, the daughter of Charles Rousch and Elizabeth Regula. She was born April 13, 1856 at Stone Creek, Ohio and died July, 1926 in Dover, Ohio. She and her husband are buried in the Maple Grove Cemetery.

Just prior to his marriage, he made a trip by horse and wagon to Richland County, Wisconsin to help move his Uncle Mathias Mizer 6/5 to a farm near Richland Center. The trip took several months.

Mark and his wife settled on a small farm adjacent to his parents. It was there he raised his large family on the income from the farm and his earnings as a part-time carpenter. He also worked in the nearby "Black Band Iron Ore Mines." Later in life he was employed as a city fireman in Dover, Ohio where he also spent his years in retirement raising vegetables on vacant lots near his home.

JACOB (BIG JAKE) MIZER 5/6⁴ GEORGE JACOB MIZER

JACOB (BIG JAKE) MIZER 5/6, son of John Meiser 4/2 (John "Johannes" Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Rosina Eckhart was born January 13, 1795 in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania. He married Mary Christine ———.

Jacob spent his boyhood in Jefferson County, Ohio on his father's farm. After the death of his father in 1812 he followed his elder brothers and sisters to Tuscarawas County, Ohio. They settled in Bucks Township, just north of the present site of Bakersville, Ohio, now known as Evans Valley. Records show that he was first taxed there in 1823, having acquired several hundred acres of land.

Jacob was properly named "Big Jake." He was seven feet tall and it is said he had the strength of four ordinary men and could outrun any Indian. This was written by Philip A. Mizer 7/1 of Oliver Spring, Tennessee in his history of the Mizer family written in 1888.

In 1861 Jacob sold a portion of his land to his son, John Mizer 6/3 and another portion to Henry Shank. In 1855 Jacob purchased several tracts of land in Owens County, Indiana and moved there with his wife and two sons, Jacob and William. Daniel and Elizabeth, children of Samuel Mizer 6/4, also settled in Owens County, Indiana.

Jacob died December 29, 1878 and is buried in the Patricksburg Cemetery, Patricksburg, Indiana.

6/4 Samuel Mizer buried at Patricksburg, Indiana.

B.E.S. 6/5 Sarah Mizer (1838-1857); never married.

DANIEL MIZER 6/1, son of Jacob Mizer 5/6 (John Meiser 4/2, John "Johannes" Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Maria Christine _____, was born in 1820 and died in 1856 from typhoid fever. He is buried in the Evans Creek Cemetery.

On October 14, 1836 he was married by his uncle Philip Mizer 5/7, then Justice of the Peace in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, to Polly Hummel. They lived on one of his father's farms about one mile north of Bakersville, Ohio.

Daniel was a captain on a boat on the Ohio Canal. One day he and another captain were racing their boats to be the first through the lock. When the boats became wedged in the lock, Daniel stepped onto the other boat, knocked the captain into the canal, pushed his boat back, and went on through the lock.

Daniel served in the Mexican War in 1845.

He died November 23, 1915, on his farm near Malvern, Ohio. Amos was married September 22, 1870, to Cordelia Worley, daughter of John V. Worley and Abby Snyder.

The following account of Amos was found in a family Bible:

"At the age of sixteen Amos David Mizer volunteered his services under the American Flag at Paris, Stark County, Ohio. He served as a private in Company I, 64, B.V. I; Third Brigade; Second Division; Fourth A.C. Among his battle list we find the conflicts of Shiloh, Corinth, Luka Cave City, Crab Orchard, Stone River, Chickamauga, Lookout Mountain, Missionary Ridge, Knoxville, Rocky Face, Dalton Resaca, Jonesboro, Spring Hill, Columbia, Franklin and Nashville. He was wounded in the battles of Chickamauga, Rocky Face and Stone River, for which he was in the field hospital at Nashville, December 10, 1864, J. M. Chickering, Capt. 88th, Illinois."

Amos Mizer came to Malvern at the end of the war and started work as an apprentice wood turner in the Deckman Furniture Factory. Shortly after he married, he settled on a farm just north of Malvern. He joined the Methodist Episcopal Church in Malvern in 1872.

PHILIP MIZER 5/7

S. $ PHILIP MIZER 5/7 (John Meiser 4/2, John "Johannes" Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) was born March 27, 1799. He was named in his father's will, dated June 1, 1812, Jefferson County, Ohio. He was born in Pennsylvania, probably in Northumberland County as his father was taxed there with 100 acres of land in the year 1782. He died September 29, 1882, in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, and was buried in Evans Creek Lutheran Church Cemetery, Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio.

* Philip Mizer was married September 9, 1821, to Margaret Shultz, the daughter of George Shultz and Elizabeth Shoemaker, who in 1804, as a child, had removed to German Township, Harrison County, Ohio (then Jefferson). She was born in Loudon County, Virginia, August 12, 1800, and died May 14, 1893, in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. She is buried beside her husband in the Evans Creek Cemetery.

According to Wilbur L. Shultz, grandson of George Shultz of Hopedale, Ohio, George Shultz was born on March 16, 1752, in Germany. He came to America and fought in Captain Peter Nagal's Company, 4th Battalion, Berks County, Pennsylvania Militia. His duty was that of guarding prisoners of war from Reading to Philadelphia. He was married to Elizabeth Shoemaker to whom were born the following eleven children:

Mary, John, Jacob, Catherine, Margaret, Susan, Solomon, Priscilla, Rachael, Elizabeth and Polly. George Shultz died October 6, 1827, and Elizabeth, his wife, February 4, 1833. Both are buried in Zion Cemetery near Germano, Ohio. The above dates were taken from the grave stone markers by Wilbur L.

Shultz while the markings were legible.

Philip Mizer and his wife moved to Shanesville, Tuscarawas County, Ohio in 1822; while there he was engaged in cabinet making. In 1832, he bought 160 acres of land in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio in the north east quarter of Section 22, Township 7 Range 4 from the estate of Henry Stance who had acquired it by patent in 1828. Philip's brother, John, had come to this locality earlier and was the administrator of the estate of Henry Stance. After being advertised, the farm was sold to Philip Mizer in November 1832 for $536. In 1835, Philip Mizer acquired another 40 acres by patent. This was during the administration of President Andrew Jackson. More acquisitions followed and at the time of his death, he had title to 535 acres of land. Quit claim deeds were then made to Philip's son, Samuel, to the total value of about $16,000. (This data concerning Philip's holdings was taken from the deeds still in possession of Philip's grandson, Clifford P. Mizer, who owns the farm at the time of this writing).

Philip Mizer followed his trade as a cabinet maker and there are, at this time, some fine pieces of furniture still in use which are known to have been made by him. One is a chest of drawers now in possession of Woy S. Mizer, Route #1, Stone Creek, Ohio. Another is in possession of Paul Riggle, Route #1, West Lafayette, Ohio. The latter chest was a wedding present for Philip's daughter, Eliza, who was married to Luther Barrick on April 26, 1855. Philip's son, Samuel, on that same day was married to Luther Barrick's sister, Margaret. Since Philip was an outstanding cabinet maker, it is believed there are numerous other pieces still in use. He also made coffins, and there is recorded in one of his account books a record of a coffin made for his nephew Henry Mizer 6/1, son of John 5/1 for five dollars. The entire cost of Henry's funeral was twenty-six dollars.

Philip helped organize the first church in the locality. The membership of the German Reformed Church was small and among the names on the list of the first congregation were Philip Mizer, Leonard Hawk, Peter Hawk, John Mizer and Jacob Mizer. More information can be found on this in the History of Coshocton County by J. H. Hill, 1882, page 460. After a few years, the German Reformed congregation moved to a site about one half mile north of Bakersville where they built a church in conjunction with the Lutheran church.

Philip was a Justice of the Peace in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, in the years 1834, 1837, 1841, 1843, 1846 and 1852. During this time, he performed numerous marriages. One of these was that of his nephew Daniel 6/1 son of Jacob 5/6 to Polly Hummel.

After their children were grown, Philip and Margaret took into their home a four year old boy whose widowed mother found it difficult to give the needed care. His name was Isaac Hamilton Luke. He grew to be a fine man and developed into a skillful carpenter. There was always a close tie between he and Philip's son, Samuel. He later married Catherine Ann Phillips and they resided near the village of Fresno, Coshocton, County, Ohio. They are both now buried in Fresno Cemetery, Fresno, Ohio.

GEORGE P. MIZER 6/1, son of Philip Mizer 5/7 (John Meiser 4/2, John "Johannes" Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Margaret Shultz was born in Shanesville, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, June 1, 1822. He died June 29, 1886, at his home, one mile north of Bakersville, Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. He lived here all his married life.

George Mizer was married to Catherine Hagan, daughter of Robert C. Hagan and Elizabeth Riggle August 6, 1846, by the Reverend Emmanuel Greenwald. She was born January 18, 1828, in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania and was baptized soon after her marriage in the German Reformed Church, Evans Valley, Bakersville, Ohio by the Reverend J. G. Tahmer. She died November 6, 1922, at the home of her youngest son, Irvin Mizer, West Lafayette, Ohio. She was blessed with good health and lived within a few weeks of her ninety-fifth birthday.

When George Mizer and Catherine Hagan were married, they purchased the farm then owned and operated by her parents. It was on this farm that they raised a family of six sons and five daughters.

George Mizer, like his father, Philip, was a self-educated man and one winter taught a session in the Evans Creek School (the old log school house). This was the same time he was recovering from severe injuries he received to his hand while operating an old fashioned corn sheller. He was also a mail carrier on the Star Route from Newcomerstown to Bakersville, Ohio, using two horses to make this daily trip.

It is also interesting to note that George Mizer was active in the construction of the Evans Creek Church. At the time it was erected, it was designed to serve two congregations, the German Reformed and the Lutheran. It was George Mizer 6/1 who represented the Reformed Church and his brother Samuel 6/7 headed the Lutherans.

After George Mizer died and the children had all established homes of their own, Catharine made her home with her son, Irvin Mizer. It was in this way that Edith Mizer, a granddaughter, is able to relate the following information:

"When grandmother was twelve years old, in the year of 1840, she and her parents and several older sisters loaded their possessions on horse-drawn wagons and headed to the West to find a new home in Ohio. When they had come as far as Wolf's Corner, now Isleta Corners, which is located just a little west of the present site of Newcomerstown, Ohio, they got permission from the Wolf family to camp for the night. When morning came, they were much surprised to find a number of deer tame enough to have stayed in the yard with the horses and cattle.

"The next day they headed north to Evansburg about one-fourth mile east of Orange in Coshocton County, Ohio. Here they forded the Tuscarawas River and continued north to a point about one mile north of the present site of Bakersville, Ohio. It was here they found a strong spring of cool clear water flowing from the hillside. They immediately took advantage of this water supply and began building their new wilderness home in what is now known as Evans Creek.

In later years, their home was destroyed by fire. The old shingle roof which they had intended to repair later in the fall caught fire with sparks from their wood stove while they were preparing the noon meal. The father was away at work so the mother and children who were old enough to help, carried water up a ladder to the fire's source and tried in vain to put it out. They did not rebuild at this time, but added a piece to the small house over the spring for use as temporary living quarters. It was at this time that Philip Mizer 5/7, a cabinet maker, made a kitchen cupboard for the family. It is still in good condition in the home of one of the granddaughters."

WILLIAM ALLEN MIZER 7/1, son of George P. Mizer 6/1 (Philip Mizer 5/7, John Meiser 4/2, John "Johannes" Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Catherine Hagan. He was born July 25, 1847, in Bucks Township, Coshocton County, Ohio.

He married Helen M. Peairs, the daughter of John W. Peairs and Sarah Hart about 1871. They were married by Reverend Struggles, the Methodist minister at Bakersville, Ohio. Both are buried in the South Lawn Cemetery, Coshocton, Ohio.

William A. Mizer, usually known as Billy Mizer, was raised on a farm near Bakersville, Ohio, and attended the rural school in the community after which he was enrolled for two terms in a school of higher learning known as a "Select School" at Newcomerstown, Ohio.

At the age of nineteen, he was employed in the Bakersville General Store, as clerk, janitor, and caring for the horses. For this work he received five dollars per month. He later became a salesman for John W. Peairs, a live-stock dealer. Many times he would ride the caboose of the freight train when delivering cattle to such eastern cities as Reading and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

In 1870 Mr. Mizer purchased the Bakersville General Store from John H. Lovelace. After operating the store for three years, he finally gave up the business to become an agent for the Ohio Farmer Insurance Company. He remained in Bakersville and carried on his business from there until 1891 when he established his residence in Coshocton, Ohio.

This insurance business took him over many country and township roads in Coshocton and Tuscarawas counties. Travel was difficult at certain times of the year because of the muddy roads, and for this reason he made his calls in a two-wheeled cart rather than the four-wheeled buggy. The seat was covered with sheep skin to add to his comfort in riding. He also had a greyhound mascot dog to follow him on his journeys, usually under the cart seat. After it died, the skeleton head was hung over the oats bin, along with many prized horse pictures.

In 1892 the Citizens Building and Loan Association was formed in Coshocton and he became the president in 1894. He also served as director and secretary of the Central Ohio District Fair at Newcomerstown, Ohio, and held the office of Clerk of Courts of Coshocton County, Ohio from 1889 to 1906.

She died at her home in Jennings, Kansas, November 8, 1936. She was one of a family of eleven children, having four sisters and six brothers. She resided with her parents on a farm near Bakersville, Ohio, until she was united in marriage to Lewis Wolf on January 12, 1884.

As a bride she came with her husband to live on a farm near Henderson, Iowa, where they resided two years, and where her first child, Mildred Lucile, was born. The hardy pioneer spirit prevailed, and the family moved to a homestead five miles south of what is now Jennings, Kansas. This was near the homesteads of her brother, Robert M. Mizer and family; her uncle, by marriage, George Putt; and Cousin Maggie Hildebrand. All of the homes were built of sod, which were cozy in winter and cool in the summer. These homes were all replaced later by large frame buildings. She often talked about those happy homestead days. It was here her other seven children were born.

Her husband, Lewis Wolf, died March 12, 1910, but she continued to live on this same farm of 800 acres for 33 years.

She moved to Jennings, Kansas, in the year 1919, making this city her home until her death. She enjoyed reading and taught her children many things in addition to that taught in the schools.

PHILIP ALLEN MIZER 7/1, son of Benjamin Mizer 6/6 (Philip Mizer 5/7, John Meiser 4/2, John "Johannes" Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Nancy Viers McClain was born July 11, 1857, on the Philip Mizer 5/7 homestead farm. He died at Knoxville, Tennessee, November 1889 and is buried in Evans Creek Cemetery.

Philip was married to Harriett L. Van Nostran, the daughter of John Van Nostran and Charity Ellen Ridgeway who lived near the head of Evans Valley, north of Bakersville, Ohio. She was born June 28, 1857 and died October 6, 1933. She is buried in South Lawn Cemetery at Coshocton, Ohio, beside her second husband, Frederick Lembright and their young daughter. Harriett Van Nostran and Philip Mizer had four children. Fred Lembright had seven children by his first wife.

Philip Mizer became a school teacher and taught in the Evans Creek school while living in that vicinity. Upon the advice of his physician to change climate for his health, he took a job as a book salesman in Tennessee. His family and a sister, Margaret 7/4 joined him there and Margaret helped in his work. Philip's health continued to decline and soon he died. Within a day of his death his sister, Margaret, who had contracted typhoid fever also died. She was 18 years old. Their bodies were returned to Ohio and buried in the Evans Creek cemetery at Bakersville, Ohio. The rest of the family re-established their residence in Ohio. From Oliver Springs, Tennessee, 1888, Philip wrote a brief account of the Mizer family which his brother Charles added to at a later date. Although recent research does not authenticate all the facts, it was found to be of value in this study.

On April 26, 1855 Samuel married Margaret Catherine Barrick, born March 19, 1836; died November 13, 1913. She is also buried in the Evans Creek Church Cemetery. Margaret was the third child of Jacob Barrick, a Virginian by birth, and Mary Woy who was born in

SAMUEL P. MIZER 6/7 and wife
MARGARET BARRICK.

Pennsylvania. According to tradition, Jacob Barrick was a descendant of Eliza Ball, a half sister of Mary Ball, who was George Washington's mother.

Margaret and her brother Luther Barrick were married on the same day. She moved with Samuel to a farm in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. About 1881 they moved to the Philip Mizer 5/7 homestead and Samuel's brother Benjamin 6/6, who had lived on the home farm, moved to the farm vacated by Samuel. There were two houses on the homestead, one being the original log house. Soon after the death of Philip Mizer 5/7, a new house and new barn were constructed. The stones for the foundation were quarried on the farm and hauled to the foundation site with a yoke of oxen. This was the only time Samuel kept oxen but he found them ideal for this work since they were strong, slow and steady.

Samuel Mizer was called to serve in the Civil War or get another man to take his place. He chose to hire a substitute and paid him $300 so that he could continue to operate the farm and support his growing family.

Margaret Deibel.

Sedilia and Simon lived on the Troendly homestead where Simon's parents settled after coming from Germany. The house was built of hand-made bricks, fashioned and burned by Joseph Troendly from clay deposits on the farm.

Sedilia showed great courage when diphtheria and death came to a neighbor's family. Although she had children of her own, she went every day to help the stricken family. She was careful not to carry disease to her children so she bathed and changed to clean clothes some distance from the house after which she proceeded to care for her children. Several of the children died and she helped prepare them for burial. The children were placed in a casket, sealed and then passed out a window to men who took them for immediate interment.

After Sedilia's death, Simon married Clara Agatha Wise. Both Sedilia and Simon are buried in the Evans Creek Church Cemetery.

IRA BARTHOLOMEW MIZER 7/5, son of Samuel P. Mizer 6/7 (Philip Mizer 5/7, John Meiser 4/2, John Johannes Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Margaret Barrick, was born October 31, 1866 in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio and died January 3, 1945 in West Lafayette, Ohio. He is buried in the Evans Creek, Ohio Cemetery.

On December 14, 1890 he married Ada Euren Wise. Born February 12, 1865 in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, she was the daughter of John Michael Wise, born 1806, died 1890 and Agatha Hengstler, born 1824, died 1906. She died May 17, 1934 in West Lafayette, Ohio and is buried beside her husband. Ada's parents were born in Germany but lived in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania prior to moving to Ohio ca. 1832.

When Ira was eighteen years old, his family moved to the Philip Mizer 5/7 homestead where, except for three years, he lived until 1902. For four years after his father's death, Ira and a younger brother Edwin 7/7, operated the farm as partners.

In 1902 Ira bought a farm near Coshocton, Ohio which he sold in 1911 when he purchased a farm near Orange, Ohio. This farm was sold in 1920 following the purchase of a farm at the west edge of West Lafayette, Ohio. Ira and his son Samuel Clarence Miser operated a dairy and milk delivery service. He was a good farmer and left each farm better than he found it.

Ira was active in community and church affairs. Although he always retained membership in the Evans Creek Lutheran Church, he taught an adult Sunday School class at Orange Methodist Church and a class of young adults in the West Lafayette Methodist Church. He had a tenor voice and belonged to several male quartets and choirs. He played a harmonica, fife, guitar, piano and organ. On one occasion he traded a stack of hay for a violin. When too old to sing, he played his favorite hymns and songs on the guitar. His wife Ada also sang and played a guitar.

HELEN LUCILE MIZER 8/1, daughter of Ira B. Miser 7/5 and Ada Eureka Wise, was born in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, on the Philip Miser 5/7, homestead farm, on December 2, 1891.

The following is from an autobiography by Helen Miser:

"My first eleven years were spent in Evans Valley. I attended the Evans Creek School. In those days the school and church were the centers of social life and entertainment as well as for religious services. Wherever the parents went, the children went also.

"Among my early recollections is one of the warm, cozy bed in the back of the milk wagon (or in the sleigh) made of a thick, buffalo robe over straw and another robe for cover, where my younger brother and I slept en route. If we were still asleep when we arrived at the church for choir practice, we were carried indoors and deposited on the rostrum beside other sleeping children.

"Singing schools were well attended in the winter months at the school house. Henry Baab of the Fiat vicinity taught those at Evans Creek. Julius Marsh taught in Bakersville. Most of the adults read music very well, and no apology would be needed today for the anthems rendered at that time in the Evans Creek Church.

"Belle Miser was the organist many years. Mrs. Belle Helmreich Snyder also served.

"On special occasions, such as Christmas, Easter and children's day, the choir was augmented by a large part of the congregation who sang well. Folks from other localities attended events in our vicinity, and we went to theirs.

"There were also literary programs in the schoolhouse for adults as well as for the children. The event of the evening would be the debate—two men to a side. Teachers and local farmers participated in these debates. Discussions were lively. The judging was done by a selected jury of three.

"In 1902 we moved to Morgan's Run near Coshocton, Ohio, where my brother and I attended the Miller School two years. We then went to West Lafayette High School from which I was graduated in 1911. We traveled in "horse and buggy" style. In summers I rode horseback, side saddle, to Coshocton and later to West Lafayette to take piano lessons.

"In 1911 the family moved to Orange, Ohio and I taught four years in the Waggoner School—all eight grades. I attended summer school at West Lafayette College and Ohio University at Athens, Ohio. Then I went to Kent State Normal College, 1915-1917. After graduation I taught in Kent City Schools, 1917-1921.

"My teaching career came to an end when I developed a goiter in 1921. I never regained strength enough to resume the work I loved. Due to a heart condition I was an invalid for ten years. My only activity was reading. Though fairly well supplied with our home magazines and library books, the world was brought to our door through the kindness of Pennsylvania trainmen, who daily passed our home in West Lafayette. They were complete strangers, but they noticed that I was inactive and liked to read. And so they gathered clean, undamaged newspapers left in the coaches by passengers. Can you imagine receiving, the day they were printed, all the big city newspapers? From the east came New York (four), Philadelphia (two or three), Harrisburg, and Pittsburgh (three), Cincinnati (two), Columbus, Indianapolis and St. Louis came from the west. Through the radio programs we were aware of the finest music—Army, Navy, Goldman and Marine bands, philharmonic and symphony orchestra and other fine performances and

"The papers, tightly rolled and tied, were thrown from the train as they passed. Some engineers softly blew the whistles as they passed at night—a friendly song in a sleepless night. These men—only four of whom I ever learned to know—helped me through a difficult period, more than ever they could guess.

"The trains themselves were interesting. One special, the American, was composed of coaches bearing the names of presidents and other famous men, all deceased, and Martha Washington—fifty in all. But the rule was broken when Colonel Charles Lindberg made his famous flight to Paris. A new coach was named Colonel Lindberg, and the name of the train was changed to The Spirit of St. Louis.

"Over the years I have received so many kindnesses that could never be repaid. I think that no-one has ever owed so much to so many. I can only pass on to others any kindnesses I can do.

"Gradually I regained a certain measure of health and have supported myself doing light housekeeping. My residence is Route 1, West Lafayette, Ohio."

For this history Helen Mizer has helped in compiling data on the descendants of her great-grandfather, Philip Mizer 5/7.

SAMUEL CLARENCE MIZER 8/2, son of Ira B. Mizer 7/5 and Ada Eurena Wise, was born December 6, 1893, in Bucks Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio, on the Philip Mizer 5/7 farm. He died November 13, 1954, at West Lafayette, Ohio, and is buried in Fairfield Cemetery there. On January 2, 1923, he was married in Baltic, Ohio, to Charlotta Christina Pflughardt. Born March 19, 1901, in Fayette City, Pennsylvania, she was the daughter of John N. Pflughardt born 1855, died 1926 and Ida May Beatty, born 1859, died 1953. Her parents are buried in Fairfield Cemetery in West Lafayette, Ohio. Charlotta's paternal grandparents were John Pflughardt, who was born in Province Wilhermstarf, Bavaria, Germany, and died in 1907, and Charlotta Bodendepher, who died in 1889. Her maternal grandparents were William Beatty, born ———, died 1917 at Fayette City, Pennsylvania, and Mary Snyder, who died in 1909. Clarence graduated from the West Lafayette College and taught in the Coshocton County School system. He enlisted in the Navy on June 11, 1917 and served as an athletic instructor at Hingham and Boston, Massachusetts during the War. While in the service he was a member of a race-boat crew which won the championship of the Allied Fleet.

Following the War he returned to dairy farming. He was Commander of the American Legion Post #466.

JOHN GEORGE MISER 4/5

JOHN GEORGE MISER 4/5, son of John "Johannes" Meiser 3/7 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Catherine ———, was baptized October 17, 1762 in Millbach, Pennsylvania.

Based on his father's will probated at Sunbury, Pennsylvania on November 19, 1795, George 4/5 was still living in what is now Snyder County, Pennsylvania since his father specified that ninety pounds be paid to his son, George for his "cost and trouble" to "finnish" the house. He is not listed as a resident of Northumberland County in the 1800 census.

On September 27, 1796 a George Miser of Cumberland County, Pennsylvania purchased 278 acres of farm land on 2nd Creek from Drewry Breazle, in Knox County, Tennessee as recorded in Book B2, P 76, Knox County, Tennessee Register of Deeds.

The following information of additional land purchases by George Miser appear in the Knox County records:

1—4/17/1800, 6¾ acres of land on 2nd. Creek, Knox County, Tennessee from Asahel Rawlings. Book FI V2, P. 16

2—9/5/1801, 123 acres of land on 2nd. Creek, Knox County, Tennessee from John Lindsay. Book AI, p 486

3—2/18/1802, 25 acres of land on 2nd. Creek Knox County, Tennessee from Hugh Dunlap and Robert Miller, Book G, pp. 195/6; Book VI, p. 287

Probate Book O, Knox County, Tennessee, January 1803-April 1804, records George

Myser's, Knox County, Tennessee, appointment as guardian of Betsy Stoke, daughter of Margaret Meiser 4/8 and Peter Stoke. George rendered an accounting of his niece's estate in the amount of $173.00 in April of 1804.

Further records of George Miser's residence in Knox County, Tennessee are as follows:

- a—8/28/1809 George Miser, Knox County, Tennessee, sold two tracts of land on 2nd. Creek to John Morrow, Book NI, pp. 290-291
- b—July 1809, George Witt vs. George Miser, Knox County, Tennessee. Circuit Court Minutes, p 43
Alexander Forgy vs. George Miser-Debt Judgement of $4.98½ besides cost, Knox County, Tennessee. Circuit Court Minutes Case #2180
- c—10/8/1813, State vs. William Welch-George Miser-Juror. Knox County, Tennessee. Circuit Court Minutes p. 51

By 1820 George Miser had moved to Wayne County, Indiana since we find his family listed on page 223 of the United States Census. His family consisted of 1 male under 10, 1 male 10/15, 1 male 16/25, 1 male 26/44, 1 male 45 or over, 1 female 10/15 and one female 45 or over.

We know that George Miser of Wayne County, Indiana was the son of John "Johannes" Meiser 3/7 for indentures were executed August 28, 1821 between Joshua Lovelace and wife Elizabeth and George Miser; October 11, 1821 between George Meiser and David Smith which stated in part—"Whereas that the said George Miser stands seized of one equal undivided eighth part of 225 acres of land, more or less, situated in Mahantango Township, Union County, State of Pennsylvania." Book D, pp 542-543. Register of Deeds, Wayne County, Indiana.

George Miser did not appear in the Indiana 1830 Census since he returned to Claiborne County, Tennessee, and appears in the 1830 census as one male 60/70, one female 20/30 and one female 60/70. In 1836 he was listed as a land owner in Hawkins County, Tennessee. (Reference #248—Note Book, p. 88)

George is assumed to have died prior to 1840 since he did not appear in the 1840 census for either Claiborne or Hawkins County, Tennessee or neighboring Lee County, Virginia where his son George Miser 5/1 was living.

The editors lack absolute proof as to the descendants of George Miser 4/5. Based on available documents, the following could be the children of George Miser 4/5. Failure to include this information, would probably result in its being lost to future historians who may in time establish proof of the descendants of George Miser 4/5.

GEORGE MISER 5/1

GEORGE MISER 5/1, son of George Miser 4/5 (John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) was born ca. 1795 in Kentucky. He probably moved with his father to Wayne County, Indiana prior to 1820 because we find one of the sons living with George Miser 4/5 who was between the age of 16-25 years. This coincides with his birth-date recorded in the 1870 Hancock County, Tennessee Census. 6th Dist. #90, which lists him as 75 years of age and born in Kentucky.

George 5/1 married Prudence Mullins ca. 1821/24. "Prude" was the daughter of Irish James (Jim) Mullins and Clara Martin.

CHILDREN:

- 6/1 John Miser
- 6/2 Thomas Miser
- 6/3 Wilson Miser

Prudence died and George married Phoebe Lawson, born 1804 in Virginia, daughter of Josh Lawson who was a son of "Momom" Lawson; a Revolutionary War Veteran.

CHILDREN:

- 6/4 Mary Ann Miser, born ca. 1839/40; married Stokely Lawson.
- 6/5 Robert Miser, born ca. 1842-1862—Never married. Killed in action while serving with Co. G., 43rd Confederate Infantry as a Pvt.
- 6/6 Polly Miser, born ca. 1842.
- 6/7 George Washington Miser, born ca. 1843-1862—Never married. Killed in same battle at Big Spring, Hawkins County, Tenn. as was his brother Robert. He was a Pvt. in Co. G., 43rd Confederate Infantry.
- 6/8 Peter Miser, born March 2, 1846; died Feb. 1, 1889.

JOHN MISER 6/1, son of George Miser 5/1 (John George Miser 4/5, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Prudence Mullins was born in Hawkins County Tennessee, ca. 1824. He married Amanda (Arminda Myers), born ca. 1824, died at Vardy, Tennessee 1912.

WILSON MISER 6/3, son of George Miser 5/1 (John George Miser 4/5, John 'Johannes' Meiser 3/7, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johann Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Prudence Mullins, was born ca. 1829 in Hawkins County, Tennessee. He married Margaret Collins, called Peggy or "Nudge." Margaret was the daughter of Simeon and Frankie (Bunch) Collins.

Wilson was a Private in Co. E. 2nd Tennessee Volunteer Infantry (Union Army). Two of his half brothers, Robert and George were killed while serving with the Confederate Army, Co. G., 43rd Confederate Infantry. They were killed in battle near Rogersville, Tennessee in 1862.

Wilson Miser had extensive land holdings on Blackwater (Vardy) Creek, some of which extended into Virginia. He would pay work hands "in the store" by sending his red hat with one of the workers. The merchants knew "Wisle" would only let his hat go for that purpose.

He did not draw a Union Veterans Pension because his brother-in-law Howard Collins would not vouch for him. They both served in the same Company and Regiment. He is listed in the Special 1890 Census of Civil War Veterans for Hancock County, Tennessee. He is also listed in the Tennessee Centennial Edition of Tennesseans in the Civil War, Part 2.

Wilson died ca. 1904/1909 in Hancock County, Tennessee.

SECTION FOUR

ANNA MEISER 3/8, JOHANN ADAM MEISER 3/9 AND DESCENDANTS

ANNA (ANNE) MEISER 3/8

ANNA (ANNE) MEISER 3/8, daughter of Johann Michael Meiser 2/2 (Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Elizabeth Sixt (thought to be Zecht), was born ca. 1732/42 in Millbach, Pennsylvania. She married Frederick Wolfpertsberger. At the time of this writing no documented evidence has been found as to the descendants of Anna (Anne) Meiser 3/8 and Frederick Wolfpertsberger, however, the editors are including the following information to provide some aid to future historians.

1. Septennial Census 1779, Heidelberg Township, Lancaster County, lists Furtig Wolfspurger, Peter Wolfspurger, Philip Wolfspurger, George Messer (Meisser) 3/1, George Messer (Meisser) Jr. 4/2, John Messer (Meisser) 4/3, Jost Hofman and George Hoffman.
2. Septennial Census 1786, Heidelberg Township, Dauphin County, lists Peter Wolfersper, George Meisser 3/1, George Meisser, Jr. 4/2 and Yost Hoffman.
3. Septennial Census 1786, Meyerstown, Dauphin County, lists Peter Wolfersperger, Benjamin Meisser 4/6 and Jacob Hoffman.
4. Septennial Census 1786 (name of township not legible), Dauphin County, lists Frederick Wolfersper and Jacob Roband (thought to be Rabold).

The Peter Wolfersperger living in the same township as Benjamin Meisser 4/6 could have been a son of Anna (Anne) Meiser 3/8 and Frederick Wolfpertsberger.

JOHANN ADAM MEISER 3/9 AND DESCENDANTS

JOHANN ADAM MEISER 3/9, son of Johann Michael Meiser 2/2 (Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Anna Elizabeth Sixt (believed to be Zecht) was born in Millbach, Pennsylvania, ca. 1743-1745, being named as the youngest son in his father's will (will number 150-1745 as recorded in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.) Johann Adam Meiser died in Wayne County, Ohio, ca. May 22, 1824, at which time he and his wife, Mary, deeded all their lands to several of their children. The record of the deeds for Adam and Mary Myser can be found in Wooster, Holmes County, Ohio.

Adam was born and reared at Millbach, Pennsylvania. He next lived in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, in that portion which is now Snyder County, as early as 1780. This has been substantiated by Dr. Charles Fisher in "Snyder County Pioneers." In 1796 he was assessed in Mahantango Township. On May 13, 1780, he began a tour of duty in Captain John Sneider's Company in the Northumberland Co., Militia as recorded in the Pennsylvania Archives 3/23/257. During this year (1780) he was captured at his home and carried off by the Indians, remaining in captivity about eighteen months, according to Linn's "Annals of Buffalo Valley, page 188. Linn's book (page 303) also states Adam was in West Buffalo, Northumberland County, Pennsylvania in 1796, in a dwelling described as a "hewed log cabin." He was next found to be in Salem Township, Jefferson County, Ohio, near New Salem (now Annapolis). This is authenticated on page 518 of the "20th Century History of Steubenville and Jefferson County, Ohio," written by Doyle in 1910, which states that the village of New Salem, where Annapolis now stands, was entered by Henry and Adam Miser, whose descendants still live in the neighborhood.

On May 14, 1812, Adam bought 155 acres of land in Jefferson County, Ohio, from this Henry, who was his nephew and a son of Henry 3/4, brother of Adam 3/9. This land he held until February 16, 1824, when he sold it to Thomas Johnson. On March 16, 1818, he received a patent for 160 acres of land in Auburn Township, Tuscarawas County, Ohio. He subsequently sold this land to his grand-nephew, George Mizer 5/5, a grandson of his brother John (Johannes) Meiser 3/7. On October 23, 1819, he received a patent for 160 acres of land in Paint Township, Wayne County, Ohio, from President James Monroe. This is where he settled and lived the remaining days of his life. He is buried on this farm in a grave recently located and authenticated. A grave marker, supplied by the War Department, was placed upon it on May 17, 1964, in a dedication by the Wooster-Wayne Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Through the efforts of the Meisser Genealogy Association, many descendants were searched out and advised of the dedication. This resulted in over 200 attending from as far west as California and as far east as New York. The location of Adam's grave is on the original homestead farm, presently in Holmes County, Ohio on the S. W. ¼;

Sec. 26; Twp. 15; R. 11; originally containing 160 acres and presently owned by Levi J. Miller of R.D. #1, Beach City, Ohio.

Adam was married first to Anna Catharine Haas December 8, 1760 at Millbach, Pennsylvania, according to the Millbach Church records at Franklin and Marshall College in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. Their first child, Anna Catharine Meiser, was baptized September 20, 1761. Adam's second marriage was to Mary Eckhart ca. 1783 as evidenced by the will of Jacob Eckhart (Lancaster County, Pennsylvania 2/108). No other record has been found concerning this marriage. The first child of Adam Meiser and Mary Eckhart was born early 1784 in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania. At this time Adam lived near his brother, Henry 3/4, and his nephew, John 4/2. John 4/2 was baptized Johann Adam Meiser on April 2, 1760, with Adam and his betrothed Anna Catharine Haas, as sponsors.

The families of Adam 3/9, Henry 3/4, and John 4/2 remained in close proximity to each other in their further migrations westward. At Jefferson County, Ohio, Henry 4/6, son of Henry 3/4; John 4/2, son of John 3/7; and Adam 3/9 took out lands close to each other in 1802, 1806 and 1812 respectively. In fact Adam's lands and those of John 4/2, joined. In 1812-1818 of these families, Adam and John 5/1 (Adam's grand-nephew and the son of John 4/2), took up lands in Tuscarawas County, Ohio. They were followed by Adam's other grand-nephews, Jacob 5/6 and Philip 5/7, also sons of John 4/2. Soon afterward Adam sold his Tuscarawas County holdings to his other grand-nephew, George 5/5, also the son of John 4/2. Additionally, in 1828, Adam's son John "W" Miser 4/4, settled in the same general area.

The closeness of these families is further evidenced by the fact there were double family ties between them. Adam 3/9 and his nephew, John 4/2, married sisters, Mary Eckhart and Rosina Eckhart respectively, as supported by the will of Jacob Eckhart of Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, Vol. 2, p. 108.

No further record is found of Mary Eckhart except a Mary appearing along with that of Adam on May 22, 1824, when they jointly signed deeds transferring all their lands to several of their children in Paint Township, Wayne County, Ohio—(as seen in Holmes County, Ohio, records). An obituary of Adam's youngest son, Joseph 4/14, states that he, Joseph, was the youngest of fourteen children—nine boys and five girls. In support we list the following:

CHILDREN:

- 4/1 Anna Catharine Meiser, baptized Millbach, Pa., Sept. 20, 1761.
- 4/2 Jacob Myser
- 4/3 A daughter
- 4/4 John W. Miser

- 4/12 Samuel Miser
- 4/13 A daughter
- 4/14 Joseph Miser

ANNA CATHARINE MEISER 4/1

ANNA CATHARINE MEISER 4/1, daughter of Johann Adam Meiser 3/9 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Mary Eckhart, was baptized September 20, 1761 at Millbach, Pennsylvania. It is believed that Catharine Meiser 4/1 was the ANNA GIBSON of the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, widow and executor of the Last Will & Testament of John Gibson, deceased, and who the said Anna Gibson, on 24th of June 1799 together with one John Wister, gave a letter of Attorney in Philadelphia City, registered there September 30th, 1799—Book E, P. 197—to John Mitchell and Thomas Mitchell of Tennessee to effect satisfaction from Anna Gibson and John Wister, after their having received payment in full on a mortgage Anna Gibson and John Wister held against Philip Marstetter, merchant of Alexandria, Virginia on lands described as:

"... one full equal & undivided third part of four contiguous tracts of land situated on the North side of the Holston River in Washington County in the State of North Carolina (now Tennessee) and also one full & undivided third part of . . . two other contiguous tracts . . . on Sinking Creek in said County, and also . . . on third part of a certain improvement and tract of land situated on said river."

(Signed 24th June, 1799, Philadelphia)

This belief is based on the traditional assumption that Anna Gibson was a Meiser. No proof of this has been found at this writing, and no further research has been undertaken as all the court records of the area were burned during the war of the rebellion in the 1860's.

Anna Gibson was assessed for 400 acres of land in 1800 in Blount County, Tennessee—P. 74, under Captain Gillespies Company.

JACOB MYSER 4/2

JACOB MYSER 4/2, son of Johann Adam Meiser 3/9 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Mary Eckhart, was born in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania in 1784. He died in 1854 and is buried in the Chili Lutheran Cemetery, Chili, Ohio. He married Catherine Fensler, daughter of Philip Fensler and Mary Magdelene ———. Philip Fensler fought in the War of 1812. He came to Crawford Township, Coshocton County, Ohio, from Pennsylvania in 1816 and laid out the town of Chili, Ohio.

We read in the history of Coshocton County that Jacob Myser 4/2 came to Crawford Township, Coshocton County, Ohio in 1815. He took up land just east of the town of Chili, where he made his home. He also purchased the three farms east of his home, so his land holdings were from Chili to Pearl, Ohio. Jacob willed the home farm of eighty acres to his son, Samuel, who in turn was to keep his parents in their old age and give them a decent burial.

AMANDA MYSER 6/3, daughter of Joseph Myser 5/5 (Jacob Myser 4/2, Johann Adam Meiser 3/9, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Catherine Ann Shanks, was born on the family farm in Coshocton County, Ohio on September 23, 1842. She died September 14, 1917, at Coshocton, Ohio. She taught school for a number of years and late in life she married Alonza Pocock. They had no children.

In this connection a story appeared in a Cleveland newspaper at the time of the marriage. It was to the effect that Alonza Pocock had been courting Amanda prior to the Civil War, and to another suitor who was calling on her, she gave a letter for mailing to Alonza (mail boxes were not conveniently placed on every corner in those days) and that suitor neglected to deliver or mail it to Alonza, who went off to war dejected and later married another woman. Years later, hearing that Amanda, his first love had never married, he quickly proposed (his first wife died previously) and was immediately accepted—after a span of over fifty years.

JOHN W. MISER 4/4, son of Johann Adam Meiser 3/9 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Mary Eckhart, was born in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania in the year 1787 and died August 16, 1870.

According to the War of 1812 Pension Records, John W. Miser was married to Mary Stone who died in Tuscarawas County, Ohio, April 8, 1838. On November 22, 1839 he married Catharine Stone, sister of his first wife. She was born ca. 1801 and the marriage was performed by Philip Miser 5/7, J. P.

The Pension Records also reveal that John W. Miser served in the War of 1812 under Captain Latta and Col. Duval from September 21, 1812 to March 16, 1813.

Deeds to land reveal that John W. Miser was the owner of tracts of land in Wayne and Tuscarawas Counties. The Wayne County Recorder's office shows that sixty acres of land was deeded to John Miser May 22, 1824 by his parents, Adam Meiser and his wife Mary. The land in Tuscarawas County, Ohio is described in the County Recorder's records as being purchased from the President of the United States August 26, 1828. It was an eighty-six acre tract described as being the West ½ of the South-west ¼ of Section 16, Township 7, Range 3. It has been said that it was from this farm that he donated some land for the site of the Renner Church and Cemetery about the year 1840.

The Evans Creek Lutheran Church records show that he and his wife were regular communing members of this church until his death in 1870. They also reveal a daughter, Nancy, was baptized here in 1840.

A great-grandson of John W. Miser, Harry Dreher, relates that John was a great hunter and that on one occasion while hunting at "Standing Rock," he killed eight deer with only nine shots. John's daughter, Nancy, also tells that one of the playthings she had when a little girl was a pile of deer horns about three feet high.

Excerpts from a letter dated October 11, 1928, by Mrs. Laura S. Price DAR, a Meisser descendant, as follows:

"I went to Bedford just out of Cleveland and stayed all night with Mrs. Rosenberry, who was our neighbor girl (Slife) at Shanesville. She really had a happy time trying to recall the Misers, and when she recalled a little Johnny Miser who had sixteen children, I thought we would have to give up the struggle. But here they are: John, Solomon, Moses, Eli, Sam, Adam, Benj., Sally, Anna, Betsy, Mahala, Christina, Lavina, Margaret (Peggy), and Nancy. One she could not recall. Often I heard my parents speak of Nancy Miser. Mrs. Koos said the sons went west years ago."

CATHARINE MISER 4/6

CATHARINE MISER 4/6, daughter of Johann Adam Meiser 3/9 (Johann Michael Meiser

2/2, John Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Mary Eckhart, was born ca. 1790 in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania. She died September 19, 1865 near Waterloo, Indiana. She married John Husselman, who was born in Fairfax County, Virginia, ca. 1793.

John was the second son of George Husselman, a Hessian soldier who took the oath of allegiance to the colonies the morning after his capture by Captain Stark at the Battle of Trenton and continued in the war on the side of the colonies. The only record found in his having served with Co. H. 8th Virginia Regiment under the date of March 16, 1779, which is a "return of the reenlisted men in General Scott's Brigade agreeable to the general orders of the 14th Inst. 1779" on file at the National Archives in Washington, D.C.

After their marriage, John and Catharine lived in Wayne County, Ohio, for a short time. In ca. 1839 they moved to DeKalb County, Indiana (near Waterloo) where they resided the remainder of their lives.

HENRY MISER 4/7

HENRY MISER 4/7, son of Johann Adam Meiser 3/9 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Mary Eckhart, was born November 23, 1792, in Northumberland County, Pennsylvania and died in Wayne County, Ohio, on April 13, 1872. The dates can be found on a tombstone in Longenecker Church Cemetery near Winesburg, Ohio.

He was first married to Barbara Husselman, daughter of George Husselman, the Hessian soldier who joined the Colonial Army after his capture at Trenton. The marriage took place prior to 1820 as in this year's census he was listed with two male children under ten years of age.

Henry's second marriage was to Catharine Moomaw on March 10, 1825, in Wayne County, Ohio. (Catharine's sister, Nancy, married Henry's brother, Philip Miser 4/10.)

Henry lived his entire adult life in Wayne County, Ohio, after taking over the original Meiser homestead upon the death of his father ca. 1824.

6/10 Jacob Miser, born April 17, 1857, died March 17, 1858.

6/11 Flora Miser, born July 17, 1867.

FRANKLIN PIERCE MISER 6/2, son of Samuel Miser 5/1 (Henry Miser 4/7, Johann Adam Meiser 3/9, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Sarah J. Beck, was born May 1, 1846 in Holmes County, Ohio and died July 3, 1918 near Diamond Springs, Kansas. He married Anna E. Stewart on July 22, 1870 at Kokomo, Indiana. She was born November 7, 1852 and died July 19, 1934. They are both buried at Elmdale, Chase County, Kansas.

On July 1, 1878 they left their home in Tipton, Indiana with a caravan of several teams of mules and horses hitched to covered wagons, or "Prairie schooners". They arrived at Elmdale, Kansas on November 1, 1878. Franklin and his wife; William H. Miser 7/1 and his son; Samuel Miser 7/3 and a son; and Savilla Miser 7/4 and a daughter, had one wagon and mule team. Among others of the caravan were Samuel Miser 6/8, brother of Franklin, who drove a team and wagon through for Benjamin Simms, who went with his family on the train.

It was beginning to snow when the group reached Elmdale, after a long, hard trip. In a letter from Clara Belle (Pat) Drowley Boyle 8/1, daughter of Jesse Drowley 7/8, she says "as I recall family stories, one of the children of Mary E. Miser 6/4 and Edward Drowley died on the wagon trip from Indiana to Arkansas, where they first moved before going to Missouri, and had to be buried on the trail, just like "T. V." Wagon Train, I guess." (Since Frankie E. Drowley 7/1 died October 4, 1878 and the trip ended in November, he was probably that child.)

YEARS' RETROSPECT — PIONEER HOUSE-KEEPING IN MICHIGAN

We were married December 10, 1863, aged twenty-five and twenty-one years respectively. We shipped our household goods from Wooster, Ohio, to St. Johns, Michigan, February 1, 1864.

My wife and I started for St. Johns the sixteenth of February and arrived there the seventeenth at six o'clock in the evening. I borrowed fifty dollars to start with.

My cousin (Joseph Mizer) from Shepherd came to meet us at St. Johns. He started with an ox team and sleigh and got as far as Alma and found the roads were bare the rest of the way, so he hired a man with a horse team and wagon and got to St. Johns the night of the seventeenth. But our goods had not reached there yet, so we bought a barrel of flour, a cook stove, an iron kettle, keg of nails, grind stone and some other things, and on the nineteenth we started for Alma at ten a.m.

We reached Alma at seven p.m., then we loaded our things on the sleighs and started for Shepherd at ten that night and (we) got there on the twentieth at daylight. We stayed at my uncle's (George Mizer's) and helped to make sugar.

We wrote the freight agent at St. Johns but never got an answer, so about the last of March I started on foot for St. Johns. When I got there the mud was knee deep and had commenced to freeze. Meantime the goods had been there all the time. On account of the bad roads I could not get a man to take his team out, so I made a bargain with a man to take the goods to his barn in town until I could get them, then I started back; got to Greenbush, four miles away. There I hired a man to take the goods to Maple River, a distance of six or eight miles, and when we arrived there, he agreed to take them on to Alma. I walked home from Alma, and next day my cousin and I, with his ox team and sled, started for Alma, getting there at night. The following morning we loaded up and started for Shepherd and arrived there that night some time.

The snow was so deep yet in the woods that I could not do much until April; then I cut logs for a house and made shake or clapboards for roof, and so built a log house—cut doors and windows, laid in loose boards for floors; and on the sixteenth of April we moved. I had bought eighty acres in 1861, all timber. In the fall of 1862 I cut down four and a half acres; in the spring of 1864 I burned off some of the brush and planted some potatoes and corn, got a few bushels of potatoes and five or six shocks of corn.

Our furniture consisted of stools for chairs, slabs split out of basswood with three legs; and for tables bored holes in a log in the wall, put pins in and laid on a board. For bedstead, bored holes in posts and ironwood poles for rails, with shake for the bottom. To keep out the mosquitos, as there were millions, I got a bolt of mosquito netting which cost five dollars and hung it around the bed and sheets against the wall. Our grub consisted of bread and water, apple butter, maple syrup and Michigan gravy made of flour, water, pepper and salt. We lived in the house until fall without doors or windows and not even chinked the cracks.

We generally got our mail once in two or three weeks as it was six miles to the post office. Our nearest store was seven miles at the Indian mills, or Dog Town, now Isabella City. I would walk there and back in half a day through the woods with butter and carry things back. I worked out by the day most of the time that summer. I cleared off one and a fourth acres and sowed to wheat in the fall of 1864 and seeded it to timothy. Had thirty bushels of wheat next year. I slit out puncheon of black ash, hewed and joined them together for a floor to thrash on, with a flail. In the spring of 1864 I hedged in twenty-five or thirty acres of woods to keep a cow in pasture, by lapping sapling and brush. That fall I bought a yoke of oxen, and kept them and the cow on browse that winter. By cutting trees, they would eat all the fine bushes. In 1866 I bought eighty acres more joining mine on the west for four hundred dollars all timber. I borrowed the money. Here are some prices of things we had to pay in 1866 and 1867—a gallon of kerosene oil, one dollar; prints, thirty-seven cents per yard; thread, twenty-five cents a spool; flannel, seventy-five cents per yard; crackers, twenty cents per pound; soda, eighteen cents; muslin, thirty-three cents per yard; shirting, thirty-eight cents; epsom salts, twenty cents per pound; cow bells, one dollar and twelve cents, blue drilling, sixty-eight cents; pair cowhide boots, seven dollars and fifty cents; tea one dollar and seventy-five cents per pound; alcohol, one dollar per pint; nails, thirteen cents; spring wheat, two dollars and sixty-two cents per bushel; flour, twenty-four dollars per barrel and other things in proportion. Wages were one dollar and fifty cents per day with two meals.

In 1871 all my outside fences burned and two stacks of hay. The county gave me one ton of hay.

In 1881 we moved back to Holmes County, Ohio, and lived there a year, then moved to Portage County, Ohio, where we bought a farm of one hundred and six acres, paid two thousand dollars on it, and in 1888 let the place go back and moved back to Michigan on the old place and commenced new. In 1903 we sold the farm and bought six acres in Mt. Pleasant and in 1912 we sold out there, moved to Texas, stayed there four months, then moved back to Oklahoma, remained there four months and went to Ypsilanti, the state, where we are now located.

The following was taken from stories written by Arminta Mizer Zingery 6/5, and Olive Mizer Graichen 6/4, in May 1959, about the early days on the farm in Michigan.

Olive writes: "In 1871, the time of the big fire, and also the Chicago fire, the section of Michigan where my parents lived was all afire for miles around. There were three children at the time; Henry, aged six, Ellen, aged four, and I, Olive, aged two years. We were kept in the house in a trundle bed under the big bed, so as not to inhale the smoke, while Mother was on the straw roof of the stable with a pail of water to keep the sparks from setting it on fire. Father watched to keep the rail fence from burning, to keep the cow in. That fire lasted three days, and was talked about for years. The frame house Father had started building on cleared ground did not catch fire. I can remember carrying sawdust in a little red pail, to help Father insulate the new house, where sister Minta was born." George Mizer, son of Adam, and Joseph, his son, owned the farm across the road from Abraham, and Olive says "I remember Joe's Mother (Sophia Beidler Miser) well—she lived in a log house, and smoked a pipe."

Arminta tells of going back to Ohio, in 1881 to live, and of her sister Ellen visiting at the home of their Uncle Cyrus, Mary Mizer's father. She says "Our name was spelled with an 'S' and I remember she came home and said that their oldest daughter, Ada wanted to spell it with a 'Z' and Mother thot so, too, but Father objected. He said if they started to change it, it would cause confusion, and no one would know who belonged to the original family." The spelling was changed later, it is not known when. "Olive mentions 'the barn' —'In 1877 Father built a large barn (the largest in the country) requiring 100 men to raise the timbers. I was eight years of age, and remember Mother having neighbor women help bake and cook for the men, who were seated at a long table in the front yard." Minta goes into detail: "In the winter of 1876 and 1877, Father hauled huge logs from the woods with oxen, to the ground near where he wanted the barn, and with a broad-axe began to hew the bark off and dress them down to near the size he wanted the timber. He stretched a blue chalkline, by fastening the end to the edge of the log, and wound off from a huge spool to the other end, stretched it taut, and then sometimes I snapped it for him. This left a blue chalk mark to hew to! I can still see those timbers lying there all dressed down to the proper size, and ends of each fitly framed so that when the time came to put them together, they fitted perfectly. Father made the pegs at night in the kitchen. He sized them down with a drawing knife, then whittled them to proper size. The barn was 'raised' in May 1877. It took all day to raise the six Bends, and I think about 100 men. Henry went far to invite them. He rode old 'Doll,' the only horse Father had, and I remember the neighbor women baking bread and plain cakes in the outdoor clay and brick oven to feed them."

The barn was originally painted red, with "A. Miser—1877" on the gable end near the road. Minta's son, Henry Homer Zingery, tells of some of the apparatus grandfather apparently invented to use in preparing lumber for his building projects. The barn still stands. It is on Summertown Road, North of Shepherd, just East of United States Route 27. The big beams were put together with the wooden pegs, and are as firm as ever. Except for new roof, the present owner has made very few changes in it. He is the son of the man who bought the farm from Abe Miser.

Alta Wilmot Crotser 7/1, daughter of Ellen Mizer Wilmot 6/2, the oldest grandchild of Abraham 5/6 and Magdalena Fretz Mizer, was only five years younger than her aunt, Nellie Mizer 6/7 (Powell). The Wilmots lived about a half mile south of the Mizers. Alta writes, in 1960: "If I am correct, Aunt Barbara owned a part of Grandpa's farm on the East side of the road, and there was a big tree on the dividing line at the road. We always called it 'Aunt Barb's Tree.' I have no idea where she lived. When we were little girls, Aunt Nellie and I played together a lot, and if she were at our house, I always had to go with her as far as Aunt Barb's Tree." Aunt Barb was a sister of Abraham. She lived with her parents, Henry and Catherine, near Wilmot, Ohio, and is buried near them in the Longenecker Cemetery. "On winter evenings he (Grandpa) would sit in the kitchen and shell corn by the bushels, to have ground for meal. I have been told that when they started in Isabella County there were no roads, only woods, and Grandpa used to carry a bag of corn on his back to St. Johns, about 35 miles to get it ground for meal, buy groceries, then carry them home."

Gladys Milliken McDonald 7/2, daughter of Carrie Mizer Milliken 6/6, remembers her Grandfather in the early 1900's after he had retired from the farm to a six acre plot in Mt. Pleasant. "There was a large house, and Grandma had girls from the 'Normal' rooming with them. We lived in the 'Ritchie' house a short distance away, and I can remember strolling around the orchard and garden with Grandpa, chewing on licorice root. I don't think I've seen any since, but I can still taste it. He put big tents of mosquito net over the cherry trees to keep the birds from taking them. It was a treat to ride in the 'Surrey With the Fringe on Top' behind old 'Nell.' When Grandpa plowed, he put the buckled reins over his head and walked, holding the handles of the plow and guiding the horses by 'geeing' and 'hawing' and an occasional tug on the line. Grandpa always kept bees, and we thot his bee bonnet, veil and the smoke bellows were fascinating, but when he started working on a hive, we got away from there. When he sawed, or was concentrating on some work, he put his tongue between his teeth. He was a gentle sort of man, and while he didn't tell jokes as our other Grandfather did, he often had a twinkle in his eye. When we stayed for supper, Grandma often made 'Rivel Soup.'" She had Rosemary, Sage and other herbs in her garden and spice pinks, and petunias, which were all a light lavender then. She always carried old fashioned pink wintergreen and white peppermint lozenges in her 'reticule,' the thick kind with XX's on in a little striped paper bag. All very small things to remember. I wonder what memories our children and grandchildren will have?"

The six acre place was bought by the University some years ago and the house moved away. The land is now covered with huge brick dormitory buildings.

(The following was written December 13, 1962, by Henry Homer Zingery of Billings, Missouri. In the article he is talking about his grandmother and grandfather, Abraham Mizer 5/6 and Magdalena Fretz.) About Grandpa and Grandma Mizer— if one were to start building a decent, clean civilization, they would be the rock foundation from which to start. I can't recall any close friendships of theirs from among the neighbors, but they were "looked up to," and highly respected by all of them. They were Christian, in my opinion, in all respects—Grandpa always said grace at every meal. I never could make out what the grace was, but God and Grandpa certainly did. I can't remember Grandpa ever getting angry except twice. Once we used his saw (which he had just sharpened) and another time when Uncle Fred Olmstead let two of his prize cows freeze in the mud of his barnyard. Our farm joined their place on the south, and we lived in the "old house," the frame house Aunt Olive spoke of, for about three years.

One nice spring morning Dad was finishing some ground south of the house for planting something, and Grandpa took Tride and Prince (horses) to bring some seed. (I believe he went to Mt. Pleasant.) About ten o'clock some neighbors brought Grandpa home unconscious. The team had gotten scared at something and turned the wagon over, Grandpa was dumped in the ditch. Someone had gone to Mt. Pleasant for a doctor, and he arrived in a few minutes with his horse at a gallop. In the fall Grandpa had dislocated his shoulder, and I can vividly see in my mind the doctor directing the men how to hold Grandpa, then putting his foot on Grandpa's side and jerking the arm back into the socket—the sweat running down his face.

When I was quite small (probably about five) we were at Grandpa's on a clear, cold sunny day, when Grandpa decided to haul some logs from the woodlot to the house to hand saw into blocks for the furnace. There were patches of snow, and he was pulling the logs with the team hitched to them by a long chain. The chain was pretty taut most of the time, and when we were about half way to the house, Grandpa said to me, "You never saw a man ride a chain, did you? Well, I'll show you how it is done."

He stepped up on the chain, holding the reins tight to balance himself. Just then the logs hit an icy spot. The chain dropped suddenly, then tightened and neatly tossed Grandpa off to the right. He jumped up, ran and picked up the reins. He said, "It works sometimes." After a little way, he stopped the team and turned to me. He bent over and looked me right in the eye.

"It would be just as well if we didn't say anything to the women about that back there," he said. "You understand me?"

By the look in his eye I understood okay and felt that he meant every word, so I never mentioned it.

The old barn was built with three spaces below and the second story loft for hay. It was unique in that the boards with which it was built were of varying thicknesses, owing to their being hand sawed. They were also pocked with black spots where the fire had burned into the side of the logs before they were sawed. Mom never could believe that I saw the apparatus used for sawing them. A platform was built of small logs, high enough so that a man could stand up beneath. Then the log to be sawed was rolled on top parallel to the platform logs which were pegged down.

One man stood on top and pulled up on a long cross-cut saw while the one beneath pulled it back down until a board was sawed. They were pine boards and some were at least eighteen inches wide. I never saw this outfit used, but I was told by Grandpa and my father of the method.

The platform was still standing at my first remembrance of things like that, but the treadmill was being used by the time I was old enough to understand what things were used for. The treadmill consisted of two side-by-side chutes (inclined about thirty degrees) with a rolling slat floor. A horse was placed in each, and had to keep walking up hill. This device was connected to the circular saw by a belt, and the log to be sawed was pushed into the saw by some method I do not remember now.

The old Miser farm was eighty acres—forty on the east side of the road and forty on the west. Our farm joined the forty on the west. Across the road from our place was Aunt Barb's forty acres. It joined Grandpa's forty acres on the south. "Aunt Barb's tree," a landmark, was a big butternut tree that stood on the line of her's and Grandpa's at the road. Aunt Barb lived somewhere in Ohio, and I have no recollection that she ever saw her property. "Aunt Barb" was Barbara Miser, sister of Abraham. She lived with her parents and never married. She is buried near them in Longenecker Cemetery.

It was virgin timber. A couple of years before we left Michigan she sold it to my Uncle Fred Olmstead. A man by the name of Fleming bought the timber, and Uncle Fred bought the land.

Aunt Barb was quite a character. For some reason I do not remember, she declared that none of her property would ever come into possession of either a Zingery or a Miser. She forgot that Uncle Fred was married to Father's sister.

The line fence was open where Grandpa's woods joined hers, and Grandpa's stock grazed her timber, and we tapped her maple trees, along with Grandpa's in the spring to make maple syrup. The sap was taken to the house to be "boiled down," in my first recollection. By the time we boys were old enough to help, however, my father and Grandpa had gone somewhere and bought an apparatus of big flat pans, and the syrup was made in the "sugar shanty" in Grandpa's woods.

None of that timber is now standing. The kitchen floor, and door and window facings, and the staircase were all made from oak from Grandpa's place. That is in the new house of course. Davidsons, from Bowling Green, Ohio, bought the farm when Grandpa and Grandma moved to Mt. Pleasant. Max, the youngest Davidson boy, now owns it, and the big house burned several years ago. The old barn still stands as square and true as the day it was built.

CYRUS MIZER 5/7

CYRUS MIZER 5/7, son of Henry Miser 4/7 (Johann Adam Meiser 3/9, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Catharine Moomaw, was born in 1841 on a farm in Holmes County, Ohio and died March 6, 1905. He married Elizabeth Pfouts on March 31, 1864.

CYRUS MIZER 5/7

Son of Henry Miser 4/7

Cyrus grew up in Holmes County and continued to farm there until about 1867. He then worked at a grist and sawmill owned by his father-in-law on Route 62, between Wilmot and Winesburg, Ohio. Cyrus spent a large part of his time assisting his younger brother-in-law on a large farm also owned by his father-in-law.

It is reported that Mr. Pfouts was a better miller than his son-in-law, but Cyrus was a successful operator of the sawmill. He purchased a large sawmill at the southern end of the present village of Strasburg and moved there in 1871. This he operated, with the help of his sons, until his death.

GEORGE MISER 4/8

GEORGE MISER 4/8, son of Johann Adam Meiser 3/9 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Mary Eckhart, was born September 10, 1797 and died August 12, 1866. He married Sophia Biedler in Holmes County, Ohio on February 15, 1830. She was born in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania June 2, 1812, and died June 17, 1885. They moved to Isabella County, Michigan in 1858 where he cleared a quarter section of virgin timber and farmed there until his death. In 1864, his nephew, Abraham 5/6, son of his brother Henry 4/7, settled on a farm across the road. There are records which say George was "born in 1812 in Maryland," but these are believed to be erroneous. George and his wife Sophia are buried in Salt River Cemetery, near Shepherd, Michigan.

JOSEPH MISER 5/1

JOSEPH MISER 5/1, son of George Miser 4/8 (Johann Adam Meiser 3/9, Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Sophia Biedler, was born January 28, 1831 in Holmes County, Ohio and died February 15, 1916 at Shepherd, Michigan. He married Wealthy Ann Minard, daughter of John and Mary Hoagland Minard, from New York in 1854. She was born June 20, 1836 in Bradford County, Pennsylvania and died March 28, 1916. They are buried in Salt River Cemetery, Shepherd, Michigan.

Joseph was a carpenter both in Wayne County and Tuscarawas County, Ohio, before going to Michigan with his parents in 1858. He cleared 40 acres of farm land near his parents. In 1859 he was employed by the government at Indian Mills where he built a bridge across the Chippewa River; a large "council chamber" in which the meetings with the Indians were held; and several other buildings in the village. He was the second man to be elected to the office of Sheriff of Isabella County, taking office in 1862, at the county seat, Mt. Pleasant. He enlisted in Company M. First Michigan Engineers and Mechanics on August 26, 1863 where he served two years, receiving a medical discharge in September 1865 after a period in a hospital at Louisville, Kentucky. He bought a farm of 80 acres in Union Township, Isabella County from which he retired in 1897 to a home in Shepherd, Michigan. Joseph was one of the most outstanding citizens of the county. In addition to the office of Sheriff, he served as constable, highway commissioner, and several other offices. He and his wife were members of the Disciples Church in Shepherd, where he was sexton in his later years. He is remembered as ringing the bell for services at the little red church.

A legend is told of how Joseph went to Detroit to get money to buy land, walking to St. Johns, a distance of 45 miles from Mt. Pleasant across country from there taking the train to Detroit. He returned with $2,000 cash tied in a handkerchief fastened around his waist, risking being relieved of it by robbers.

We are indebted to "Past and Present of Isabella County" by Isaac A. Fancher, published in 1911 and "Portrait and Biography Album of Isabella County" by Chapman Bros. published in 1884 for a part of the information on George and Joseph Miser.

She was married March 1, 1853 in DeKalb County, Indiana to her first cousin John Miser 5/10, the son of John W. Miser 4/4 and Mary Stone. John Miser 5/10 was born April 9, 1828 in Tuscarawas County, Ohio and died December 20, 1906 in DeKalb County, Indiana.

PHILIP MISER 4/10

PHILIP MISER 4/10, son of Johann Adam Meiser 3/9 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Mary Eckhart, was born in Jefferson County, Ohio in 1802 (according to the census) and died in Wayne County, Ohio.

He was married November 25, 1830 to Nancy Moomaw (Mumma), daughter of Andrew and Elizabeth Freed Mumma. A sister, Catharine Moomaw married Philip's brother Henry Miser 4/7.

Philip and Nancy lived on a farm in Holmes County which was deeded to him by his father Johann Adam Meiser 3/9 on May 22, 1824. They lived the remainder of their lives on this farm and are buried in Holmes County.

Dora Miser Maxhimer 7/1, a great-grand-daughter, relates that Nancy had an extensive collection of china dishes which are still in the families of her descendants.

SAMUEL MISER 4/12, son of Johann Adam Meiser 3/9 (Johann Michael Meiser 2/2, Johan Jurg Meisser 1/1) and Mary Eckhart, was born May 6, 1809 at Jefferson County, Ohio and died October 30, 1883 at Richland Township, DeKalb County, Indiana. He is buried in Tamarack Cemetery near Auburn, Indiana. He married Catharine Barkey on March 1, 1832, born February 9, 1814 in Holmes County, Ohio. She was the daughter of John Barkey and Susanna Bussard. Originally from Northampton County, Pennsylvania, her parents migrated to Holmes County, Ohio in 1825. Catharine died March 11, 1906 in Richland Township, DeKalb County, Indiana and is buried in Tamarack Cemetery.

Excerpts from the "History of DeKalb County, Indiana," published in 1885 read:

"In 1848 Samuel Miser came to DeKalb County where he bought 160 acres of timber land for which he paid $650. He built a log house into which he moved his family, which consisted at that time of six children. They were members of the German Reformed Church and he was one of the elders for over thirty years and a friend and an associate of Rev. J. G. Kissell, the first preacher of this denomination in this part of the State."

Tradition mentions ten children to this marriage but only eight are known.

PLACES BEARING THE FAMILY NAME MEISER, PENNSYLVANIA

Meiser Station, now named Meiser, is located in Middle Creek Township, Snyder County, Pennsylvania just north of U.S. Route 522 on the road leading to Globe Mills. Unconfirmed historical writing state that Henry Meiser 3/4 owned and operated a sawmill in Middle Creek Township as early as 1788; however, it is believed that the actual location of the sawmill was near Aline, Perry Township, Snyder County, Pennsylvania.

Mill at Meiser Station (Meiser, Pa.)

David Meiser 5/2, grandson of Henry Meiser 3/4, purchased the gristmill at Meiser Station prior to 1870 which he operated until his retirement in 1880. Following the construction of the railroad linking Selinsgrove with Lewistown, John S. Meiser 6/2, Civil War veteran and son of David Meiser 5/2 became the agent at Meiser Station. It is assumed that he performed the duties of agent in addition to running the farm and supervising his lumber business.

The village consisted of a one-room school, a brick gristmill, railroad station and several houses including the homestead of David Meiser and his son, John. All but the railroad station are in existence today.

In 1970 the Meisser Genealogy Association, through the efforts of George Meiser IX, was successful in having blue and gold highway signs installed at the North and South approaches to Meiser Station. Visitors can pose for pictures in front of these colorful signs.

MEISERVILLE, PENNSYLVANIA

Meiserville, the third migration stepping stone of the Meiser family, is located in Chapman Twp., Snyder Co., Pa. (originally Northumberland Co.) It is on State Rte. 104, midway between McKees Half Falls and Mt. Pleasant Mills and is readily accessible from either U.S. Rte. 11 or Pa. Rte. 35. Meiserville was named for Henry Meiser 3/4, son of Michael Meiser of Millbach, Pa. Henry settled in nearby Aline, having been granted a warrant of 200 acres of land there on Apr. 9, 1763.

Within a short period of time, three of the brothers of Henry Meiser 3/4 settled in the immediate area. They were Michael Meiser 3/3, John Johannes Meiser 3/7 and Johann Adam Meiser 3/9. Most of the descendants of these three brothers moved either to Tennessee or Ohio. Two sons of Henry Meiser 3/4 remained in the area. They were Michael Meiser 4/3 and Frederick Meiser 4/9. Their descendants can be found today in the immediate area surrounding Meiserville.

The exact date of the founding of the village of Meiserville is unknown. Prior to 1796 Henry Meiser 3/4 built a sawmill which still operates near Aline. His son Frederick Meiser 4/9 built a stone gristmill in the present village of Meiserville prior to 1820. This mill still operates under the ownership of Harold Meiser 9/2, a direct descendant of Henry Meiser 3/4.

In 1885 Meiserville consisted of a store, post office, hotel, gristmill, wagon shop, shoe shop, school house, farm and nine dwellings — all but the post office and school was owned by Joseph Meiser 5/4, a grandson of Henry Meiser 3/4. All of these structures are in existence today although many are no longer used for their original purpose.

Based on historical records, hundreds of the descendants of Henry Meiser 3/4 and his brothers have communicated with or visited the village of Meiserville throughout the past 200 years. Present generations delight in having their pictures taken in front of the blue and gold highway signs marking the Village of Meiserville as you approach from the North or from the South.

MISER HOLLOW, MISSOURI

Miser Hollow, White Rock Township, McDonald County, Missouri is located in the extreme southwest corner of Missouri. Access to a well-graded gravel road running the length of the hollow is off U.S. 71 midway between Pineville, Missouri and the Missouri-Arkansas border.

It was here that numerous descendants of Henry C. Miser 5/7, son of John Miser 4/8 and grandson of Henry Meiser 3/4 located in the mid-1800's. The hollow's close proximity to Pea Ridge, Arkansas, an earlier Miser settlement, probably influenced the Misers to settle in the area.

No persons named Miser reside in the area today. The original homestead is now the property of Clayton Anglin. Located where the hollow begins to broaden out into White Rock Prairie, the farm provides an excellent view of surrounding tree covered hills. Prominent terrain features are: Bob's Knob, Tatter Knob, Sheep's Nose and Pott's Hill.

Miser Hollow provides an excellent starting point for a tour of the Pea Ridge National Military Park containing over 4,000 acres; part of the land was once owned by the Miser family.

MISER STATION, TENNESSEE

Miser Station (now Miser), a fourth migration stepping stone of the Meiser family, is located in Blount County, Tennessee, fifteen miles south of Knoxville and ten miles west of Maryville. Miser Station was named for George Miser 4/6, son of Henry Meiser 3/4 of Meiserville, Pennsylvania.

Historical records indicate that the families of George Miser 4/6, Mary Elizabeth Miser Hafley 4/1, Catharine Miser Bowerman 4/2 and John Miser 4/8 settled in the immediate area prior to 1799. According to tax records, the combined land holdings of the four families exceeded 1,000 acres. The majority of the Miser, Miser and Mizar descendants living in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Texas trace their ancestry back to either George Miser 4/6 or John Miser 4/8.

Although the old gristmills, sawmills, tanneries and brick yards are now gone, the Shady Grove Cemetery still remains where the graves of George Miser 4/6, his wife Mary Druckenmiller, and many of their descendants can be found. In the nearby Eusebia Cemetery, the graves of Mary Elizabeth Miser 4/1 and her husband Conrad Hafley, and many of their descendants can be visited.

BUTTRAM'S CHAPEL

The original Buttram's Chapel was founded by the Rev. Elijah Buttram 6/7 in 1860 and was located just east of Pea Ridge, Arkansas.

Elijah H. Buttram realized the great need for a building large enough for church services and also a public school. He summoned help from his younger brothers, Mike and Dotry and the church trustees and friends assisted in its construction.

It was a large two-story frame building with the first floor being used for church services and the second floor was used for the school.

The second Buttram's Chapel was constructed immediately after the razing of the first in 1891 or 1892. The second chapel was a white one-story frame building—a typical old-time picturesque rural church. The ends faced north and south (fronted on the north with two doors); within it and to one side, it had a small room for a Sunday School class.

Services were held each Sunday with a special service annually on the fourth Sunday in May (Decoration Day). Many looked forward to the occasions at Buttram's Chapel when they could worship and meet in fellowship with relatives and friends.

Services were held in the second Buttram's Chapel until 1942 when the building was destroyed by a tornado and it was never rebuilt.
